

Federal Trade Commission Ends Grain Hearing

Members Will Consider Refusal of Armour to Furnish Records in Final Report.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—The Federal Trade Commission conducting hearings here pursuant to a senate resolution requesting information as to whether recent high wheat prices were occasioned by manipulations or were the result of unhampered operation of natural causes, completed its investigation here and the members left for Washington.

Members said that upon their return to Washington they would go over the evidence obtained at hearings in Washington, New York and Chicago, and then prepare a report to be submitted to the senate without conducting any further hearings.

They will also consider the point-blank refusal of J. Ogden Armour to furnish the commission with records of his purchases and sales of grain or the futures transactions of the Armour Grain company from July, 1920, to last May. When Mr. Armour appeared before the commission Wednesday he refused to give the information until he had consulted his attorney and today he told the commission that on advice of counsel he would not reveal his transactions.

James W. McCulloch, the last witness, testified regarding his opinion of the "squeeze" of last May, he having been chairman of a committee appointed by the Chicago Board of Trade to investigate the May wheat situation. He said that wheat futures were being bought by eastern stock brokers at the time and he deduced that the tip to buy came from Washington, since he said stock brokers are not usually speculators in the pit. Contrary to expectations, he said, the price of wheat did not go up and the brokers lost.

Frank Crosby, Minneapolis miller, said that future trading benefited the miller because it enabled him to take wheat from the market when needed.

Gunmen-Loot Chicago Liquor Warehouse

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Four gunmen with a roustabout crew of 20, armed and equipped for any emergency, overpowered the guards at the Grommes and Ulrich liquor warehouse yesterday and looted the four-story building of choice liquors. They made away with three truck loads, chiefly case goods of the best quality, according to a hasty check-up by the government officials.

The robbers worked with the utmost precision and the raid had evidently been carefully worked out in advance. Once inside and the guards bound or beaten unconscious, they locked the doors and went about the work systematically. Their motor truck drew up to the rear doors on signal and the stolen booze was quickly wheeled out and loaded.

Gen. Wood to Appoint Coalition Cabinet in P. I.

Manila, Oct. 14.—(By A. P.)—Governor General Wood announced today that at the convening of the Philippine legislature Monday, he would appoint a coalition cabinet, choosing men from the collectivist, nationalist and democratic parties.

Manual Quezon, president of the senate and head of the collectivist, insists that all members of the cabinet should be selected from that party, since it has a plurality in both houses of the legislature and will assume responsibility for the legislation.

Collectivists assert that the cabinet appointments will not be confirmed unless those named belong to the collectivist party.

The cabinet is composed of the secretaries of justice, agriculture, the interior, finance and commerce. The senate must confirm appointments.

Los Angeles Police Drop Dornier Case

Los Angeles, Oct. 14.—Los Angeles authorities have dropped out of the investigation into the death of Guy M. Dornier, chairman of Phoenix Ariz., Chicago, and Los Angeles, whose body was found in an irrigation canal near the Arizona capital September 15. "We do not understand the action of the Phoenix officers in asking us to watch a certain man and then warning us not to arrest him," said Sheriff W. T. Traeger of Los Angeles county. "In view of that action we are taking no further steps in the case."

"But we shall be more than glad to co-operate with the Arizona authorities in any definite scheme."

Mayor of Los Angeles Knighted by Italian King

Los Angeles, Oct. 14.—Mayor George E. Cryer of Los Angeles has been knighted by the king of Italy.

Because of his "fair and considerate treatment of the Italian population of Los Angeles, he has been made a knight of the Order of the Crown."

The formal presentation of the decoration was made at a banquet attended by the Italian consul-general, the vice consul and a number of prominent Italian-Americans.

Deny Poultry Rate Increase

Washington, Oct. 14.—Attempts of railroads to increase rates on butter and eggs and poultry from Texas to northern states were declared today by the interstate commerce commission to be unjustified and schedules incorporating the increases which would have gone into effect next November 15, were ordered cancelled. On butter the increases would have averaged around 15 per cent and on mixed outside of the other products about 17 per cent.

Drug Store Stays Closed

Twice in two days has Federal Judge Woodruff refused petitions to reopen the Jimmy Ray drug store at Twenty-fourth and Hamilton streets, which was ordered closed for one year for violation of the prohibition law.

Friday Pete Rooney's petition was rejected and Saturday he denied the plea of Jacob Lewis, who said he had acquired ownership of the store.

THE UNKNOWN HUMAN RACE—A THIRD SPECIMEN.

Mrs. B. M. E. writes: "I want to call your attention to another curious specimen of the genus homo, whom I have observed for years and always with bewilderment.

"He was an only son of wealthy old stock, tenderly reared by his widowed mother who, from all I can gather, was a woman of rare strength of character, and possessed culture and refinement to an unusual degree.

"Well developed physically, he took great interest in athletics. He loved literature, and, at an early age, his mother read Scott, Dickens and Shakespeare to him. However, he never made any headway in mathematics. Upon entering college, the boy's pugnacious nature asserted itself. Many were the battles he fought, even one with a professor which caused his expulsion.

"Then for several years he amused himself at home—dancing, fishing, hunting. At the age of 24 he was married, and, not long after that, his mother died. As soon as he assumed control of his plantation, his fortune began to dwindle, and he kept mortgaging the place ever after that. He would have to sell land to pay the mortgages.

"His family was steadily increasing. He worked a little, but never any actual labor, and never when it interfered in the least with any of his pleasurable pursuits. He never objected to working for hours on fishing lines or nets, or cleaning his guns, etc.

"Then the time comes when he has not enough to eat; when his family has to do without bare necessities. Does he wake up? Does he go to work? He does not.

"He says occasionally that he wants a job, but that is as far as it goes. Now he lives in a one-room shack, and cooks the little he finds to eat himself on an open fire.

"His wife is out somewhere earning her own living, and the children are scattered about among such relatives as could be induced to take them.

"If someone should tell him he was responsible for his bad luck, he would be astonished. He thinks that he has always done the best he possibly could for his family, and is very much hurt at any signs of ingratitude on their part. I have seen him weep when one of his children was ill.

"The sight of suffering in either human or animal arouses in him deep emotion. He would not needlessly set foot upon a worm, and yet he will not work that his children may eat."

REPLY.

This is a good description of a drone in a beehive. The sole function of the male in such specimens is to beget young, and for this he is supported in idleness and incapacity. In certain insect king drones, the male, having served his purpose, is killed by the more competent female.

In the case of our human hive, such disposal of the drone is not permissible.

In insect phases of life, the phenomenon known as "drone" attracts no attention. They recognize the only capacity of which the individual is capable is for the generation of the young, and even that capacity they do not kill him; they give him no other responsibilities.

In earlier human society nothing is done. The situation is allowed to drift without study, explanation or remedy.

The next stage is a children's court, in which the incompetent is ordered to provide for his family and, failing this, is punished.

The next stage is a social study of the individual, a part of which is a mental test.

The conclusion is that he is socially diseased, though sound when measured by ordinary physical and mental standards.

Now they are trying to find the ductless gland which, being abnormal, causes the men to be abnormal in his conduct—to stotatically become a drone in a beehive. How far they will succeed, I do not know.

I must apologize to you, Mrs. E. for the necessity of abbreviating your terse, clear description and express to you my regret that I must be so little informing.

Cause of Gum Boils.

C. K. writes: "What is the cause, cure and prevention of a swollen jaw supposedly coming from a gum boil or an abscess of the tooth?"

REPLY.

It is due to infection with pus bacteria. The bacteria infect the deeper part of the gum, the end of the tooth root and the sinuses nearby.

There is practically no danger of death, but some bone does and eventually works out or is removed in a large proportion of the cases. To prevent gum boils, have the teeth and gums put in order. Clean each tooth each day.

Give Breast Milk Now.

R. P. writes: "Will you kindly tell me what I could feed my baby at the table? He is 5 months old. Would it hurt him to give him a drink of warm cow's milk night and morning?"

REPLY.

Have your baby stick to breast milk and fruit or tomato juice until the hot weather has passed. Then start with cereal.

If you must give him cow's milk once a day, dilute it with boiled water. The milk, too, water, water, one part. But be certain that cows are not tuberculous.

Former Watchman at Mine Convicted of Double Murder

Trinidad, Col., Oct. 14.—Joe McDonald, former watchman at the Jewel mine, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in district court here today, for slaying Ella Carter and William H. Ferguson, strikers of the Colorado School of Mines, at a boarding house here June 1. The verdict, which was returned on the first ballot, recommended the death penalty.

Mrs. Carter was the daughter of a local boarding house keeper and Ferguson had been employed as a night watchman at the Royal mine.

New York Banker Must Pay Wife $1,000 Month Alimony

New York, Oct. 14.—Justice Spiegelberg in municipal court yesterday ruled that Beverly D. Harris, former vice president of the National City bank, must pay his wife, Elvance E. L. Harris, $1,000 alimony arrears and $1,000 each month in the future, under the terms of a separation agreement which Harris tried to prove invalid.

Harris heard the decision after seven years' hours on the witness stand. Mrs. Harris did not appear in court at any time during the trial.

Saving 20% to 30% On Fuel Bills Is the Reputation of the Howard

For over a quarter of a century Howard Heaters have given satisfaction in thousands of Omaha homes.

No need to worry about the coal shortage or the high price of fuel with a "Howard." It burns anything combustible and burns less of it than any heater we have ever seen, due to its overdraft construction, which consumes the fuel gasses ordinarily lost up a chimney in smoke.
