Others than our patrons seem to be fully appreciating the reliability of THE TRIBUNE as a local reporter; and our excellent job work is doing yeoman's service as specimens by those having less taste and originality.

A half interest in the Cedar Bluff grist mill has been purchased by B. B. Duckworth of Danbury. Mr. D., who is a miller by trade, we are informed, purposes purchasing the other half interest, and managing the business alone.

Two of those inevitable bronchos attached to a light spring wagon, "cut a dash" through town, Saturday afternoon, creating momentary excitement, damaging G. M. F. Chessington's buggy somewhat and making a very creditable running record.

R. A. Cole, fashionable merchant tailor, has constantly on hand as fine a class of goods as can be procured. Suits made up in the latest style, and perfect fits guaranteed. Prices reasonable. Shop two doors west of Citizens Bank, McCook, Nebraska.

On Friday, October 16th, the third day of the Driving Association's horse fair, Hon. James Laird of Hastings, congressman from this district, will deliver a speech before those in attendance at the fair. "Our Jeems" stands without a peer as an orator in this state, and will doubtless draw a crowd.

The firm of Anguish & Co. of Arapahoe will on Monday commence buying and shipping grain at this station. They will pay as much for grain delivered here as at any point in the valley, west of Oxford. We take pleasure in making known the fact that a grain market is thus established. It has been needed, and will be appreciated.

The following is the delegation elected last Saturday, to represent Willow Grove precinct in the county convention to be held at Indianola, next Saturday: S. L. Green, A. E. Lytle, Thos. McNairy, J. A. Wilcox, J. E. Berger, I. J. Starbuck, R. B. Archibald, F. L. McCracken, F. M. Kimmell, C. H. Phillips, L. N. Howe, W. H. Dolan, A. H. Davis, Ed. McKay.

Walker.

It is quite laughable indeed how THE TRIBUNE makes some of the little animals squirm and squeal—for a paper devoid of influence.

The residences of H. G. Dixon and Charlie Ward on North McDowell street are enclosed and roofed and are being pushed along toward completion as fast as possible.

The erection of a Hotel des Invalides by Dr. Bogan of Hamburg, Iowa, is contemplated. Such an establishment, with the pure air of this altitude, would attract many invalids hither.

A gentleman by the name of Samuel Goldberg of Hamburg, Iowa, was in town, the first of the week, looking up a location for a clothing store, but being disappointed in getting the quarters he expected to get he returned home, but may return next spring.

A special train, composed of the private cars of President Perkins and General Manager Holdrege, rolled into this station, yesterday afternoon. The president continued his journey to Denver, shortly thereafter, while the general manager went east, attached to No. 40, the same evening.

The prospects for a large attendance at the horse fair, Oct. 14-17, are encouraging and increasing, and the question of entertainment comes prominently to the front. Our transient population is already large, and the fair will necessarily draw largely upon the lodging facilities outside of the hotels.

Yesterday morning, the preliminaries were arranged whereby John W. Palmer of Washington, Ill., came into the possession of the Stays residence, for the consideration of $1,200. We understand that Mr. Palmer intends moving to McCook and making this his future home. Possession of the above property to be given in thirty days.

Almost every cross-roads post-office in the union is a postal note and post-office order office, while our proud little city has neither. One who is so unfortunate as to receive either the note or the order has to go to Indianola, or to send, to have the same cashed. We suggest that this is enterprising—and ridiculous in the superlative degree.

The brick store room east of Pade & Son's furniture store on West Dennison street, is being shelved, preparatory to its being occupied as a general store. The firm who have this enterprise in hand, is comprised of a man from York state and an Oxford, this state, business man, and they have agreed to put in a $12,000 stock of goods at the outset. Although the field seems to be pretty well occupied, yet, like the omnibus, there is always room for one more enterprise in this country.

We recognize the fact that one of the most troublesome questions with which all new countries have to contend is that of roads; and that a lack of proper roadways works disadvantageously to any town. We further submit the proposition that the trade from the north as well as south could be largely increased were more attention given to the highways leading therefrom to our city. Nature favors travel to the eastward on the level divide; but were the roads properly worked across the intervening canyons, this point would be largely benefited. Let us be alert to our best interests.

Is it not an unfavorable reflection upon the enterprise of our city that we have no mail routes running north and south? Why should the metropolis of the Upper Republican Valley play second fiddle to towns no larger than some of her suburbs. As the most important commercial centre in this part of the state, it were a gross injustice to have matters longer continue in their present aspect. The business interests of McCook and the convenience of those occupying the large scope of country north and south tributary thereto, demand imperatively the establishment of this route. What stands in the way of its accomplishment save our own negligence?

About the middle of October, Prof. Webster purposes opening his season of entertainments for the benefit of the public schools, with a lecture by Chancellor Manatt of the State University. Lectures and concerts and other entertainments will follow in due time, and the professor expects to secure the following talent, all of which are familiar in a greater or less degree to our people: Major Dane, (now lecturing in the Sandwich Islands,) Mrs. Livermore, Stuart Rogers, Nashville Students, Dr. Healy, Arion Glee Club of Lincoln, State Supt. Jones, Major Wendling, etc. Season tickets will be sold. If our citizens show their appreciation of these efforts, by their liberal patronage, a feast of enjoyment in a high sense, awaits them.

After the pleasant marriage which occurred at John Conner's residence, at Stoughton, last week, came the usual barbarous charivari to mar the pleasure of the occasion and to cause ill feeling and loss or damage to property. Those who were engaged in the questionable celebration were repeatedly assured that the newly married couple were elsewhere, but they nevertheless continued their outrageous noise and clamor until they caused the team of Mr. Kern, a son-in-law of Mr. Conner, to break loose and run into a barb wire fence, cutting one of them so badly that it has since died. This should be a lesson to people who engage in such foolish affairs, and they ought to make good all damage occasioned by their nonsense.

Well, his robustuous ribs—the pompous "child of destiny" who represents the "era of better times" in the post-office in this city—is warm, and proposes to do the editor hereof up in brown paper. And as has ever been the case, "fools rush in where angels fear to tread," so this ensample of asininity rushes into print with the avowed determination of "making it warm for us."

The history of the case in question is rather interesting: In the first place, his petition was signed numerously—but the most sanguine never imagined for one holy moment that his appointment was possible, and when the announcement came, it was like a stroke of lightning from a clear sky. We have been charitable in our criticism, as has been this entire community, although thoroughly convinced of his incompetency—in every sense of the term—from the beginning. And when an individual is so constituted, physically and mentally, that an idea cannot be introduced into his brain, save a bay-window had been mortised therein previously, as a medium, his chances for improvement are necessarily small. We repeat simply and emphatically what is painfully apparent to all who have business at this post-office, that our postmaster in fact is incapable, incompetent and altogether out of his element in his present position. Inexcusable mistakes are of daily occurrence. Valuable mail matter is detained in the general delivery for days and weeks at a time—causing no end of annoyance. These things are patent to all. It were utter presumption to attempt to enumerate the title of the daily inaccuracies.

Hard and soft coal, best quality, at Hallack & Howard's lumber yard.

Politics up in Trenton are not entirely devoid of interest—we might say excitement. Last Saturday was the day of the Democratic caucus, and the great unwashed met in solemn conclave on that occasion, with buoyant hopes. But it appears that Bro. Bosworth, whose jolly adiposity occupies the tripod of the Central, thought that G. G. Burton, Nasby, and real estate dealer, was not entitled to a seat in the caucus, being a Republican. The genial quill propeller therefor moved that Burton be requested to retire from the caucus. In the somewhat heated debate which ensued, the epithet liar, was applied to Bosworth, whose fist must in some inexplicable way have approximated Burton's physiognomy with an uncomfortable propinquity, as we believe the latter sat down, sans ceramie. If we are correctly informed, Bosworth then choked Burton, when outsiders interfered. Upon regaining his feet Burton drew his revolver and fired at Bosworth, without effect, however. Bro. Bosworth spent Saturday evening in this city regaining his wonted composure, and desires us to state particularly that cards and whiskey had nothing to do with the matter—simply politics.

Hard and soft coal, best quality, at Hallack & Howard's lumber yard.

The handsome residence of Chief Dispatcher Rees on Marshall street is almost completed, at least as far as the exterior is concerned, and we believe it is entitled to the first place in the list of fine properties, which adorn our city. * * * Cashier Brown of the First National Bank will also have a beautiful, roomy and convenient house on Main street. As the work thereon progresses it gives promise of being an architectural beauty. * * * Those of Conductor Frank Coy, Mess. Perkins, Kelly, Huddleston, Stanton Rolla and the Badger Lumber Co. are all well under way. * * The foundation for W. J. Hill's residence on North Marshall has just been laid. * * The grocery store of Mr. Seaman of Brownsville, which was shipped here, being without form and void, upon its arrival, is fast assuming form. * * A strong force has been at work on G. B. Nettleton's wind grist mill, lately, and we expect, shortly, to record its completion and readiness for work. It is situated on the east line of town, near the railroad.

Hard and soft coal, best quality, at Hallack & Howard's lumber yard.

The democratic county convention has been called for October 3d at 2 P. M. at the court house in this place. Delegates are apportioned to the several precincts as follows: Indianola, 7; Red Willow, 4; Willow Grove, 11; Driftwood, 2; Valley Grange, 2; Gerver, 3; Danbury, 5; Beaver, 4; Bondville, 4; East Valley, 2; North Valley, 2. Primaries are recommended to be held Saturday, Sept. 25.—Courier.
