WM. L. WESSER.

The sympathy of the entire nation goes out to President Wilson in this his great hour of trial. Mrs. Wilson was beloved by all who knew her, and she was of great aid to her husband, who will miss her companionship and counsel. Coming at this time when the president is beset with grave problems on every hand it is especially hard.

"It is not ability to frame up technicalities, nor ability to deal in long legal phrases, that the people want most in a railway commissioner," says Will Maupin, candidate for the democratic nomination for railway commissioner. "The possession of ordinary horse sense and ability and willingness to use it, qualify a man to fill the job." Maupin says that if he is nominated and elected he will decide questions according to the evidence, submitted, and will not depend upon moldy precedent.

"Automobile drivers are getting too reckless in driving thru the streets of the city sometimes going as fast as thirty or forty miles an hour which is exceedingly dangerous. Unless drivers voluntarily comply with the law they may have some unpleasant experiences. The speed craze seems to grow and unless someone calls a halt we may have some disastrous accidents. Ten miles an hour within the city limits is fast enough for anyone, and all drivers should be held to the limit.

Next Tuesday is primary election. The campaign for the nomination of the various offices has been brisk but on the whole very pleasant. Each candidate has been making the race solely on his own merits and there has been scarcely any disparagement of opponents. Those seeking nomination on the Democratic ticket are all men deserving careful consideration. The Chief has not selected any favorites, realizing it is better for the party to make its selection of candidates without interference.

Giants of Other Days.
 While excavating the ruins of St. Piran's oratory, Cornwall, England, many skeletons have been dug up several of them of human beings seven feet in height.
