

Greeks Stage Big Celebration Over Revolution

Athenians Harangue Through While Airplanes Bombard With Thousands of Bullets Voicing Greeting.

Athens, Oct. 23.—(By A. P.)—The Greek revolution was proclaimed at a mass meeting in the Place de la Constitution yesterday. Citizens of Athens and members of the revolutionary committee harangued the crowd while airplanes released thousands of bullets voicing the nation's greeting to the "all saving revolution." Cries of "death to the traitors" arose when Col. Plastiras, a member of the committee, outlining the aims of the revolution, said those Greeks who sought to lay the blame for the disaster in Asia Minor upon the army were themselves solely responsible by their vote demerits for the nation's misfortune.

This was an illustration to the impudent former president and military officials whose trial for treason awaits the decision of the next national assembly.

Approving Abdication. The manifestation was arranged by various public organizations, who presented the revolutionary committee with a resolution approving the abdication of Constantine, "who can never remount the throne of Greece."

The resolution proclaimed that Greece's place in the world is beside its "natural and traditional allies" and demanded national effort to dissipate all misunderstandings between Greece and the entire countries.

In the evening after the meeting a crowd paraded through the streets shouting for Venizelos.

Col. Plastiras referred to "the infamous captivity of the criminal of heads who stifled the voice of an ardent nation by persecutions, imprisonments and assassinations."

Must Be Punished. "These men must be punished," he exclaimed, "Greece, worthy of her glorious past, will live again and will demonstrate her superiority to the race of barbarians to extend whose frontiers civilization is staining its history."

After the meeting a committee of citizens visited the American legation, where, after presenting a copy of the pro-revolutionary resolutions, the chairman expressed the gratitude of the Greek people for America's practical humanitarianism in generously helping the destitute refugees.

Later the committee visited the consulate locations, where mutual expressions of felicitations were exchanged.

Millionaires Form New Hobo Colony

Boston and New York society folk, with millions in money and eccentric ideas, have formed a Hobo colony, under the leadership of John Knowles Bourne, millionaire "farmer," and are now located near Buzzard's bay, Charles Garland, who refused his father's millions, cast off his wife and took two suitcases, is a member. The Hobo colony began in the "Waffle Shop" of Mary Whipple in Boston, but when that place was closed by police they moved to quieter zones. The stated purpose of the "Hobo Corporation" is "to fight unions, protect the elect from the restrictions of the great unwashed and to secure freedom to enjoy the untrammeled luxury of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness." Mrs. Frederick Snow has repeatedly shocked society by her madcap adventures.

Ballot for Bonar Law Unanimous

(Continued From Page One) Lloyd George cabinet. The nomination was seconded by Vantroy Baldwin, president of the board of trade. Mr. Bonar Law's election enables him to accept the task of forming a cabinet, thereby giving England her first conservative prime minister since 1905. It is understood Mr. Bonar Law's ministry is virtually complete. The premier-designate did not define his policy before the meeting, according to reports, but intimated that he would do so in his speech at Glasgow on Saturday. Others present at the meeting included Viscount Cave, Lord Derby, Lord Carson, Viscount Peel, the duke of Devonshire, Earl Grey, Sir Samuel Hoare, Admiral Suetter and William Ormsby-Gore. The presence of Lord Carson created considerable comment, adding strength to the recent rumors that the former Ulster unionist leader intended to re-enter politics. This would necessitate his resignation as lord of appeal, because holders of judicial offices cannot participate in politics.

Baby Stock Show to Be Conducted at Nebraska "U"

Fourth Annual Exhibition of Its Kind to Be Held on November 4 in Lincoln.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 23.—(By A. P.)—The fourth annual "Baby International" livestock show, patterned after the international livestock show held in Chicago, will be held at the state agricultural college campus, Saturday evening, November 4. This show is sponsored by the Block and Brille club, which is composed of students specializing in animal husbandry work. The purpose of the show is a three-fold. It teaches the students to fit and exhibit livestock in a show ring. It gives the general public a chance to view the stock at the college and observe some of the work done by the students and to become acquainted with show classification and types also. It enables the Block and Brille club to give financial support to the judicial team.

Second in Importance. The baby international ranks next to the farmers' fair in importance among agricultural college events and the aim is to make it better each year and to interest more of the general public.

The training offered to the students in fitting and showing the animals is said to prove of much practical value to them, especially if they later go into the show ring. According to annual husbandry experts at the college, one of the most effective ways of advancing a herd today is to travel on a show circuit and make some of the stock shows and fairs. With the knowledge obtained from experience in showing at the baby international, the students acquire the attributes that increase their chances for success, they assert.

Nebraska long has been recognized as a livestock state and has made rapid strides in show animals and improved herd. This achievement is said to be due to the efforts of breeders and improvers in selecting an ideal or type and breeding up to it.

Has Judging Team. Nebraska, as has been the custom for many years, is represented by a livestock judging team which competes with judging teams from other agricultural colleges in intercollegiate livestock judging contests. Many men from former Nebraska teams are today rated as progressive breeders and improvers of livestock not only in Nebraska but in other states as well. Their training, ideal of type and incentive for livestock improvement was developed in trying out for these teams, according to the college animal husbandry specialists. Except for donations from South Omaha livestock men and a few other individuals, the teams have paid their own expenses when away from the state on judging work in contests.

Awards at the baby international are made by a competent judge and the student rather than the animal is placed. The manner in which an animal is shown and fitted for show are deciding factors in the placing.

U. S. Submarine Burns; None Hurt; Loss $70,000. Los Angeles, Oct. 23.—Fire which broke out in the submarine R-4 at the San Pedro submarine base at midnight was well out of control at 10 today, according to announcement from the submarine base. The boat was sealed when the fire was discovered, opened for inspection today and revealed when the flames were found uncontrolled. No one was injured. The property loss was estimated to be in excess of $70,000 when the boat was examined.

When the flames were discovered three men were aboard. They gave an immediate alarm. Efforts were made to quench the flames, but fumes from the batteries endangered the men and Lieut. Com. F. C. Sherman, division chief, ordered the vessel resounded. It was opened today and Com. Sherman and Lieut. F. R. Glutting, the boat's commander, attempted to enter, but were driven back by the fumes. The boat was then resounded. The officers said the blaze was found in the electric battery compartment and they hoped to confine it to that location.

Normal Board Fails to Decide on Dancing

Whether dancing is to be permitted at state normal schools was debated before the state normal board Monday afternoon, and then referred to the presidents of the four state colleges. President Martin of Kearney said that the pupils there were not permitted to dance on the campus, but had organized clubs and held dances in town.

Several members thought that dancing chaperoned by faculty members was preferable but others thought the board would be placed in an embarrassing condition if it sanctioned dancing. Some parents do not desire their children to dance, and if the board sanctions it the children will have something to point to, when debating the matter with their parents, as a reason for dancing, when the board sanctions it and others dance.

Livestock Commission Men to Submit Rates to Arbiters

Washington, Oct. 24.—As a result of conferences in regard to the matter of charges and practices now in force at the Kansas City livestock market, it has been agreed that the commission rates shall be submitted for adjustment to G. N. Daggler of the division of rates and charges, and Howard M. Gore of the trade practice division of the Packers and Stockyards administration, and thus dispense with formal procedure, according to an announcement made last evening by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. The agreement reached by these men is to be accepted and made effective by the Kansas City Livestock Exchange upon approval by the secretary of agriculture. The agreement is the outcome of charges made against the livestock exchanges at Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul and Portland.

Chicago Women Teachers Would End "Male Control"

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Steps to organize a permanent "vigilance committee" having for its aim the prevention of discrimination against women teachers will be taken at a mass meeting of women teachers tomorrow under the auspices of the Chicago Council of Administrative Women, Miss Genevieve Melody, principal of the Park Manor school, said today.

"We feel that the Chicago public schools system is already in the hands of men and that the men are seeking to carry their control even further," said Miss Melody.

Randall Sees G. O. P. Lulled by Easy Victory

(Continued From Page One) demonstration of the effect of good local organization. A short meeting was held on the street in Geylor, where 150 heard Mr. Randall and Mrs. Hight. A large committee was on hand to greet Senator Randall at the Burlington station in Sidney, not knowing that he was enroute across from Bridgeport. The committee, including L. Jackson, J. C. McNish, J. W. Johnson, Henry C. Blome, Golden Kraft and Walter Haskins called later at the hotel.

Here, too, the meeting had been well planned and an audience that taxed the capacity of the opera house heard the address of Mr. Randall, frequently applauding him and also Mrs. Hight. Ex-Mayor Ed Updegraff presided. "Your 1922 state taxes will be one-third less than those of 1921 because the Republicans have already reduced the levy that much," said Mr. Randall. "Completion of roads and other improvements will reduce them further. Nebraska has always paid as she owes instead of going into debt. The roads are paid for, the new capital will be paid for when it's done, that's the way we do business."
