

Jury Finds Vogue Proprietor Guilty of Liquor Selling

Charles Moore to Receive Sentence Monday—Jurors Deliberate Less Than Half Hour on Case.

Charles Moore, proprietor of the Vogue cabaret, in the Millard hotel, was found guilty on two charges of liquor-selling by a federal jury, out less than half an hour, Tuesday afternoon.

E. M. Ebbert was found guilty jointly with Moore but charges against Willie Hall and L. A. Overly, indicted in the same case, were dismissed. Overly rose from a stool to attend the trial.

Judge Woodrough said he would pronounce sentence Monday. A vivid word picture of the Vogue cabaret at the peak of its glory, was painted on the witness stand by W. J. King, federal prohibition enforcement agent.

"We were there the night of April 25," King told the jury. "William C. Cooper, a federal officer from Des Moines was with me.

"We arrived about 12:30 a. m. The lights were bright and shining. There were tables scattered about the floor. A piano was playing. Couples were dancing. There was an unmistakable air of gaiety and festivity.

"We sat down at a table and pretty soon a couple of girls came over and sat with us.

"Then we bought a couple of drinks.

"The girls were with us when we bought the drinks."

Edward E. Evans, another federal agent, testified he bought liquor at the Vogue cabaret on October 19 and October 12.

Rogers Gains 20 Pounds; Feels Like a Boy

"I have actually gained twenty pounds by taking Tanlac and am now as healthy as when I was a school boy," recently declared George Rogers, 426 California Ave., Chicago, Ill., dining car steward on the Grand Trunk Railway between Chicago and Detroit.

"Before I took Tanlac indigestion and loss of appetite had pulled me down until a trip on the road would almost completely exhaust me, and I would get home feeling so nervous I seldom got any restful sleep.

"Since taking Tanlac I feel so well that my run is a pleasure and I get back home feeling as spry and active as when I start out. I haven't a touch of indigestion or nervousness, eat when and what I want and sleep like a top. One of the boys on the road put me on to Tanlac and I want to pass the good news on. It is grand."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Nicholas Named to Throne by Czarists

Czar Nicholas

A secret meeting held in Paris, attended by the survivors of the czarist regime in Russia, has ended with the announcement that Grand Duke Nicholas, former commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, was elected to the throne of the late Czar Nicholas. This group of Russian nobles, monarchists, are all that are left of the movement for restoring czarism in Russia.

Lions Hear About Chinese Affairs

Representatives of American Concern in China, Depict Life of Yellow Man.

Omaha Lions roared a welcome yesterday to A. P. Nightengale of San Francisco, who talked on domestic affairs in China. Mr. Nightengale represented an American concern in China for two years, and became familiar with the commercial customs and habits of the people in the back country as well as in the large cities.

President Haswell read a lengthy communication from Governor McKelvie who extended "executive clemency" to certain of the "cooks," who have won for themselves the distinctive title of "jailbirds." He also read a statement which shows that the "jailbirds" have the best attendance record of any of the club's several groups.

"Bob" Hall of the Orphanum bill entertained the club and their guests, with extempore verse, dealing with the proceedings of the meeting.

President Haswell also gave notice that two important amendments to the laws of the club will be voted on at the business meeting in December.

A new "den" of Lions will be instituted at Hartington on Monday next, and District Governor Merle Taylor of The Omaha Bee and a large escort from Omaha will make the occasion a notable one.

Friends of Bootlegger Accompany Him to Jail

Bootleggers have friends, even when they are headed for jail, so Deputy United States Marshal Lee Weekes discovered Monday when he escorted a South Thirteenth street man to the county jail for a 60-day stay. Two of his friends, in spite of Weekes' protests, insisted on accompanying him and the officer to the jail. They rode up on the elevator with him to the jail floor and argued with the jailer to let them go inside.

One of these friends was once a city food inspector. The other is said to be a fire department captain.

Dunn to Sing Solo at City Hall Today

Henry W. Dunn, police commissioner, is on the city hall musical program for a solo this afternoon at 5. The plan is to have the officials and employees of the various floors of the city hall appear at their respective balconies when rendering their numbers. The young women of the Metropolitan Utilities district headquarters are planning to give a real demonstration of their vocal abilities.

This event will be under the auspices of the City Hall Glee club and will be in connection with music week activities. Ida Levin, Gertrude Smith and Charles Haverstock will sing "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia." All will join in several oldtime numbers, however.
