

$7,500,000 Is Authorized for Muscle Shoals House Limitation Provides That None of Money Can Be Expended Prior to October 1.

Washington, June 25.—An appropriation of $7,500,000 for the new dam at Muscle Shoals, Ala., was authorized by the house and sent to the senate for concurrence.

Final action was taken when Representative Huddleston, democrat, Alabama, had offered an amendment preventing any expenditure on the dam before January 1, 1923, and not then, if the Ford proposal to purchase and lease the Muscle Shoals project should be approved by congress.

Democratic spokesmen, supported by republicans who favored the Ford offer, pointed out in reply that they wanted action by congress on Henry Ford's offer and did not propose to have that postponed.

Representative Garrett, Tennessee, the democratic leader, appealed to Mr. Mondell and later to Representative Madden, Illinois, to bring in the bill favorably reported by the military committee providing for the conditional acceptance of the Ford bid.

Miss Mildred Pond, '22, who has been taking a course in home economics in the Colorado Agricultural college at Fort Collins, is at home in Crete for the summer.

BRINGING UP FATHER---

Nowhere

The bar sped through the busy streets, soon London was left far behind; soon they were speeding through country roads where houses and shops were few and far between, and green fields and hedges lay on either side.

Violet's eyes sparkled; there was a rose flush in her face; she sat almost silent beside Hastings; she felt as if she were in a dream; she feared that speech might waken her again to the dull ugly street where Mrs. Higgins lived.

"You drive very well," said Violet involuntarily. "Oh," he looked pleased. "You are not nervous with me?" "Oh, no."

"You are angry with me?" he asked. Violet shook her head. Her face burned painfully. She thought of Ronnie's mother, the dead flower-girl, laid away in a nameless grave.

Romance Found in Business Life

There is something about business that fascinates both young and old, and men and women alike. It isn't just the dollar but it consists rather in a feeling of desire to accomplish something, to do the big thing in a new and improved way, to get ahead.

The magazines that are most popular today are those that carry good, wholesome business stories, successes attained in regular or unusual manner, fortunes made, not overnight, but by means of intelligent work.

At the close of the alumni chapel on the morning of the homecoming day occurred the unveiling of the bust of John G. Neihardt, gift to the institution of Mrs. Alice Neihardt, mother of the poet, and the work of his wife, Mrs. Mont Blarintine Neihardt, who was once a pupil of Rodin, and who exhibited at the Paris Salon.

President A. D. Marmon returned home from Cuba, Wis., Wednesday, where he had taken his family to spend the summer. Prof. Glen McRae is spending the week-end with his family.

Miss Sylvia Moore of this year's Freshman class was married to Paul Shelton, a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter at Chicago, at the home of her father, Mr. J. K. Schellinger, on Thursday afternoon at 6:30.

Miss Vivian Smith, '24, and Barton Johnson, '24, were married at the home in York, Neb., June 19. Dr. W. P. Aylworth read the marriage lines. Mr. Johnson is pastor of the Christian church at Harvard, Neb. The bride was accompanied by the piano department last year.

Earl Hanner, '15, and wife, who have been stationed in Lillo, P. I., are visiting relatives in Lincoln, Neb. Hanner has been in government work and was academic supervisor of the province. He is now a member of the faculty of the Lillo high school, which matriculated over 1,200 students.

Rev. Alfred Kaufmann, S. J., was one of the guests at the Benedictine obsequy of the Rt. Rev. Philip Ruggie, O. S. B., as abbot.
