Memorial day was but slightly observed in our city, Saturday. There were no commemorative exercises, and the only marks of the day were the closing of the postoffice between the hours of 10 and 5, and of our banking houses for a couple of hours.

The unexpected visit of that unmitigated scamp, A. C. Towne, in town, last week, occasioned some uneasiness among some. He is reported as having driven into town, last Thursday, on land business, but his sojourn with us was necessarily limited, we presume, as his presence on our thoroughfares was anything but numerous.

In the line of fine stock, I. J. Starbuck holds the edge on the boys in this vicinity. In addition to the fast horses, purchased by him in Iowa, this spring, with other admirers of fine horseflesh of our town, he has recently purchased from an Iowa gentleman, a number of magnificent draft horses, that are pronounced by competent judges as being perfect specimens.

On Monday evening, Elias Cottrell's bright little boy, who has been sick for a number of days with whooping cough and a dangerous brain complication, passed away from this probationary world. With sad hearts and loving hands the little one's mortal remains were tenderly laid away in the cemetery, Tuesday afternoon. Many sympathetic hearts go out to the bereaved parents in their affliction.

PECCAVI—"We have followed too much the devices and desires of our own hearts." We have mildly suggested the proscribed question of temperance, for which we are not held guiltless. If to man be given the power of forgiveness, remember us. Our offense has been grievous. We are repentant—in sack cloth and ashes.

Church & Bohanan have new potatoes on the market.

The heavy rain, Tuesday night, was accompanied by a brilliant electric display, and quite high wind, which played havoc with sheds and out-buildings, which were scattered promiscuously about in different sections of town. Small's barn was partially unroofed, and Mr. Hocknell's carriage shed was blown over, and his buggy inverted. No particular damage was sustained, however.

Spanogle & Rinker have the Grass Hopper Rod Breaker.

Hayden & Co. have had a watering place put in in front of their store for the accommodation of the traveling public and farmers. Thus is a 'long felt want' of the public filled at last. Of course, it will be understood that the watering trough is not for domestic use, and an observance of this fact will avoid misunderstanding and unpleasantness. These things are long in coming, sometimes, but Elihu gets there in proper style by and by.

Fresh strawberries at the Central Meat Market.

Last Thursday night, while Berger's herd of ponies were in charge of the night herder, the ponies became frightened, or were in some manner disturbed and put in motion, and ran into Dr. Kay's barbed wire fence north of town, mutilating eleven head of them badly. The horses ran into the fence at the corner of the doctor's pasture and took the wire, posts and all down "sleek and clean" for about twenty rods on each side, carrying the wire and posts into the field quite a distance before the animals became disentangled from it. The services of a veterinary surgeon were required to sew up some of the gaping wounds.

A full line of Pumps and Pump fittings, at Spanogle & Rinker's.

The eight-year-old boy of S. Plunkett met with an accident, Saturday, in which he sustained some painful, though not serious injuries. The little fellow was riding on a wagon loaded with stone, and was by some means, jolted off in front of the wagon, the front wheel of the same running over his leg between the ankle and the knee. The accident occurred in the bottom, where the sand is quite deep, which fact probably saved the boy's leg from being crushed by the heavily loaded wagon. As it was, his leg was pretty badly bruised and lacerated, though not broken. The boy's back was also painfully injured in falling out over the wheel.

Go to Church & Bohanan for your fresh peas.

The order which went into effect June 1st, authorizing the agents at Lincoln and McCook to sell extension tickets to land seekers, as far west as Denver, at 2 1/2 cent rate, is misunderstood by many. The rate only applies to those parties coming from points east of the Missouri river, who hold round trip tickets. To such these agents are authorized to sell extension tickets at the above rate, and to none others. This rate, it will be seen, will not effect one traveler in a hundred. Were the rate applicable to all who desire to enter land west of here, the advantage to the country would be considerable—as the 4 cent rate has been and will continue to be a draw-back.

For pumps and pipes go to Spanogle & Rinker.

It would appear that the young man, George W. Pate, now in the hands of Sheriff Welborn, self-convicted of having obtained money from the Red Willow County Bank of Indianola under false pretences, is not an object upon which to waste much sympathy, as he has played the same game on other business men, among the number being Spanogle & Rinker of our city, from whom he purchased a plow, giving as security a chattel mortgage on his cattle, of which he seems to have had a fine bunch of 90 head—in his mind. Unlike the bank, however, Spanogle & Rinker succeeded in recovering their property. We fear that George Washington himself arranged the preliminaries for a season of penance in the state's prison.

Smoked meats and fresh lard at Church & Bohanan's market.

A second meeting of our citizens in connection with the Fourth of July Celebration was held in the Opera Hall, Friday evening last, with a much larger attendance than the previous meeting. Chas. The report was accepted, and the committee continued, with authority to collect. The following officers were then elected: President of the Day, I. J. Starbuck. Vice-President from McCook, C. F. Babcock. Vice-Pres. from Indianola, H. M. Ashmore. Vice-Pres. from Culbertson, H. B. Straut. Marshal of the Day, Dr. Z. L. Kay. Treasurer, V. Franklin. Secretary, F. M. Kimmell. MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.—The Board of Trustees met in special session, Wednesday afternoon, to take action on the petition of Hahn and O'Donnell for license. A remonstrance, signed by Messrs. Hocknell, Berger, Menard and others, praying that the Board refuse to license the establishment of two saloons in adjoining buildings, was presented for the consideration of the Trustees. The reasons set forth in the remonstrance were deemed insufficient by a majority of the Board, and the bond of Hahn & O'Donnell was approved, and clerk instructed to issue license to the same. Complaints were entered by Messrs. Chambers and Bohanan concerning the condition of drainage and streets, which forced surface water into their cellars. Also, by residents on South Madison streets concerning the keeping of horses for services, in the city limits, without providing proper concealment from public view. Action was deferred on all the above complaints. Ordinance No. 20, found elsewhere in this issue, was passed, approved and ordered published. Clerk was instructed to prepare ordinances regulating peddling, hawking, fire-works, etc. Adjourned to meet Monday, June 8th.

Call and see Spanogle & Rinker's top Buggies.

The Committee on Appropriations met at Jennings & Starbuck's office, last night, and made the following apportionment of the funds for the Fourth of July Celebration:

FOR FIREWORKS$175 00 FOR AMUSEMENTS..... 100 00 FOR PRINTING..... 25 00 FOR MUSIC..... 75 00 FOR GROUND..... 250 00 FOR SPEAKERS..... 25 00

It is proposed to use the $250 in connection with $150 of the Driving Association's money in erecting a permanent amphitheatre for the use of the present celebration and all other similar public celebrations, fairs, etc. All the committees will meet at the Opera Hall, Friday evening, to further the matter of celebration, and it is to be hoped that there may be a full attendance. It is important that this matter of celebration be carried along promptly and energetically, and then it must needs be a success and a credit to our town. Let everybody interest himself.

Wednesday the Goss family, all except Miss Delia, left for McCook, Neb. They may locate there and they may go to Oberlin, Kansas. The people of Ord were just becoming acquainted with them—enough so to realize that their departure is a loss to the city.—Ord Quiz.

Two German friends held a council, on the morning of Wednesday, within the shadow of Lytle Bro's. implement shed, which for profundity and sonority and gesticulation relegates the Niocene Council into obscurity. Under the gentle, though potent, influence and inspiration of the Teuton's chief and popular beverage, theology in all its intricacies and technique was discussed with the fervor and power of expression, coupled with majestic expressions, (through the medium of various parts of the anatomy) of which the German alone is master. The important matter, it might be of interest to state, was finally settled, after much spiritual wrestling and heart searching, satisfactorily arranged, the council was adjourned sine die, for spirituous refreshments.
