VOLUME 5.

With this issue THE TRIBUNE enters upon the fifth year of its existence. Our policy will be maintained. We have no new line of action to map out. No new song to sing. Our position is already clearly defined. We believe the past to be the best guarantee of the future. Hence we have no excuses to make-no promises to frame, other than the assurance that THE TRIBUNE will ever be in the van of improvement, with the growth and prosperity of our city and country.

A GREAT many of the ablest newspapers of the Republican Valley are pressing the name of Hon. G. L. Laws, of McCook, as a republican candidate for Secretary of State. Mr. Laws is a strong man, not only in himself, but in his constituency, and probably no man in the Republican Valley would prove a more available candidate. --- Hastings Gazette-Journal.

THE valley has two aspirants in the republican ranks for the nomination for secretary of state-Zediker of Franklin, and Mr. Laws, of Red Willow. With but one candidate in the southwest the place would be conceded to this section of the state.-Bloomington Guard.

The valley should have but one candidate, Mr. Zediker's candidacy is only a laughing stock in the state at large and in the valley he can only muster strength enough to defeat another candidate from this section. This game he has been playing for several years. When he wasn't a candidate-which is very seldom-he has boomed some weak man for office to the detriment of some one who might have been recognized. It is time this scheme of his was "sat upon," and if we mistake not it will be this fall in a way that will be permanent. We have known Mr. Laws for twenty-five years and he never lived in a community but what he enjoyed the utmest confidence and esteem of the entire members thereof, while on the entire members thereof, while on the herding act here. other hand, Mr. Zediker is a regular jack-in-the-box, popping up for a nomination at every election. He has not seen the time in ten years that he could get a nomination in his own county, neither has he had an honest support of his county for any of the outside positions he has sought, and Franklin county should not allow him to thwart the wishes of the entire valley any longer .- Hardy Herald.

DONT DO IT.

Don't spend your time to read this unless you really wish to KNOW which is the best Wind Mill.

WAYNE, Du Page Co., Ill., February 4th, 1885. CHALLENGE WIND MILL AND FEED

MILL CO., BATAVIA, ILL.: GENTLEMEN,-You ask me how I like the Doubled Headed 221 foot Wind Mill I bought of you in 1883, and also your other machinery.

First, in regard to the Wind Mill: I consider it the very best made, or I would not have bought it at any price, and I have had no occasion to change my opinion, thus far. When I bought the first Challenge Wind Mill, in 1869, with them, is the wish of the neighborhood. for pumping water, I soon found it superior to the kind I had been using, and since that time I have bought three or four Mill of your make, and placed them on my different farms, and they always gave, and do yet, the best of satisfaction. But before buying a Geared Wind Mill, for grinding and shelling, as well as pumping water, for my large lot of imported Percheron horses, I thoroughly investigated as to the merits of the various makes of Wind Mills, and although I found others that could tell a better story than you did in regard to their mills, yet I found their mills in actual operation, in comparison with yours, were nowhere, and actually found your mills doing very much more work than you claimed for them. This, in connection with your strong printed warranty in catalogue, and knowing you to be responsible for its fullfillment to the letter, decided me to place my order with you, and I must say that I am dissatisfied-dissatisfied with myself that I had not got one years ago.

At the time I put your Mill up I was paying about three hundred dollars per month to get my grinding done, and I certainly saved enough in six months to pay for the cost of the mill.

The power in it is simply immense, and does seem almost incredible. It runs two large double-acting pumps, six inch diameter cylinders, twelve inch stroke. Also one of your No. 1 Ware- Also remember that Olcott has the finhouse Grinders, which I have timed at est road stallion in the west, and farmone bushel per minute. I also have ers and stockmen should see him before one of your small No. 1 Medium Grind- breeding. ers, which will grind thirty bushels per hour. In a good wind I run both Grinders and the Pumps at the same M. W. DUNHAM.

THAT LICENSE MATTER.

LINCOLN, May 25th, 1886. S. W. HUDDLESTON, McCook, NEB.
