Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 25.-Michiman's undefeated football team retained Fits claim to the Blg Ten championship with Iowa here this afternoon, by defeating Minnesota, 16 to 7, on North-

The game, played before 23,000 spectators, wes replete with thrills, and it appeared in the first quarter that the Gophers were going to down their old rivals. Michigan, however, found itself in the second period, scoring two touchdowns for a 14 to 7 lead.

In the final period, the Wolverines added to their total with a perfect place kick by Blott. The seven points scored by the Gophers was the largest score made against the Yostmen this Cappon, plunging Wolverine fullback, and Kirk, left end, led in the attack which downed the Gophers. While the speedy Kipke was effectually checked, except for a few flashes, Cappon plunged through the line and tore off the tacklers consistently while Kirk's handling of forward masses was superior to anything on Northrop field for years.

He opened the game with a 49 yard return of the kickoff, it appear ing for a moment a touchdown.

Minnesota completed only one forward pass during the game and the Yost passing game was a large factor contributing toward defeat. Schjoll, Minnesota right end, dropped a long es on the Michigan 50-yard line, with no tackler near him.

The Gophers started with a rush that swept the Wolverines off their feet. Following McCreery's brilliant return of the kickoff, Minnesota car-ried the ball to the Michigan 23-yard line on eight plays. Owen Recovers Blocked Ball and Races Through Lines for 60 Yards' Gain, Paving Way for Touchdown.

Yale Bowl, New Haven, Conn., Nov. 25.- Footbal dope was upset and spilled again today and a snake dance was staged in the Yale bowl, although it wasn't on the books, because Harvard's Crimson team defeated Yale's Blue in their annual classic, 10 to 3. Yale was such a favorite that the boys wagered as much as 2 to 1 on a Yale from start to finish. Harvard surprized the 76,000 who were present, with its clean and aggressive attack and sterling defense, and Yale surprised every one with its supposed-ty wonderful offense broken down and its former setrong defense crumbled before Harvard rushes. The Crimson eleven was supposed to be sick and crippled and lame, but today it was as healthy and as clever and as strong a fighting machine as Marvard has put in the field in many years.

Owen Dashes 60 Yards. Perhaps Yale was over-confident because of the strength that it showed a week ago at Princeton, but the Yale eam of today was far from the form of the one which lost to the Tigers by 3 points.

George Owen, the great Harvard halfback, stood out as the real herd of the battle because of one play, which he turned in the opening quarter. It was the play that perhaps decided the game, because it made it possible for Harvard to score a touchdown and get away to a commanding lead that seemed to inspire confidence in the men from then on.

The play was a run of 60 yards through a broken field, following a Yale punt. Possibly the luck of the toos of a coin before the game had something to do with it, as Harvard won the toss and chose to defend the north goal with a strong wind in its favor. The wind was what made this play possible.

Inspires Crimson.

Hammond of Harvard and O'Hearn of Yale had exchanged several punts in this quarter, the Harvard num having the advantage of the wind, One of O'Hearn's punts was descending to earth in front of Owen, who was back on the watch for a kick. The strong wind brought the ball down unexpectedly and Owen mad no attempt to catch it. However, at the ball, allowed it to strike him or the first bound. That made it any body's ball. But Owen was the first man to act, and snatching it off the PERHAPS IT'S BECAUSE THEY'RE dodging some tacklers and shaking others off until he had covered 60 yards of ground and was crowded out of bounds on Yale's 312 yard line. From that point he carried the ball over for the touchdown, but it took

That unexpected turn of affairs gave Harvard a new spirit and seemed to take the fight out of the Yale boys. Yale, however, struggled on in desperation and in the next quarter had a splendid opportunity to tie the game when they got the ball down close to Harvard's goal, but in the crists, the Harvard team braced and instead of a touchdown. Yale had to be content with a dropkick by the s the hero of Purdue university to clever-toed Charlie O'Hearn, who booted three points from the 20-yard line, the only counting Yale was able
