By RALPH WAGNER.

The C. E. Groves colors were carried to victory in the final stake race of the Ak-Sar-Ben meeting at the local track yesterday afternoon when Franklin came home winner of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce handicap at one mile. The race was worth $800 to the winner.

Manicure, Col. R. L. Baker's route-goer, romped home in second place, while Rifle, the C. B. Irwin entry, finished in show. Woodle Montgomery, Frank Irwin's old reliable, winner of the Ak-Sar-Ben King's derby, finished a neck out of money, with Regreso and Don Jose, fifth and sixth, respectively. Jones Rides Winner.

H. S. Jones was up on Franklin and knew just how to handle the 9year-old son of Jim Gaffney-Gliding By, from the barrier to finish. Jockey Jones carefully nursed the Groves equine around to the last turn and

With his nose pointed toward home and hittin' on all four, Jockey Jones urged the Groves steed forward and e responded to the urging by moving up fast bn the outside and pass-ing Manicure, finished in front of the field by one and one-half lengths.

Col. R. L. Baker's Manicure with Scheffel in the leather, looker like a sure winner until challenged by Franklin. The former was un-able to increase his speed when the winner ranged alongside him and had to be content with second place. Jockey Scheffel took Manicure to the front at the three-quarter pole where the daughter of Trans-vaal, Bread Winner, set a fast pace ntil a sixteenth from home where Franklin forged to the front never to be headed.

Owner J. Toth had trouble Wednesday in securing a jockey to ride Ethel. The daughter of Lucky Charm is noted for her bad actions at the post and yesterday was no exception. Several of the leading pilots at King Ak's track refused to mount the Toth mare. Ethel's owner was ready to instruct the judges to name a rider for his route-goer when Jockey Allen ventured forth and consented to ride the mare.

Ethel Toth was a little frisky at the barrier and didn't get away until five other thoroughbreds had left. Once away from the ribbon, Ethel didn't lose any time in catching up with the leaders and at the threequarter pole was two lengths in the lead. She continued to set the pace throughout and finished with speed
