Thou dear Lenette! A bride is indeed for many days, to every one who does not marry her, and especially to me, a poor meagre shew-bread, but I except one hour, the hour on the morning of the wedding day, when the hitherto free girl, trembling in her finery, overgrown with flowers and feathers, soon with like ones to be plucked out by destiny; with anxious, pious eyes, which for the last time and the loveliest, shed their tears on the mother's bosom; when standing adorned on the depends chiefly on industry and frascaffolding of joy she celebrates so many partings and one sole meeting; and when the mother turns away from her and goes to her other children, abandoning the anxious girl to a stranger; this hour, I say, touches me.

The Bride.

Thou joyfully throbbing heart, I then think, not always wilt thou beat thus in thy sultry years of married life; but often wilt thou shed thine own blood that thou mayest more freely step down the path that leads to old age, even as the chamois hunters support themselves by the blood of their own heels. Then do I feel tempted to go out to the virgins who stand by the wayside that leads to the church, looking on with envious eyes, and say to them: "Do not grudge the poor girl so much the rapture of a perhaps fleeting delusion. Ah! like her ye see to-day the beauty and strife-apple of marriage hanging only on the sunny side of love, so red and so soft, but green sour side, hidden by the shade, no one sees. And if ye have ever pitied from the bottom of Stamps taken. your hearts an unfortunate wife who chanced ten years. after marriage, to pull out of a drawer her old bridal dress, while all the tears which ness .- [New York News. she had shed in those ton years over her sweet delusion pressed into her eyes at once, do ye then know so surely that it will be otherwise with the envied one Voltaic Belts and Electric App"iances on trial who now flits past you so gayly and so for thirty days to men (young or old) who brightly ?"

ST. LOUIS, Mo. - A Chroncicle reporter was told by Mr. Altred J. It cured the young man, and he recommends it as the greatest cure for pains in the world.

That splendid compound Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is daily given medals finer than men ever dreamed of, i. e., the unsolicited compliments of thousands whom it has freed from aches, sprains, and pains. Some assert that these men at Chicago were not worthy of their medals, but none of the purchasers of Thomas' Eclectric Oil dare deny that it is entitled to its medals. Its purpose in this world is not the promotion of any one man's interests, but the wellbeing of every human soul. It nominates and elects to comfort with every application. It is certain, efflcient, and economical. It is obviously certain because it is unfailing, efficient because it relieves, and economical because a few drops will cure a bruise, a bite, an ache, or a lameness, a small bottle will cure rheumatism, or neuralgia, and inhaled or swallowed for catarrh and colds its effects are wonderfully beneficial. The sale of Thomas' Eclectric Oil attests its worth; vast quantities of it are shipped daily to all parts of the United States. Every bottle receives a medal—the unqualified and unstinted praises of its purchaser.

GANGERNO Plasters. No Pain. Dr. Ww. C. Payne, Marshalt wa. Iowa THE MINISTER WHO FAILS to interest his congregation and build up his church is generally accused of being a poor preacher, or of not studying hard enough. That is not always where the trouble comes from. Dyspepsia and liver disorders are responsible for many a dull sermon and many a vacant pulpit. When the Dominie's digestive apparatus is working wrong and his nerves are giving him pain, and his brain refuses to do its duty, it is almost impossible to make or to preach a good sermon. . Give your suffering minister a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters. You will see its effect on next Sunday's preaching. The Rev. Mr. Zehring, of Codorus, Pa., was paralyzed, and could not walk except with crutches, until Brown's Iron Bitters made a new man of him. The Rev. Mr. White, of Rock Hill, S. C., says: "It restored me to strength and vigor." Brown's Iron Bitters is not only for the minister, but for all people.
