DEFAULTING bank cashiers, tellers and clerks, and absconding postmasters, etc., are holding high carnival, these days.

A FRONTIER county gentleman, C. J.
Mecham by name, has purchased the Cambridge Monitor. Consideration, $1,465.

You can always tell the real business man by his live, crisp advertisements and locals. Fossils don't believe in printer's ink.

ANOTHER newspaper will shortly be issued at Indianola, to cheer Bro. Bishop in his loneliness—and to fill the usual l. f. w. The Watkins brothers of Blue Hill will paddle the canoe.

AFTER July 1st, 1800 post-offices which have heretofore been presidential offices, with a salary of $1,000 or over, will drop from that rank, the result of the change in postage from three to two cents.

THE Conservative party in English politics has succeeded in compassing Gladstone's defeat and the resignation of the entire ministry. They seem to be in about the identical position the boy was who purchased the white elephant.
They don't know what to do with it.

ELWOOD is the name of the station to be on the line of railroad from Hold-redge northwest, which is expected to become the county seat of Gosper county. It is located on a big plateau where the wells will have to be 300 feet to strike water. A prairie dog would never have selected that site for a town.

THE Cuban law respecting newspapers is in the main a most excellent one.
When editors begin the operation of their mud batteries against each other, the government wisely suspends their publication for a season. With the plausible conjecture that the accumulation of bile during the suspension will, without further Providential interference, eliminate one or both of them.

CAPT. PHILLIPS of the Lincoln Land Company has purchased 100 lots in town, and is negotiating for the purchase of many more. . . . Doc. Way was in town over Sunday, shaking hands with his many friends here. He has formed a partnership with Dr. Shaw of McCook, and they will open a branch office at Stratton, to be run in connection with the one at McCook.—Atwood, (Kas.) Democrat.

THE new editor of the Cambridge Monitor occupies two columns of space in making his initial bow to the people of Furnas county. Such verbosity, incoherency, poor grammar, and worse orthography and punctuation should engage the heartfelt sympathy of every philanthropist toward the people of Fur-nas. Bro. Mecham is probably unacquainted with that charming little love ditty, entitled, "Saw my leg off—short."

THE McCook TRIBUNE, in speaking of a couple of men who were arrested there for picking up some old railroad iron for sharpening plows on, says they were from Rawlins county. It's a mistake; they are probably incorporators of the town of Bird City, in Cheyenne county.
Rawlins county men would not have been caught—at such a trick. There is one man in the county who once stole a locomotive; railroad iron is too cheap.— Ludell Settler.

THE editor of the Frontier county News evidently misunderstood or purposely misconstrued our gentle reference of a few weeks since. THE TRIBUNE did not question the good sense or judgment of Frontier county farmers, but rather of the editor of the News, a self-styled granger paper, on rehashing for the benefit of farmers two columns of dry, pointless astronomical observations.
Give them something terrestrial—practical.

Mrs. Lockwood has the credit of formally presenting and asking admission to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States of the first colored lawyer admitted to that distinction. She will stand before the footlights this evening a type, an honored and respected representative of the enfranchisement of woman in this country. A lady who has maintained the dignity of her sex in all the relations of social and public life, and honored the legal profession of which she is a member.—Centralia, Ill., Sentinel.

AN Arkansas postmaster is to be removed as an offensive partisan because he allowed a coon fight in the postoffice.
The reports do not specify whether he was a partisan of the coon or the dog, and until that fact is known the country will not be satisfied with his removal.
If he was backing the coon against the average coon dog, then it will endanger the success of this administration to fire him out. That coon will become a national issue in the next campaign and there is not the slightest doubt but that it will come out on top.—Ex.
