

Clemenceau Under Fire in Senate

Nebraskan Renews Charges of Black Troops on Rhine—Negro in Gallery Causes Uproar.

Myers Defends "Tiger"

Washington, Nov. 27.—(By A. P.)—The "tiger of France" again came under fire in the senate today when his utterances on his tour of the United States were the subject of a conflicting debate which was enlivened by an interruption from the galleries by a negro soldier.

Senator Hitchcock, democrat, Nebraska, former chairman of the foreign relations committee, led off in the debate with an attack on M. Clemenceau and of French policies, and was joined in the criticism by other senators, while Senator Myers, democrat, Montana, came to the defense of the aged French statesman.

Senator Curtis, republican, Kansas, and Hitchcock, however, expressed the belief that the negro had acted through ignorance and no action was taken in the case.

Senator Hitchcock especially criticized the statements of M. Clemenceau in reference to the quartering of French "blacks" on the Rhine, declaring the former premier's denials of the use of these troops had been disproved. He also attacked the French reparations demands on Germany.

Myers defended "Tiger" Clemenceau, deploring Senator Hitchcock's criticism of the French statesman and commending French policies toward Germany. Senator Owen, although criticizing French policies, expressed sympathy with M. Clemenceau's mission, saying the visitor was "making a pathetic appeal to America."

He declared, however, that M. Clemenceau was largely responsible, through the Versailles treaty, for present European difficulties and predicted that the American people would not cooperate with France while it continued present policies.

Senator Hitchcock, replying particularly to M. Clemenceau's statement that no black troops remained in Germany, presented figures to show that 23,000 black colonials were in Germany last month. The Nebraska senator also said the reparations demands upon Germany were "impossible."

Senator Myers declared he resented having M. Clemenceau "rebuked and assailed" and added that he was in complete agreement with M. Clemenceau's argument that America erred in not joining the league of nations.

Senator Owen expressed sorrow that Clemenceau, Lloyd George and others at the peace table had "wrung concessions" from former President Wilson and caused resentment in the country with sentiment resulting in rejection of the Versailles treaty.

Miller, Denver sales man, last night after luring him to a secluded spot near Globeville, a suburb, with the motive of robbery, Chief of Police Williams announced late today.

Jones and Rhodes said they persuaded Miller out to Globeville to rob him. Chief Williams asserted, "They said they knew he usually carried a considerable sum of money."

Miller was stabbed to death between 8:30 and 9:30 last night. The body was found about 1:30 this morning by laborers on their way to work. Jones was arrested three hours later. Rhodes was implicated in the former's confession and his arrest followed.

University Student Gives Blood to Save Life of Stricken Mother

Heroism of Son Helps Woman to Recover—Received When Younger Son Was Killed in Football Scrimmage.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 27.—(Special Telegram)—Neb. death due to a nervous breakdown caused by grief over the death of one son, Mrs. J. Hill of Long Pine, Neb., is in a local hospital on the rapid road to recovery, through heroism of her only living son, Eugene, a university student, who gave a quart of his blood to be transfused into the veins of his mother.

A month ago Mrs. Hill's younger son was killed in a football game. His back was broken in a scrimmage. Grief over the memories of the son who one hour left home full of enthusiasm in his football togs and who was carried home dead the next hour forced the mother to her bed.

A nervous breakdown could not be averted. She was taken to Lincoln. Here in Lincoln for a week Eugene was at his mother's side almost constantly. But she did not recover. Constant weeping caused a hemorrhage.

At 9 yesterday morning Doctors C. H. Arnold and C. E. Frey, attending physicians, in consultation over the condition of the mother, shook their heads apprehensively. "She's lost too much blood to live longer, we can barely discern her heart beats now," they said.

Conduct of Naval Middies Scored by Secretary Denby. Washington, Nov. 27.—Midshipmen from the naval academy who celebrated over-indulgently after the annual Army-Navy football game Saturday were held up to public scorn by Secretary Denby in one of the most stinging rebukes ever administered by a secretary of the navy.

Many members of the corps, Mr. Denby declared in a public statement, not only disgraced themselves and the uniform, but by their conduct at a ball which followed the game in Philadelphia, brought such shame upon the academy itself as it never had known before.

To Investigate Affair. The secretary said he did not know how many of the midshipmen "drank heavily," and was convinced that the great majority conducted themselves with propriety. But he added that enough of them had failed in their duty "to bring shame upon all." He announced that an investigation would be begun at once, and that steps would be taken to insure that "such an occurrence will never be repeated."

None of the guilty were named in the secretary's indictment nor did it appear certain that the department would find it possible to single out any individuals for punishment. It was indicated that the inquiry probably would take the direction of a general effort to establish what the conditions were that made the incident possible, and that any disciplinary action probably would fall upon the entire Annapolis establishment in such a way as to keep the corps within more stringent limitations.

Attended Game. Both Secretary Denby and Secretary Weeks of the War department, together with many of the highest officers of the army and navy, attended the game in Philadelphia, but it was said that the War department had no information that any of the cadets from West Point conducted themselves improperly.

Secretary Denby said that he would not bring up at the cabinet meeting Tuesday the question of the relationship between the midshipmen's conduct and the demonstration and said that the investigation to be conducted would be based on a matter of military discipline entirely.

Worshippers Rob Deacon. San Francisco, Nov. 27.—As the vespers service congregation fled out of the First Congregational church last night, two worshippers, dapper young men, slipped upstairs into the secretary's office.

Charles N. Bufford, deacon, who was counting silver offerings, more than $200, received from the ushers, was offered $5 in currency by one of the men. When he reached to accept the contribution, he was looking into a revolver. The pair bound and gagged him, emptied the coin into a canvas bag and departed.

Gilinsky in a Break in Michigan

Leader of Hijacker Band, Serving Life for Murder, Crawls to Freedom Through Steam Tunnel. Headed to Omaha, Belief

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 27.—(Special)—Dave Gilinsky of Omaha was one of 15 convicts who escaped from Marquette prison here Sunday afternoon by crawling through a steam pipe tunnel. Gilinsky was serving life for murder.

Gilinsky was accused of robbing the bank at Grass Lake, Mich., July 29, 1920, of $89,000 with three companions. The bandits were trapped a few hours later in a club house at a nearby lake resort. In the gun fight which followed Gilinsky was alleged to have shot and killed Undersheriff Harry Wordan.

Gilinsky is believed to be headed back to Omaha. After his arrest Gilinsky was identified as the bandit who slew a watchman during a robbery in Ohio. Mother Kept in Ignorance. Mrs. Hymen Gilinsky, 65, 2508 Franklin street, received the news of her son's escape incredulously.

"Why, how could he?" she exclaimed. "He had only a year to serve. He would have come home to me in another year. Now—" She dropped her hands in the helplessness of the situation. Although Gilinsky had been sentenced to serve two life terms in prison for shooting a Michigan under-sheriff, the story has been kept secret from his mother, who lives in a world of dreams in which her son, caught in had company, is serving a three-year term in prison as a penalty for having been with crooks.

While the mother talked a daughter stationed herself behind her chair and signaled and pleaded mutely with visitors not to reveal the secret. Her frail body shaking with emotion until the daughter begged her to keep still lest she collapse, Mrs. Gilinsky leaned forward, peering through spectacles half hiding dimming eyes, and revealed a mother's faith. "Who says Dave is a bad boy?" she challenged. "He's not; he's a good boy. He just got mixed up with bad company. He writes me long letters, telling me how he looks forward to the end of next year, when he will be released. He was coming right back to me, back to my arms. I can't understand why he wanted to escape, for now it may be more than a year, much more, before I see him."

Mrs. Gilinsky does not read and her family has let her dream on, reading for her newspaper accounts of the man's career to suit her illusions and creating "a guard" to protect her from the tongues of neighbors who might let information slip. Once a day her married daughter, a neighbor, visits the mother to keep the dream unshattered.

"She won't believe anything about Dave," the daughter declared. "You know how mothers are. But Dave has disgraced us all. You don't know him? Well, you haven't missed it." Dave Gilinsky's wife is said to be in Sioux City. "Mother likes her all right," the daughter said. "She's Dave's wife." In Omaha Gilinsky was a gambler and leader of a band of hijackers.

Standard Oil of Indiana Would Double Capital Stock. Chicago, Nov. 27.—(By A. P.)—Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana called a stockholders' meeting for December 28 to vote on a proposal to increase the capital stock from $140,000,000 to $280,000,000 through a stock dividend of 100 per cent.

Col. Robert J. Stewart, chairman of the board, explained that the company's surplus as of September 30 was $124,848,000 and that it was desirable to convert most of the surplus into capital. Of the $140,000,000 authorized capital stock, only $109,700,000 has been issued so that an increase up to $280,000,000 will permit of a 100 per cent stock dividend and leave a surplus of $130,000,000.

Notables Greet French "Tiger" at Windy City

Gens. Pershing, Dawes and Dickinson Welcome Clemenceau—Received by Mayor at City Hall. Chicago, Nov. 27.—(By A. P.)—Georges Clemenceau, "Tiger" of France, was welcomed to Chicago this afternoon by Gen. John J. Pershing, Gen. Charles G. Dawes, Gen. Jacob Dickinson, former secretary of war, and a host of notables.

After a ceremonial call at the office of Mayor William Hale Thompson the former premier went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer, whose guest he will be during his two-day visit here.

Thousands of cheering people lined the route from the railroad depot to the Palmer home on Lake Shore drive. Led by a troop of cavalry, the "Tiger," seated beside Gen. Pershing, was escorted in triumph to the city hall.

At the city hall the mayor and city officials received M. Clemenceau at his resort in his private office. After an exchange of greetings and introductions the "Tiger" posed with General Pershing and the mayor for a newspaper picture. The entire ceremony at the city hall consumed less than four minutes.

M. Clemenceau will rest at the Palmer home tonight. No plans have been made for Tuesday morning, but in the afternoon at 4 he will address an audience at the Auditorium.

Will Speak Monday. Aboard Clemenceau's Private Car Enroute to Chicago, Nov. 27.—(By A. P.)—Deep in a campaign for France that already has brought attacks by democrats as well as republicans on the senate floor, and criticism from the British government, Georges Clemenceau, "Tiger" of France, today declared he would speak his piece out in his own way, no matter whom he offended.

The French premier on two days, it was learned today, has received dozens of telegrams from friends and well-wishers of France urging him to tone down his remarks so that they will not offend that portion of the nation he came to win. One telegram urged him to "say things that America wants to hear and be expeditious."

"I did not come here to be an expeditious man," Clemenceau declared when he received this message. "I came to tell the truth. I did not come to say the pleasing things, but to say the things that would be of value in my judgment to help preserve the peace of the world."

Reckless Driving Legislation Urged

Attorney Proposes Lobby for Laws to Punish Drivers Who Kill or Injure. Lincoln, Nov. 27.—(Special)—Following two deaths in Lincoln in a week from automobile accidents, Charles E. Matson, Lancaster county attorney, has written to the Lincoln Automobile club, urging the organization to put a lobby in the legislature this winter to insure passage of the following laws:

Force every auto owner in Nebraska to bond or insure his car to protect any persons he might injure or kill.

Force every driver to take out a license and empower officials to revoke and cancel licenses when careless or fast driving is proved against the owner.

Provide for impounding automobiles in event of frequent and continued violation of traffic laws.

"It is a sad commentary of our social organization that human life is cheaper than property," Matson said. "Every month we send men to the penitentiary for this county for theft of automobiles, but juries are not so quick to condemn a man for the penitentiary for the taking of human life with an automobile."

"The activities of all automobile organizations may well be and should be extended to include all violations of the motor vehicle law."

Mrs. Phillips Sentenced From 10 Years to Life. Los Angeles, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Clara Phillips, convicted of murder in the second degree for killing Mrs. Alberta Meadows with a hammer, was sentenced to serve from 10 years to life in the state penitentiary at San Quentin. A 10-day stay was asked to permit her to formulate an appeal from the judgment and sentence.

Both the judge who heard the case and the attorney who defended Mrs. Phillips were ill. Judge Paul J. McCormick heard and denied a motion for a new trial and imposed the sentence. Mrs. Phillips, asked if she had any thing to say before sentence was pronounced, answered simply "no."

State in Battle With Bankers for Interest on Taxes

Tax Commissioner Telegraphs Treasurers to Refuse Part Payments of Overdue Taxes Pending Suits. Lincoln, Nov. 27.—(Special)—The state of Nebraska was plunged today into a fight with state and national banks to keep them from escaping their interest on overdue taxes.

W. H. Osborne, state tax commissioner, wired today to all county treasurers, instructing them to refuse proffers being made by banks of part payment of their full taxes pending determination of validity of taxes imposed in suits filed in federal and state courts.

"If we accepted a part of these payments," said Mr. Osborne, "it would mean that it would be impossible to collect the interest on taxes. Personal property taxes become a lien November 1 and draw interest from and after December 1 and are subject to distraint after February 1 next succeeding the year in which the assessment was made."

He said in his telegram to the treasurers that the legislature had instructed them to collect all or none of the taxes and that they should not deviate from such instructions pending determination of these suits.

"E. M. Morsman of Omaha has started this move of the bankers," continued Mr. Osborne. "He is the same man who is directing the Northwestern Bell Telephone company in its fight to attempt to get 35 per cent more revenue from its patrons than it obtained before the war."

Changes in Subsidy Bill Approved

Thirty-Seven Amendments Are Fired at Administration Measure in House—Six Proposals Adopted.

Washington, Nov. 27.—(By A. P.)—Thirty-seven amendments in the shape of amendments were fired at the administration shipping bill in the house today and six hit spots more or less vital.

At adjournment the bill had covered exactly one-third of its tempestuous voyage toward the senate. Representative Graham of Illinois, a republican, went home with three of the half dozen amendments in his shooting bag, all of which were put through with the aid of republican voters. Early in the fight Representative Edmunds, Pennsylvania, ranking republican of the merchant marine committee which framed the bill, formally announced on the floor that the section under which the Standard Oil company, for example, would share in the government subsidy for transporting its oil in its own ships would be struck out bodily.

In the view of western republicans, added to its chance of passage. Tax Rebate Killed. Rated as the most important amendment to stand up was the Graham proposal which cut out of the bill the provision under which shippers, sending their goods abroad in American vessels would receive a 5 per cent income tax rebate which, in some instances, it was charged would have enabled some shippers to escape all payments. It was adopted by a vote of 56 to 47 after it had been characterized by Mr. Graham as "vicious and extremely dangerous."

Stepping in unexpectedly, Representative Oliver, democrat, Alabama, presented an amendment, acceptance of which virtually fixed an upset price for the sale of the steamship Leviathan, the biggest of the government fleet. This provided that the Leviathan, now being reconditioned, should not be sold at a price less than the cost of reconditioning. Precise figures obtained tonight from the appropriations committee showed that this cost was $8,166,000. First demand to strike out a section permitting the shipping board to sell ships without advertisement or competitive sale.

A dozen members were eager to discuss it, but a vote was demanded and the motion was adopted almost unanimously. The other Graham amendment increased the rate of interest on unpaid balances for ships bought from the government from not less than 4 per cent to not less than 4.4 per cent. Representative Frear, republican, Wisconsin, sought to make it 6 per cent flat, but failed.

An amendment by Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas, providing that no government employe should be interested financially in the purchase of government ships was passed with little opposition. Out of many offered, Representative Davis, Tennessee, democratic member of the shipping board, got through an amendment providing that prospective ship constructors, borrowing from the shipping board revolving fund, should pay not less than 4.4 per cent interest instead of 2 per cent, as stipulated in the bill.

Choice Off Debate. Touching briefly on the plan to eliminate the section dealing with subsidy for industrial ships, Mr. Edmunds said he was preparing an amendment to protect industrial ships. Representative Dickinson, republican, Iowa, one of the farm bloc leaders, failed in his effort to have farmers exporting products put on an equal basis with shippers by revising an income tax rebate. His amendment was offered to the income tax rebate section, which was later voted out.

The provision in the bill stipulating that one-half of the total number of immigrants admitted to the United States should be brought over in American ships, was attacked but it remained unchanged. There was little of the debate which usually attends the consideration of important house bills. The ship bill leaders shut it off by motions.

Meeting an hour ahead of time Tuesday the house still plunged into the section relating to direct government aid to ships. The bill will come up for a vote on final passage Wednesday afternoon, after which the house will quit over Thanksgiving.
