Central-Beatrice Game Most Important Game on Today's Grid Card

"Ping" Purdy Not Allowed to Play Against Purple Team in Annual Gridiron Battle

Percival and Galloway, Star Central Gridsters, Will Be in Line-Up That Starts Against Gage County Cleat-Throwers—Other Important Games on Today's High Schedule.

By RALPH WAGNER.

FOOTBALL cleats will be thrown in all directions this afternoon when Nebraska state high school grid elevens take another fling at the championship laurels.

Of the many football contests on the card for the state highs today, four are considered most important. These four games are: Central against Beatrice at Beatrice; Lincoln against Grand Island at Grand Island; Kearney against Holdrege and North Platte against Columbus at Columbus.

Late last night Principal Masters of Central High school of this city received word from Beatrice that "Ping" Purdy, all-state quarterback, would not be played against the Purple in the game this afternoon. Purdy was declared ineligible by the state athletic board for playing "pro" football.

Hard Blow to Beatrice.

Word that Purdy would not back up against Central was sweet music to the ears of the Purple gridsters. The midget Beatrice signal-barker is considered one of the best pilots and broken field runners in state high school circles and his loss will be a blow to Beatrice's chances of defeating Central.

Neither Central nor Beatrice have been defeated in the race for the state title. Beatrice, however, has played more state grid elevens than Central. The Purple of Omaha forged to the head of the list as a contender for the title last Saturday when it defeated the Lincoln eleven here by the score of 19 to 6.

Beatrice has not battled Lincoln, but the Gage county moleskin warriors trounced the Tech eleven by the score of 19 to 0 in the first big upset of the state grid race.

Beat Tech.

The defeat of Tech by the light Beatrice team stamped the latter one of the foremost contenders for the championship. Outweighted nearly 20 pounds to the man, Beatrice battled the heavy Tech team from one end of the field to the other. Purdy was the stellar performer of the game.

Just what kind of a battle Beatrice can wage against Central without "Ping" Purdy in the lineup is not known. Last week the Gage county team defeated Tecumseh, 19 to 7, without the services of the all-state quarter.

Coach Schmidt of Central gave his gridsters their final workout yesterday, which consisted of a light signal drill. Galloway, smashing fullback, and Percival, end, who played a whale of a game against Lincoln last week, will be able to play against Beatrice. For a time it was thought these gridders would not be in the lineup, due to injuries, but Coach Schmidt announced last night that practically the same lineup that smashed Lincoln's hopes would battle Beatrice.

Important Game.

Much depends on today's game whether or not Omaha will remain in the running for the championship. Tech and South have been eliminated. It's up to the Purple to keep this burg in the running.

A large delegation of Central followers will leave with the team this morning for the scene of battle.

The Lincoln team plays at Grand Island this afternoon. Both teams have been eliminated, but the game is attracting considerable interest out in the state.

Kearney bucks up against Holdrege with an undefeated slate. The game will be played at Holdrege and the odds are in favor of the Kearney eleven, which is making a hard fight to land the coveted laurels.

Columbus, better known as the "Discoverers," is another scool yet to taste the sting of defeat. North Platte, 1921 state champions, play Columbus on the latter's grid today in a game that will test the real mettle of the "Discoverers." North Platte has been eliminated, but is capable of playing good football and the game with Columbus will be watched with interest.

Aggies Undefeated.

The Curtis Aggies, another undefeated team, plays at Gothenburg this afternoon. Judging from scores hung up by the "Farmers," they are a powerful aggregation of footballers and capable of taking Gothenburg into camp.

Many other games are scheduled for the state today, but the ones mentioned above are the most important.

California Won't Play in Post-Season Football Game

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—The executive committee of the Associated Students of the University of California has adopted a resolution asking the Pacific coast football conference not to consider California in any plans for a post-season intersectional game. The resolution made special reference to the proposed New Year's game at Pasadena, Cal., to be played between Penn State and a team to be selected by the Pacific coast conference.

Foot Ball Facts Worth Knowing

By Sol Metzger

Q. Player behind goal line, on fourth down, with ball put in play on one-yard line, attempts a forward pass. Ball strikes goal posts, rebounds into end-zone, and is caught by a player who passed it. He is thrown in end-zone, but before ball is dead, one of the men who tackled him, wrenches his neck. Is a safety scored? Just what is the decision?

A. It is a touchback. Rule 6, Section 15, last paragraph, states, "That if a player commits a foul behind his opponents' goal-line, which would give the side defending the goal possession of the ball, had the foul occurred on the field of play, a touchdown shall be declared," against them; putting the ball into play inasmuch as a foul was committed in this instance the play must be declared a touchback.

Q. Is a punt called out-of-bounds at spot it crosses sideline if ball blows back into field of play before striking ground?

A. No. The ball is not considered as being out-of-bounds unless it touched the ground or some object that is out-of-bounds. Rule 6, Section 9.

Q. Suppose on a regular formation, any plays at end, but on certain other formations he plays at tackle, inside the end. Has he a right thereafter on regular formations to move into backfield less than five yards behind line and later return to end?

A. Once an end changes with a center he must thereafter conform to all of the obligations placed on a lineman." he is taken back of the line he can with the ball or make interference he must be at least five yards back when ball is put in play. Rule 9, Section 4.

Q. Team on his own goal line, who punts. When he goes back to punt an end takes his place at center and passes him the ball. The end who is brought back later than five yards to run with ball if he is ever brought back after playing center once, has he a right to return to the line as defense?

A. Yes, end may interchange with center as often as he wants to. However, once he has played center he cannot be interchanged as a back unless he goes five yards in rear of his line of scrimmage. Rule 8, Section 4.

Q. Is the coach of a team allowed to go his representative to come on the field during the game in case of injury to one of his players?

A. If the coach has the permission of the referee or umpire he may come on the field to see how badly his player is hurt, however. It is a bad policy for an official to allow the coach on the field except in rare instances. A man other than the coach should be on the sidelines ready to attend an injured player. Rule 10, Section 5.

Huskers Leave for Annual Tilt With Kansas Jayhawkers

Husker Eleven to Take Workout at Kansas City

Dawson Huskies Drilled in Breaking Up Kansas Plays —Battle Is 29th Between Two Schools.

Lincoln, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—The Cornhusker first squad, comprised of 25 gridsters, puled out tonight for the land of the sunflowers where they take on "Potsy" Clark's Jayhawkers for the 29th time Saturday. They arive in Kansas City Friday morning, take out the kinks with a workout there in the afternoon, and arrive in Lawrence at 19 a. m., Saturday.

A signal drill comprised the last practice. The freshmen, interpreting some of Kansas' best plays, were sent against the varsity Wednesday evening. The freshies scored when the varsity let up for a few minutes.

Those who watched the freshmen use the Kansas formations found out that Coach Clark still has a few tricks left in the bag.

Following Kansas' showing against the Sooners last week, and the huge upset at Syracuse, the student body at Nebraska is not bubbling over with confidence.

Coach Dawson took the same squad which made the Syracuse trip.

Heavyweight Champion Given Handsome Cue by Nick Wranic

Wranic met Jack in San Francisco four years ago, and their acquaintance matured into a fast friendship.

While in Omaha, Wranic has taught the heavyweight champion "snooker" pool, which Dempsey likes very much.

Dempsey's 'Dogs' as Perfect as Evelyn Thaw's, Says Foot Expert After Treating Champion's Corns

NO wonder Jack Dempsey clothes his pedal extremities in the choicest of choice patent leather footwear.

His feet, unclothed and exposed to view, excel in comeliness and beauty the feet of many notables, among them the dainty extremities of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

All this on the authority of "Doc" J. W. Muldoon, patrolman on Mike Dempsey's stalwart police department.

"Doc" is an expert on feet—that is, other people's feet. He treats 'em.

A Championship Corn.

Now, Jack, that exponent of fisticuffs than which there is none such, according to loiterers along the well known fight rialto, suffered from what is commonly known as a "corn" on the toe that nestles closely to the "little toe" on his left foot.

Said toe needed expert attention, and Champion Jack's attention was called to "Doc" Muldoon, whose nimble fingers have done much for the toes and arches of other celebrities such as Ben Turpin, Bob Fitzsimmons, "Doc" Roller of mat fame, Frank Gotch and even Li'l Arthah, known in federal court records as Jack Johnson, pugilist.

"Doc," summoned, "worked" on Jack's "dogs."

He administered surcease from pain, removed the pesky corn, sunned himself in the radiance of Jack's thankful smile and philosophized.

"Never seen a handsomer pair of hoofs in all my days," chortled "Doc."

Adorns 'Em in Patents.

"Them's what I calls real dogs.

"And exercise is what done it—exercise. Take the pink tootsies of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. She's a dancer. Her feet are positively beautiful. But they ain't got nothin' on Champ Jack's.

"Course, Jack's somewhat of a dancer himself. He dances about the ring, even as he waves tantalizin' fists in the faces of his sparrin' partners.

"And thataway his hoofs gets ample exercise. And they stay fit. His arches are perfect. 'Ab-so-lute-ly.'"

Hence the patent leathers.

Dave Shade Gets Crack at Walker

New York, Nov. 9.—Dave Shade, California welterweight, will be the first opponent of Mickey Walker, the new champion, in a title bout. Shade has posted $2,500 and an official challenge with the state boxing commission.

Walker won the title from Jack Britton in a great 15-round battle Wednesday night.

Cubs' Park Will Undergo Repairs

Chicago, Nov. 9.—"Bill" Killifer's Cubs won't know the old homestead when they come back to duty next spring. The entire layout is to undergo alterations and when these are completed the National league park will have a seating capacity of 32,000 and a playing field second in size to none in the country. Work will start immediately, according to announcement made today by President W. M. Veeck.

The plans for the remodeld plant call for an expenditure of approximately $300,000.

Iowa Tank Stars in O. A. C. Meet

Iowa City, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Ivan Klingaman of Vinton, Ia., captain-elect of the varsity swimming team, and Ross Clark of Des Moines, left tonight for Omaha, where they will represent the University of Iowa in the special 50-yard free style A. A. U. championship tomorrow.

In the tryout, Capt. Klingaman won out, making the distance in 19 4-5 seconds, 1-5 of a second slower than the conference record. The race for second place was hotly contested by Clark and Leroy Stover of Watertown, S. D. In the first race, the judges were unable to decide who won, but in the second trial between the two, Clark bent his rival by a hand's length.

Harvard Picks Team for Classic

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 9.—Head Coach Fisher of Harvard announced today that he would start Clark at center, Jenkins and Holder on the ends and Captain Buell, Owen, Girke and Chapin in the backfield in the game against Princeton Saturday. Fitts and Coburn are expected to start against Yale two weeks later and will stand as first reserves.

From Princeton came word that Coach Roper was still in doubt as to several positions. At quarterback it appeared Wingate was likely to start instead of Gorman. The man to play guard with Captain Dickenson also was not as yet assigned.

College Publication Insists Original Score Should Stand

New York, Nov. 9.—The Columbia Alumni News insists in an editorial appearing tomorrow that the score of the New York-Columbia football game, played October 21, which was 7 to 6 in favor of N. Y. U., should be allowed to stand despite the recent admission of Referee William N. Morrice that he erred in judging the deciding play.

"There is a crew maxim to the effect that once a crew starts, it must abide by the vagaries of the course," says the editorial. "So whatever Mr. Morrice will finally decide and no matter whether the technical result will be "no game" or "Columbia, 6; N. Y. U., 2," the News believes that we ought to apply the crew maxim in this case and that the original score should stand."

Blackbird Attacked by Black Bass

Lake Wales, Fla., Nov. 9.—Black bass in the vicinity of Lake Wales have become exceedingly voracious, according to Milton Henry, farmer, living near here.

While plowing out sweet potatoes a few days ago he heard the cries of a bird and considerable splashing in the water near shore. His quick attention revealed that a black bass had leaped from the water and grabbed a blackbird sitting on a reed bent just over the lake's surface. The bird had been dragged into the water and was struck at by the fish several times before Henry waded to its rescue. The bird later died and the farmer exhibited it to his friends to substantiate his story.

Omaha Fight Fans May See New Champ

When Dave Shade battles Frankie Schoell here next Monday night in a little 10-round bout, Omaha fight fans may see the next welterweight champion.

Shade has challenged Mickey Walker, the new champion, and it may not be long before Shade and Walker battle. The New York boxing commission has ruled Shade out of a Gotham ring until he is 21 years old. Dave will reach his 21st birthday soon.

Walker is credited with a victory over Shade, but the latter broke his hand during the bout and had to quit. Accounts of the fight reveal that Shade was getting the best of the new champ until he broke his mitt.
