On a writ of habeas corpus, John Jones had a hearing before Acting County Judge Johnson at Indianola, Tuesday, when his bail was reduced from $1,000 to $300. Jones has been in town since the trial and we suppose he has been able to secure the necessary $300 bail. Indianola, however, is quite a celebrated health resort.

The annual camp meeting of the M. E. church of this district will be held in Hunter's Grove, near Culbertson, commencing with August 31st. Preparations for the accommodation of a large concourse of people are being made. A large boarding tent, and smaller ones for families, will be on the grounds. A cordial invitation is extended to all the members and friends of the denomination to be present.

In view of the handsome donations to the fire company by those public spirited citizens, Messrs. George Hocknell, Hallack & Howard, The Badger State Lumber Co., J. F. Collins, Lytle Bros., Pratt & Lawson, S. N. Staysa and others, would it not have been eminently proper had the use of the Opera Hall been donated to the boys—as they expected—instead of charging them $5? A little generosity might have been wasted on such a deserving enterprise as the fire company with good effect.

Last Thursday evening, Judge Lucas and fellow attorney Starr, while gracefully gliding along Dennison street in a dog cart drawn by the Judge's handsome black charger, met with a mishap in front of THE TRIBUNE office, which fortunately resulted in very slight damage or injury to property or person. Both were deposited upon the ground sans ceremony, and Mr. Starr received a slight injury, and had his clothes torn some. All because of a weak axle.

The acting comptroller of currency on the 18th inst. authorized the First National Bank of McCook to commence business with a capital of $50,000. The directors and officers of the new establishment are the same as the McCook Banking Co., which will be merged into the First National as soon as the business of the former can be closed and the other necessary arrangements can be made. It is expected to open up under the new regime about September 1st. The directors are Geo. Hocknell, President; B. M. Frees, Vice-President; F. L. Brown, Cashier, Supt. A. Campbell and R. O. Phillips. The First National will start out with a heavy capital stock, backed by the government and the above responsible directory, and is destined to become one of the most stable financial institutions in Western Nebraska.

$200 OUT OF POCKET—W. C. Bullard of Culbertson lost a pocket book, Saturday afternoon, at Drysdale's merchant tailoring establishment, (where he was having his measure taken for a suit of clothing,) under very suspicious circumstances. Mr. Bullard had laid his pocket book containing in bills $165 and a check of $35 on the bench, while being measured, and left the establishment and walked over to Walsh & Boyd's saloon before noticing that he did not have the wallet in his pocket. He at once returned to the shop, but a careful search failed to bring forth the missing article. Charlie Johnson, who was in the shop at the time Mr. Bullard was being measured, was arrested and held for hearing before Justice Colvin, who discharged him for the lack of evidence, which, though circumstantial, we are informed, was uncomfortably strong. Subsequent developments have largely strengthened that evidence, but W. C. is out of pocket just the same, though he feels pretty certain who is "flush" at his expense.

Considerable excitement was occasioned on our streets, Friday, by the report that another assault had been made upon the person of a female in our city, this time by a man named Jackson upon Mrs. Howell of South McCook. The man was arrested and at the trial, which occurred the same afternoon before Esquire Colvin, the following facts were elicited: It appears that Jackson has an interest in a brick yard situated near the Howell residence, and that he while under the malignant influence of tangle-foot, went to the house and demanded some milk to drink, upon Mrs. Howell's failure to comply with his imperative request he used most indecent and insulting language, thoroughly frightening the timid little woman, who managed to send word to Mr. Howell at the depot, by her little boy. By the time Howell reached home Jackson had retreated to a shanty at the brick yard to sleep off the effects of the liquor, with which he was well loaded. Howell finding his wife greatly excited over the occurrence, being justly incensed, starts over to the brick yard to find Jackson, whose robustness personality he purposed in his heart to thoroughly thump; and just here we want to submit the only criticism we have in this case, Mr. Howell was lacking in judgment in "bearing the lion in his den, the Douglas in his hall." Especially when the thing to be "poked up" has the pugilistic record of Jackson. The result was, that in the short encounter, which ensued after Jackson was awaked from his drunken slumbers, Mr. Howell was pretty badly used up, being stabbed in the face and hand by a potato fork, inflicting painful, though not serious wounds. These facts being established before the court, Jackson was discharged. Mr. Howell should have allowed the law to take its course, or hired a "bigger man" to give Jackson a well-merited thumping.

Hallack & Howard for Lumber and all kinds of Building Material.

Fifty-five different claims, mostly timber claims, are now under contest at the local U. S. Land Office, charges of fraud and failure to comply with the law having been preferred against the parties who entered the same by Inspector Coburn. Weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth, special affidavits and happy land agents are among the clear indications, while the probabilities are that Mr. Coburn has been misled in many cases by some spiteful individuals, who take this means of working out a grudge. A number of the cases have come under our observation, and the entrymen feel bitterly aggrieved.

Hallack & Howard for Lumber and all kinds of Building Material.

This is the season of pic-nics and ice cream sociables. A Sunday School picnic is advertised to be held in Dolph's grove, two miles east of Danbury, Saturday, August 29th; while the members of the Ash Creek Methodist church announce an ice cream sociable at their church, next Thursday evening, August 27th. Cordial invitations are extended in both cases.

SERIOUSLY ILL.—Grave doubts are entertained by the physicians in attendance as to the recovery of Mrs. S. A. Rowell, who has been seriously ill for the past week. A very delicate operation was performed, Tuesday, in hopes of saving her life, but up to the time of our going to press very little hope is entertained. Mrs. Rowell's three sons are here from Iowa, and the entire family are tearfully awaiting the result.
