There was a large crowd in town Saturday afternoon and our merchants claim that trade is beginning to pick up again. Most of them have got in their fall and winter merchandise, which is no doubt the best in the county.

City Marshal Grant Christy is growing a mustache. Grant says that winter is coming and the arresting business being very dull, he has decided to cut down the high cost of living. However, Grant looks handsomer than ever before.

We understand that one of our popular young men who is employed on 4th avenue, has rented a house and intends to cut out the bachelor life in the near future, when he will lead one of Nebraska's fair maidens to the marriage altar. How about it, "Tiny"?

The Red Cloud Chief is very cheery over the fact that their fire department is in the center of town and they have an automobile ready to respond to the call of fire at any moment. Something to brag about, all right. Red Cloud is making some strides, all right. Here's looking at you.—Superior Express.

It looks to us very much as though our school board will be compelled to look for some new teacher's in the near future, as we notice two of our young men, who heretofore have never exhibited any signs of being interested in the fairer sex, have been working overtime entertaining a couple of the most handsome teachers. As a special inducement for the young men to get busy and secure results, we will give the first couple the Chief for one year, who ventures to sail on the matrimonial sea before the snow flies, and the sea is frozen over. Get busy at once, boys!

Reliability

Every housewife knows the annoyance that comes from reaching for something on the shelf, in the course of preparing a meal, to find that owing to it being of poor quality it has spoiled. You save this annoyance when you deal with us. We stand back of our goods.

McFarland's Sanitary Grocery

When you buy a quart of milk, did you ever stop to think what it is worth? As a matter of fact, it is worth as much as 44 cents worth of dried beef, 35 cents worth of oranges, or 21 cents worth of beef. On the other hand, milk costs more than rice, dates, corn meal, cheese, prunes and wheat bread.

The Democrat voters of Garfield precinct held a caucus on Monday evening of last week and nominated the following township officers: Assessor, Chas. Alles; road overseer, Bert King; Justice of the Peace, Joe Mudd; Constable, George Smith. This is a very strong ticket and is deserving the support of every voter in Garfield township.

Rev. Bayne closed a successful pastorate of three years Sunday evening in the Congregational church. During his residence here he has proven himself a scholar of no mean ability and he has been pleasant and agreeable to all. He has removed to Omaha where he will remain until he decides on a permanent location, having several places in view. We wish him success wherever his new field of labor.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Newhouse returned from the east on Wednesday evening. Mr. Newhouse had been in attendance at a meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, going as a representative of the Nebraska Grand Encampment, which was held in Atlantic City, N. J. To The Public!
We Ask This Consideration

When you are ready to buy your Men's and Boys' Clothing for Fall and Winter we most respectfully urge you to come and see what we can do for you before you buy elsewhere.

On account of close times and a general feeling of unrest we have seen the necessity of making special efforts to buy our goods as cheaply as possible and feel confident that we are in a position to save the clothing buyers of this country a nice sum of money on their fall purchases.

Anyhow, come in and let us talk it over and see what you can see. Fair dealing and courteous treatment assured all and an iron clad guarantee back of everything we sell you.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE
October 8th, 1914

PRESENT MUSIC OF PAST AGE

HAMPTON COURT SINGERS

DURING the past few seasons there has been an almost universal attempt on the part of all mixed quartet Lyceum companies to sing and act a great deal of grand opera, either by producing an act from well known operas, or building a program largely from such selections. The result has been the loss to the platform of much good music other than operatic selections. The Hampton Court Singers, a unique company of five singers, soon to be heard here, was organized to present a new type of program, in that it will contain few, if any, operatic numbers. On the contrary, the company will present music of the Elizabethan period, dressed in costumes of the time of Queen Elizabeth—hence the name: The Hampton Court Singers. The personnel has been carefully chosen, and a quartet of entirely capable singers, with an accompanist of ability, will present a program of unusual charm.
