

E. H. Harriman's Son-in-Law Dies in Motor Wreck

Internationally-Known Polo Star and Sculptor Killed When Auto Strikes Railroad Bridge.

New York, Sept. 22.—Charles Cary Rumsey, internationally known polo player and sculptor, was killed last night when an automobile in which he was riding crashed into a stone wall near Floral Park, Long Island. Mr. Rumsey, who was a son-in-law of the late E. H. Harriman, was 42 years old.

Mr. Rumsey was in the motor car of Irving Hare, who was at the wheel, and with them was Mr. Hare's fiancée, Miss Jeanette Ramson of Forest Hills. They were driving carefully, Mr. Hare said after the accident. As they were passing under a railroad bridge he heard the sound of a blowout, he said, and the rear end of his car seemed to sag as it swung around. It hit the rear mud guard of another car going in the same direction and whirled into one of the abutments of the railroad.

Mr. Rumsey and Miss Ramson were both thrown out. Mr. Rumsey struck head first against the stone, fracturing his skull. Miss Ramson was hurled past the pillar into the roadway and when picked up, was unconscious, but not fatally hurt, it was said.

This year Mr. Rumsey played on the Orange county four in the international tournament at Rumson, N. J., and at the Philadelphia Country club.

Last year Mr. Rumsey created a furor in art circles by going into court to force the Metropolitan Museum of Art to display "The Pagan," a nude work against which many organizations protested. He had of late been engaged upon a war memorial to fallen soldiers of the 77th division of Brooklyn and vicinity. During the war Mr. Rumsey was a member of the American flying corps in France.

College Youth Killed in Motor Accident

Central City, Neb., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—Howard Jay, 19, was instantly killed and Willard Penoyer, 15, was seriously injured, when a motorcycle which they were riding on the campus of the Nebraska Central college crashed into the girls' dormitory building. Both boys were college students with homes in the immediate vicinity. The machine struck a hole in the road causing Jay to lose control of it. Willard was unconscious for several hours after the accident, but physicians say he will recover. Jay's jaw was broken and his face and head badly smashed.

A Queer World

Roosters Have Legal Right to Crow, Judge in Atlanta Rules—Cost of Beer Raised in Mexico.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 22.—Roosters have a legal right to flap their wings and give vent to a lusty crow, heralding the advent of dawn, according to an opinion given by Corporation Court Judge P. B. Crawford. A Dallas citizen faced the court on charges of maintaining a crowing fowl in violation of the city ordinance governing the keeping of animals. Judge Crawford held that the crowing of roosters was not among the prohibitions of the ordinance. So the rooster will continue to crow.

Cost of Beer Up.

Mexicali, Mexico, Sept. 22.—The cost of drinking is going up in Lower California. Beer today was raised from 25 to 30 cents a glass and 60 cents a pint. Increased federal taxes and costs of transportation from Old Mexico are assigned as the causes.

House of Mystery Enters Slaying Under Apple Tree

Overlooks Scene of Murder of Preacher and Singer—Killing Predicted at Dwelling, Says Woman.

New Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 22.—(By A. P.)—The "house of mystery" that stands on a knoll on the old Phillips farm overlooking the crab apple tree beneath which the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, were found slain last Saturday, was brought forcibly back into the picture by an uncanny story told by Mrs. Charles Amelie De Russy, one time playmate of the slain rector's widow and resident for 16 years in the ramshackle building.

Mrs. De Russy said she had visited the old homestead last June with a woman friend whose name she refused to divulge. This woman, she said, pointed out the identical tree under which the bodies were found with the comment: "This would be an ideal place for a murder."

Mrs. De Russy said she attempted to laugh it off, but the woman retorted: "You think I am jesting. Some day you may read or hear of a murder here."

Last Monday night, three days after the bodies had been discovered, she had a vivid horrible dream, in which she saw the murders committed in a second floor room of the building.

Mrs. De Russy declined to give details or to say who the "dream murderer" was.

Harding Approves Conscription of Wealth in Wars

Amendment to Constitution Proposed by Representative Johnson Concurred in by Administration.

By GEORGE F. AUTHIER, Washington Correspondent The Omaha Bee. Washington, Sept. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—The Harding administration approves an amendment to the constitution proposed in the house yesterday by Representative R. C. Johnson, providing that in time of war, wealth as well as man power shall be conscripted. The proposed amendment does not mention labor, but this is included in "every citizen." This action is the logical outcome of the policy of conscription or levy en masse, which had its origin in the Napoleonic wars in Europe.

It will be recalled that when the bonus advocates made their appeal to congress and the president for the passage of the bill, they called attention to the fact that others had been permitted to profit by war conditions, while the soldier went to the front with comparatively little remuneration.

In his inaugural address, President Harding recognized this inequality. He said then that in the event of war, property as well as man power be called to the colors.

Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the war industries board during the war, is credited with having originated the idea. Many representatives of the legion have been working on it and Representative Johnson's proposed constitutional amendment represents a large school of thought. The prevailing opinion on the subject calls for a "freezing of all values" during the war period. This would apply to wages as well as to prices. Just how wealth itself is to be conscripted, how it is to be used, is something that will have to be worked out later.

Representative Johnson has started something that will cause a great deal of thinking.
