MARRIED 50 YEARS

SCHUYLER COUPLE CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING.

HAPPENINGS OVER THE STATE

What is Going on Here and There That is of Interest to the Readers Throughout Nebraska and Vicinity.

Schuyler.—On Sunday, March 19, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Phelps celebrated their golden wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Phelps are old residents of this county, having lived here since Colfax county was organized. Charles Julius Phelps and Sarah Elizabeth Wells were married at West Hartford, Conn., in St. James church, March 19, 1861, by the Rev. Samuel Pynchon, who afterwards became president of Trinity college at Hartford, Conn.

Young Wife Shoots Herself.

Lincoln.—Mrs. Winona Lamb, the seventeen-year-old wife of Aaron Lamb, shot and killed herself in front of a house on M street. After a slight quarrel with her husband he turned and walked away. She drew the revolver from her hand bag and placing it to her right breast fired.

Fred Brown Dies at Kearney.

Kearney.—Frederick Brown, manager of the Daily Hub and son of the Kearney postmaster, M. A. Brown, died suddenly of appendicitis Tuesday. He was ill but three days. He was a newspaper man of wide experience. He leaves a wife of but three months, having been married Christmas day.

Nail Penetrates His Eye.

Indianola.—While driving a nail, W. S. Coleman struck it a glancing blow and it flew from under the hammer with such force as to drive it through the eye ball, completely destroying the sight.

Court House Bonds Carry.

Sidney.—Returns from all precincts but two in Cheyenne county indicate that the $50,000 court house bonds have been carried by 200 majority.

Had Up-Hill Work.

Numerous efforts were made to get bills advanced in the house without the intervention of the sifting committee. Most of them were uniformly unsuccessful. Representative Quackenbush made a hard fight to have brought out the bill providing for a levy of a quarter of a mill for support of the state normal schools. He even had a special meeting of the sifting committee called, but could not get the bill through this. An effort was made to bring out the McKelvie bill appropriating $25,000 for a state publicity bureau, but this failed.

Non-partisan Board.

A final effort will be made to get through the house the Matrau non-partisan board of control bill, a measure which, it is believed, answers more specifically the platform pledges of both democratic and republican parties than any of the others now pending. As a step toward this effort, the vote, defeating the bill, was reconsidered and the bill was amended in committee of the whole to remove an objectionable feature. It has been again placed on the third reading calendar.

To Adjourn April 4.

Members of the legislature awoke to the fact that they must do a prodigious amount of work in a short time or remain in session for a considerably longer period than is agreeable to most of them. This realization came with the report of the joint committee on adjournment.

The house again defeated an attempt to kill the university medical school bill. Nearly an hour was spent in controversy over parliamentary procedure. The dispute revolved about the question of the right of the house to correct the Journal of yesterday to make it include the belated Ellis motion, seeking to reconsider the medical school bill.

Responding to the senate's invitation to take up the subject of adjournment, Speaker Kuhl has appointed Leidigh, Fuller and Neir as members of the joint committee to fix the time for adjournment.

Another Hotel Bill by Sink.

Representative Sink, author of the nine-foot bed sheet bill, has come forward in behalf of the traveling men of the state. The hotel commission bill, sought by the traveling men's associations was brought out by the sifting committee as a result of a little persuasion expended in its behalf by the Grand Island statesman. The bill was introduced by Bulla. It provides for a state commission to have general supervision over the sanitary arrangements of hotels,

ANTI-TRADING STAMPS MEASURE EFFECTIVE IN JULY.

Governor Aldrich has signed H. R. 107, the anti-trading stamps and anti-free gift enterprise bill which was passed by both houses of the legislature. The bill has no emergency clause and will become effective three months after the legislature adjourns. The governor is said to doubt the legality of the bill, but he believes it will be better for those interested to test the bill in the courts of Nebraska than to continually maintain a lobby at the legislature. The Nebraska Retailers' association asked for the passage of the bill and manufacturers of prize packages trading stamp companies had able lawyers on the ground to combat the bill and to question its constitutionality.

Eager Wins Charter Fight.

The troubles of the Lancaster county delegation were aired at length before the house in discussion over the Lincoln charter bill, introduced by Eager. It was a case of Eager against the rest of the delegation and he won out. The chief bone of contention was over a proposed change in the date of the spring election. Eager's bill provides for setting this date ahead to permit the men in the Russian colony to vote before they leave for their summer's work in the beet fields. This has back of it the old "wet" and "dry" fight in Lincoln, the Russians being supposed to favor the "wet" policy for the city.

BOTH HAD KNOWN HAPPINESS

But the Circumstances Were Not Exactly Alike. That Was All the Difference.

They were riding into town in a subway train, these two married men, says the New York Times. One seemed occupied with his own thoughts, the other was engrossed in his copy of the Evening Piffle, from which he eventually glanced with a superior smile. "I always read what Betsy Bumstuff has to say in her 'Twilight Twaddle' column," he said. "She generally hits us off pretty well, but she isn't always right. Now, this evening, she gets on the subject of elopements. She says elopements never turn out happily. I don't agree with her." "Neither do I," said the man who had been occupied with his own thoughts. "I am glad to hear you say it," exclaimed the Evening Pifflette. "I eloped with my wife, and I've been happy ever since." "So have I ever since some fellow eloped with mine," remarked the other. "Betsy Bumstuff is away off!"

From "The Blue Bird."

In Maeterlinck's "Blue Bird" little Tyltyl goes to some far-off heavenly place to learn that love abides with him at home. There he meets Mother Love. He says he wishes to stay with her always, where she looks so beautiful to him. She answers: But it's just the same thing; I am down below, we are all down below. . . . You have come up here only to realize and to learn, once for all, how to see me when you see me down below. . . . Do you understand, Tyltyl, dear? . . . You believe yourself in heaven; but heaven is wherever you and I kiss each other. . . . There are not two mothers, and you have no other. . . . Every child has only one; and it is always the same one and always the most beautiful; but you have to know her and to know how to look.

Facing the Future.

"Even when Henrietta gets the vote," said Mr. Meekin, "I don't believe she will be quite satisfied."

"Why not?"

"We'll have to reorganize the ballot so that when there's an election she can stay home and let me attend to that along with the rest of the errands."

With a smooth iron and Defiance Starb, you can launder your shirt-waist just as well at home as the steam laundry can; it will have the proper stiffness and finish, there will be less wear and tear of the goods, and it will be a positive pleasure to use a Starb that does not stick to the iron.

The Why.

"How long are you going to stay in Monte Carlo?"

"Six days."

"Why exactly six days?"

"Because I've only brought six costumes with me!"

Cheerful Anticipation.

"Have you seen my 'Descent Into Hell'?" asked a poet.

"No," said Curran, warmly; "I should be delighted to see it."—From Clark's "Eminent Lawyers."

For Catarrh and all Inflammations we recommend Trask's Ointment. It can be relied upon. Ask your druggist and those who have used it.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN

Women suffering from any form of illness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken.

Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

Splendid Crops

In Saskatchewan (Western Canada) 800 Bushels from 20 acres of wheat was the thrasher's return from a Lloyd-minister farm in the season of 1910. Many fields in that as well as other districts yielded from 45 to 55 bushels of wheat to the acre. Other grains in proportion.

LARGE PROFITS are thus derived from the FREE HOMESTEAD LANDS of Western Canada. The excellent growing causes prices to advance. Land values should double in two years' time. Grain growing, mixed farming, cattle raising and dairying are all profitable. Free Homesteads of 160 acres are to be had in the very best districts. 160 acre pre-emption at $5.00 per acre within certain areas. Schools and churches in every settlement. Irrigation, and the richest wood, water and building material plentiful.

For particulars as to location, how to obtain land, rates and descriptive illustrated pamphlet, "Last Best West," and other information write to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or to Canadian Government Agents.
