Having just added a bath am prepared to clean silverware of any kind, and make it look bright and fresh as when new. Especially tea sets, water sets, cake and berry dishes that are chased and engravings and which it is impossible for anyone to clean without the use of a bath.

We hear considerable inquiry as to what kind of a school building it is proposed to erect, this fall, to accommodate our largely increased number of school children. From the remarks dropped in our hearing, the desire is for a good building, and not a temporary building, as has been suggested by some.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—M. L. Brown sold his homestead three miles northeast of town, Tuesday, to Michael Houlihan of Nebraska City, for $1,160 cash. Thos. Colfer also sold his timber claim, cornering on the Brown claim to the same gentleman for $800. These quarters are both smooth and make a most desirable half-section. Mr. Houlihan will move onto his place in the spring.

The lumber for a 14x18 ft. hose cart house has been donated by Hallack & Howard and the Badger Lumber Co., half of the hardware by Lytle Bros., half of the labor by Contractor Collins and half by Contractor Staysa, and work on the building will commence at once. These gentlemen have the thanks of the company for their generosity, and we believe the investments made by them will bear big interest.

Joe. Evans and family left, Wednesday noon for McCook, Red Willow county, Nebraska, where they will make their future home. In the departure of Mr. Evans Blue Mound loses one of her best citizens—a man who was always identified with whatever tended to the progress of the community. There will be preaching services at the new Methodist church, next Sunday, after an intermission of two weeks.

The Street Commissioner has been doing some needed work on East Dennison and Dodge streets, this week, in the way of grading, providing water courses.

A fine bunch of Oregon horses, which have been on the trail since May, arrived Sunday. They are a very fine bunch of horses, but come rather late in the season.

MORE PONIES.—D. P. Rogers and his man Friday arrived from Texas, Monday afternoon, with ten car-loads of ponies. This makes the fourth shipment from Texas by Mr. Rogers, this season.

Special No. 15, General Manager Holdredge's car, passed through this place, Tuesday evening, attached to No. 40. The car contained a number of the brass-collared gentry returning from Denver.

THE popular demand for extra TRIBUNES, of last week, was so great that in less than 48 hours after issue our supply of nearly two quires was exhausted, and we were unable to furnish many who called with copies.

It is a noticeable fact that while other mills were blown by the late storm, the ever reliable Challenge Wind Mill stood the test, without the downfall of one, which has given this mill quite a boom. G. B. Nettleton of McCook is agent for them.

The fire ladders are anxious to secure money enough to purchase hooks and ladders for the company, and for this purpose will give a public dance at Opera Hall, to-morrow evening. Let our public spirited citizens give the boys a liberal support.

Would it not be pertinent for prospective candidates to announce themselves? The present attitude of things looks too much like a "still hunt." Show your colors and tell the people of Red Willow what you want, and give the voters time to conclude as to whether they want you or not.

The extensive and wide-awake firm of Frees & Hocknell, last week purchased of W. H. Davenport & Co. their lumber yard at Trenton. John Rudd, who has been in the company's principal yard at this place, went up on Sunday to take charge as manager. John Parsons goes into the yard here to fill the vacancy.

The closing of the banks, lumber yards and a few other places of business, Saturday, was the only external tribute paid to the Old Commander, who was on that day laid away, after the fashion of all flesh, in Riverside Park, New York City. There are many who will keep the great general's memory green.

A flour, feed and commission house has been opened up in the old Starbuck building on Main Avenue by Fry & Snow. The boys are putting things in good shape, have made arrangements for handling the best flour, etc., will deal in butter and eggs, chickens and the like, and THE TRIBUNE wishes them a full measure of prosperity.

Coal sheds for Hallack & Howard and the Badger State Lumber Co. were completed the first of the week, making with Frees & Hocknell, three firms who will handle "black diamonds," this winter. The Badger State Lumber Co.'s sheds are situated east of the Eating House, while Hallack & Howard's are near the ice house at the other end of the yard.

A number of the stockmen of this part of the state have been summoned to appear before the U. S. Land Office at this place, to show cause why the patents and papers to their lands should not be cancelled. Among the number are Messrs. Guernsey and Cooper. Inspector Geo. B. Coburn, who has been operating in this vicinity for some time, is complainant in these cases, which will be a mite interesting, inasmuch as some of the land embraced in the contest is covered with ranch buildings, corrals, etc., and have been for years.

TYPHOID FEVER.—George Wolf, a Benkelman liveryman, who came down to the city, Wednesday of last week, in an almost unconscious condition from typhoid fever, died at the Central House in this city, where he came to undergo treatment, Tuesday. The mortal remains of the young man were laid away, "under the sod and the dew, to await the judgment day," in the cemetery near the city, on Wednesday morning, Rev. Wheeler of the M. E. church officiating. The deceased man's partner was down from Benkelman, last Friday, and as the sick man was unconscious from the time he arrived here and had over $75 in cash in his pocket when he arrived, the partner took occasion to inquire into the state of the sick man's finances. After careful search he was able to find but $20, about $60 having been removed from the unconscious man's clothing. The scoundrel who would commit a theft under these circumstances would be capable of any crime.

J. K. BARNES Post No. 207.—The Joseph K. Barnes Post No. 207, Department of Nebraska, was organized at Menard's Opera Hall, last Thursday evening, by Past Commander Bonnell of Lincoln, assisted by Department Commander Cole, and Adjutant General Shirley of Juniata, with 26 charter members. The following officers were elected and installed: J. A. Wilcox, Commander, C. E. McPherson, Senior Vice-Commander; R. S. Cooley, Junior Vice-Commander; Geo. Huggins, Chaplain; A. J. Willey, Surgeon; V. Franklin, Quarter Master; E. H. McCormick, Officer of the Day; J. G. Eaton, Officer of the Guard; J. H. Yarger, Adjutant; A. P. Sharp, Sergeant Major; W. O. Hurd, Quarter Master Sergeant. The post starts with a goodly number of members, and under favorable auspices, and will doubtless become one of the most prominent societies of our city.

For fine clothing call on E. M. Brickey & Co.

The proposition will shortly be submitted to the patrons of School District No. 1, Red Willow precinct, to bond that district in the sum of $700, for the purpose of securing funds to erect a school building—the district school having hitherto been held in a rented building, and not a very desirable one at that. The district evidently needs a school house, and while bonding is not always the most desirable plan, in this case it is evidently the most practicable one, and will probably receive the support of those who have children to educate, and who have a care as to attending circumstances connected therewith—convenience, health, etc.

A large circle of friends join in expressions of regret at her departure, and wish her much joy in her new home, among the friends and associates of early days.

The trial of John Jones of the McCook Hotel on the charge of assault upon the person of Lena Hanna, an ignorant German girl, with the attempt to commit rape, occupied the attention and severely tested the patience of Justice Harmon Eaton of Driftwood precinct, last Friday, and called together a number of the lords of creation to hear the disgusting details of a most disgraceful and outrageous assault. The only evidence offered was by the counsel for the Commonwealth, in the person of the girl herself, who though timid and ignorant, gave her testimony in as straight-forward, unequivocal a manner as a woman's native delicacy would permit, and clearly proved, what Jones' counsel jocularly admitted, an assault upon the person of the ignorant and unsophisticated German girl, who so lately arrived in this land of the free and placed herself under the protection of our laws and flag, where the virtue of our women is supposed to receive the protection of law and of every chivalric, manly citizen. While a TRIBUNE representative was present throughout the trial and noted closely important evidence, we will not punish an innocent public with the disgusting details of a nasty case. The counsel for the defense offered no testimony whatever, and simply moved the Court to dismiss the case, on the plea of lack of evidence to sustain the charge, and on this motion based their speeches. It was noticeable, that the burden of the defense's remarks were not, as is usually the case in similar trials, to build up a previous good character for the accused, but the rather to acknowledge the substance of the charge preferred, and to attempt to exonerate their client on the plea, that being an individual of vigorous manhood (?) he only did what "ninety-nine out of every hundred men (?) would have done under similar circumstances," and in further assaying to make it appear to the Court that, because of some comparatively harmless improprieties allowed by the girl because of her ignorance of the import of such attentions at the hands of an individual of the stamp of Jones, the girl was evidently leading Jones on, that the woman was the palpable assailant. The testimony clearly shows and it is not denied, that Jones made the assault, and it simply remains for the jury to decide as to how great violence upon the part of the man, and how great resistance on the part of the woman constitutes an attempt at rape. THE TRIBUNE is of opinion that a jury composed of men who have wives and daughters to protect against such assaults, will not be long in deciding, and will punish men who thus assail purity and innocence as they richly deserve. Clear as the sun at noon day it is, that the outeries and resistance of the girl, however loud and however vigorous, alone kept Jones from accomplishing his damnable purpose, and his guilt remains. Justice Eaton was not long in arriving at a verdict, and Jones was promptly bound over to the next term of District Court, which convenes in November, and in default of $1,000 bonds, was placed in the hands of Sheriff Welborn, and he is now boarding at the expense of the county in the new jail.

NOTES.

Justice Eaton takes things cool, makes his decisions promptly and sustains them and the questionable methods, language and sentiment of some of the counsel for defense, did not strengthen their case an iota. The Justice, not being that kind of a man, failed utterly of appreciation—and rightly.

Chas. Tanner, the $100-and-expenses attorney from Hastings, signally failed to convince the Court as to the GUILT of the girl. Says Mr. Tanner, after making repeated use of the homely old saw about the "Mountain laboring and bringing forth a mole," in a burst of transcendently oratorical wind, "Paralyzed by my tongue, and paralyzed by my right arm, etc., if I ever say anything derogatory to woman," and with the next breath stigmatizes with unmeasured severity the slightest improprieties allowed by the ignorant peasant. Tanner's standard of men and women may suit his own particular case, but few will accept it.

STRICTLY CASH.—Mr. Hayden informs us that on and after August 15th an entire change will be inaugurated in the mode of transacting business in that establishment. The business of the Pioneer Store has grown to such proportions that it is no longer deemed advisable to continue the credit system. The management are of the opinion that a strictly cash basis will be most advantageous to them and their customers. A strictly cash business, therefore, after the above date, will be transacted over their counters. The firm is now laying in the largest and best quality of stock ever brought into the Republican Valley, in anticipation of an immense trade this fall and winter.

Sweet Michigan Cider of excellent quality at the City Bakery.
