"Two Merry Tramps."

This great company, which appears here Thursday, October 31st, will be without doubt the best and largest organization to visit us this year, and the theatre should, and no doubt will, be packed to the doors, as already many parties have been organized in near by towns and a large outside attendance is assured. The company comes highly recommended and a great entertainment is promised. One of the principle features is the Indian opera which will be given in the second act. Seats will go with a rush, so all should be on hand when they open. Reserved seats 50 cents.

T. J. Mill of Arnold had sale bills printed at this office last week advertising his personal property consisting of cattle, hogs, horses, farm machinery corn and house hold goods for sale, at public auction at his place of residence Tuesday November 13, beginning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Hill expects to remove to Oregon about the middle of next month.

This office acknowledges a friendly call from Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Higgins, of Comstock last Saturday. Mr. Higgins is one of the subscribers of the Republican, who has taken it since it first started in 1882. It is a matter of pleasure to us to know that he is one of our best citizens and is a prosperous farmer, and is reaping a fine harvest this year in selling high priced hogs. We have frequently observed that the farmers and business men who patronize the Republican are those who prosper. The merchants, banks, farmers and business men who have failed in business in the past ten years, as a rule, did not patronize the Republican. All who want to be in good company should unite with us. Politics is no bar.

Found—An overcoat. The owner can have it by calling on Mrs. Elizabeth Sell, in the northwest part of the city, proving property and paying for this notice.

At the conclusion of the address yesterday, a reception was given to John Haney of Merna in which Mr. Bryan participated. John is deservedly popular and has many friends among his old neighbors in Broken Bow.

"The evening service was completely turned over to Mr. Griggs, whose rare versatility and magnetism held the spellbound attention of the overflowing audience through two hours of sweltering heat as he rung through the changes of his kaleidoscopic genius of poem and song and it is safe to say that never did a more grateful audience enjoy and appreciate a more fascinating feast. "Splendid!" "Wonderful!" "Miraculous!" were the expressions of our citizens who were fortunate in being wise enough to by an early arrival, secure a seat,—or standing room."—Garden City herald.

Rev. L. W. Chandler will occupy the pulpit in the Methodist church the coming year. Mr. Chandler was the pastor here in 1894. He will be welcomed back by his many friends.

In Gelo Quies. In memory of George Brownlee Mullin. Beyond the white line of starry outpost Files a pure and ransomed soul; To a radiant palm-crowned goal; At "Rest in Heaven" amid God's serried hosts.

Out of his slumber will be no wakening To sorrows of earth again; To midnight vigils and psalms, And of loyal hearts who level him no breaking.

From the eteralities messages come As dawn's come from Orient hills, And songs from Sion's rills: Weep not for those whom God hath taken home.

Good-bye! Atropus cuts the fatal cord, Fields of night break on thine eyes; Gates ajar bring sweet surprise, Where thou shalt be forever with the Lord. Remont Maus. —BENJ. H. HUNT.
