

French Tiger Sees Harvard and Yale Play

Clemenceau Declares American Can Bring Peace to Troubled Countries of Near East.

Boston, Nov. 25.—Georges Clemenceau, noted by a good night's sleep after his address at Tremont temple late yesterday, left today to see the Yale-Harvard football game at New Haven.

Boston, Nov. 25.—His fighting blood up, the "Tiger of France" turned from the abstract to the specific yesterday, answered his critics at Washington with barbed phrases and declared that what he really came to America for was to seek to draw the United States into the conference at Lausanne, for the settlement of the eastern crisis.

Speaking in Tremont temple before a fashionable audience, Clemenceau said he had not intended to tell Americans how to run their own business. "But they have asked me to go further," he said, referring to the assertions of some in Washington that his talk was too vague. "They dare not tell me, I am ready today, in Boston, to go a little further. I'll give you not an advice, but what I think. It is the very simplest thing in the world.

Invitation to Conference.

"There is at Lausanne a conference where England and France are supposed to agree with Italy, which might meet with some difficulties. Let the Yankee come and say, 'Good day, gentlemen, is there a seat for me?' They will give him an armchair.

"Never were circumstances better. Go there and you will meet the eastern question which is troubling the world for the last 500 years. And you will do more—you will settle it, because you can do it; because the presence of America in Europe again will tell the Germans that they won't go farther than certain limits, and because everybody will understand that there is a moral and material power which is to take possession of the world, not for domination, but for freedom.

"Let my conclusion be this: Let us unite. Let us be good. Let us be free."

"The great war premier, looking a trifle worn, but full of enthusiasm, spoke for more than an hour.

Declares Germany Arming.

Earlier in the day he granted his first American interview, in which he answered caustically the criticisms leveled at him and his country in Thursday's debate on the senate floor at Washington. He had paid special attention to Senators Hitchcock and Borah, launching barbed sallies at both, some of which were so hot that he later asked that they be stricken out.

He paid his respects to them again from the platform, without, however, using their names. And his defense of himself and of France against charges of "militarism" and "imperialism" were couched in terms of reproach rather than in derogation.

"The 'Tiger' renewed his assertions that Germany was arming and preparing with Russia and Turkey for a new war. Adding that he was much surprised when he learned his statement that Germany was arming had been questioned, he drew an official looking sheet of paper from his pocket.

"Here is a paper that was not intended for you," he said. "They say they don't fabricate guns, and of course they don't fabricate guns as you fabricate sugar and steel, openly. But if they don't fabricate tell me why on the 15th of July in one factory that I know of, the officers of the allied armies discovered 150 groups of cannons, 1000 enough to arm two corps. Here is the list since 1921. Guns 400,000 and so many. I could spend all my time doing this, but that is quite enough to judge from."

M. Clemenceau will go to New Haven Saturday to attend the Yale-Harvard football game.

Britain Denies Statements by French "Tiger"

England Says Declaration Regarding Sinking of German Ships at Scapa Flow Is Untrue.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The recent declaration by former Premier Clemenceau of France that Great Britain had "secured a guarantee" of safety by permitting the sinking of the surrendered German fleet in Scapa Flow, was emphatically denied by the British government here through the British embassy.

The embassy issued a statement upon instructions from the British government denying M. Clemenceau's implication that the British government had wilfully permitted the sinking of the German warships which had been turned over as prizes of war, and were subsequently sent to the bottom by their German crews.

Washington government officials would not comment on the British embassy statement, which was as follows:

"M. Clemenceau is reported in the press as having stated in a speech made by him on November 21 at the Metropolitan Opera house, New York, that Great Britain let it (the German fleet) go to the bottom of Scapa Flow and thus secured her guarantee.

"The British embassy is authorized to declare that any suggestion that the British government wilfully allowed the German fleet to be sunk at Scapa Flow is not only untrue, but without any possible foundation in fact. By the terms of the armistice, in the negotiations for which France was one of the principals, the British authorities were not permitted to place any guard on board the German vessels and they were, therefore, unable to take any measures to prevent the German crews opening the safes. The British authorities' powers were confined to insuring that the fleet did not steam out to sea or open fire.

"A statement in the above terms was issued by the British government on June 21, 1919, a few hours after the German fleet had been sunk."

Railroad Tax Case Decision Is Held Up

Lincoln, Nov. 25.—Decision in the matter of the issuance of a temporary injunction in the tax suits brought by the Burlington, the Northwestern and the C. St. P. M. and C. railroad companies in federal court was held up by Federal Judges J. W. Woodrough and T. C. Munger, sitting together, who announced that decision would not be made for several days. Arguments in the case by which the companies seek to enjoin W. H. Osborne, Jr., 72 county treasurer and Attorney General C. A. Davis from collecting the current tax levy based on the June valuations of the state board of equalization, were heard this morning by the court. The companies contend that they are not taxed on an equal basis with residents of the state and for that reason the valuations as established are unfair and unconstitutional.

Auto Club Organ Enulogizes White

Late Auto Club Member "Leaves Enduring Monument," Says "Transmission."

A page of the current issue of "Transmission," organ of the Omaha Auto club, is devoted to an eulogy of J. S. White, who died last week.

Mr. White was one of the most active members of the Auto club and an ardent advocate of the municipal tourist camp. He had been a member of the club since 1915, and treasurer from 1918 until the time of his death.

The following is taken from "Transmission's" eulogy:

"He brought into his work for the club an enthusiasm and utter disregard for his own time and comfort that has been responsible in a great measure for the success of the club during the latter years of its existence, particularly in connection with good roads work, road signs, our country place at Bellevue and the tourist park at Elmwood.

"He leaves an enduring monument to his memory in all of these activities.

"His passing leaves a void that it will be difficult to fill in the work of the club. His advice and counsel will be missed by his associates on the board of directors. His passing leaves a place that cannot be filled in the hearts of his many friends who loved him for the courteous, kindly gentleman he was on all occasions."

Government Engineer Favors Irrigation

Hastings, Neb., Nov. 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Reporting on his survey at conference of Holdrege, Minden and Hastings people here, F. F. Smith, government engineer, declared that the supplement water project for Gosper, Phelps, Kearney and Adams counties was as practicable as any he had seen in his 13 years experience in irrigation work. He said his investigation showed that 25,000 acres could be irrigated in the four counties, that a power plant could be built on Plum creek of 7,500 horsepower and that building a 75 foot dam at a natural reservoir on Plum creek, sufficient water from the Platte could be impounded to supply four inches of water to 600,000 acres. The project contemplates supplying water in the fall and spring to supplement the natural rainfall. The Department of Agriculture is now investigating the storage quality of the soil and if the report is favorable the project will be pushed vigorously before congress.
