Now, with the mugwump party on the Atlantic coast and the American party on the Pacific coast, do politics boom.

The American party is now attracting some attention in California. America for Americans and law-abiding aliens is the great burden of their platform.

PAPER shoes are now manufactured in Paris, and are quite fashionable. Just imagine a dainty slipper made up of spring poetry and old love letters.

Of the new silver certificate, a roguish writer says, "They will enable liberal people to drop a dollar into a church contribution box without attracting attention by the ring of its fall."

If Commissioner Sparks can not define better than any living man the meaning of the word "overrule," it will not be because he has failed to have the lesson driven into him by his instructors.

An ancient papyrus Book of the Dead, 3,000 years old and some forty-two feet in length, has just been sent to this country. Henry Watterson will look it over for fresh chestnuts on free trade.

The trouble with these "faith cures" is that in a few weeks after the "complete recovery" is reported, the patient's funeral takes place. This is calculated to make the faith cure unpopular in some quarters.

The Trenton Register, last week, bloomed into a full-fledged bourbon sheet under the suggestive caption of Democrat. The Democrat has all the evidences of spring time verdancy and freshness in make-up. All hail!

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has made another contribution to the sufferers from the Charleston earthquake. This time he has extracted $10 from his Jacksonian jeans. Mr. Cleveland evidently believes in Jeffersonian economy—in donation to charity.

A CITIZEN of Holyoke, Mass., was drinking at a bar the other day with three companions, when his wife came in, joined the drinkers, and ordered drinks for all hands. It is said that no more effectual way of breaking up a drinking party was ever known in that section.

We notice that some of our country contemporaries throughout the state are advertising to receive subscriptions to the Police Gazette. Fie, for shame! No reputable paper should be a party to the circulation of such villainous literature, to the dissemination of trash so vicious.

CONGRESSMAN REAGAN thinks that congress will certainly pass an interstate commerce bill at the next session, and he is sanguine that his measure will prevail. The recent decision of the supreme court, which greatly circumscribes the right of the states to regulate the charges of the railroads for transportation, renders more imperative the demand upon congress for legislation on this subject.

WHEN President Cleveland reviewed the great procession in honor of Liberty, last Thursday, in New York, "the irreverent crowd commented upon his growing baldness since his marriage." Evidently the crowd was democratic enough to take liberties with the President's personal appearance.

ONE of the strongest of feminine instincts is to spank. The little girl of 6 spans her doll, even while the sympathetic tears roll down her cheeks. She keeps up the practice when grown to young ladyhood upon her little sisters and brothers, if she be fortunate enough to have any, and from then on her children and grand-children—or somebody else's children and grand-children—receive the benefits, in a matured form, of an art learned in infancy, until she goes hence to a better land, and even then, perhaps, a wide field for the exercise of her powers is before her among the little angels in heaven.—Toledo Blade.

WHY am I a woman suffragist? Because I am. Because a woman has more good, hard common sense than a man. Because she makes less bluster about her rights, and quietly maintains them better than a man. Because she won't give $1.50 for an article that she knows very well she can get it for 75 cents. Because she does not stalk loftily away from the counter without her change if the robber behind it is a little reluctant about counting it out. Because she is too independent to pay the landlord $2 for her dinner and then pay the head waiter $1 to send her a waiter who will bring it to her for 50 cents. Because she will hold her money tightly in her own good little right hand for two hours until she first gets a receipt for it from the fellow who made her husband pay the same bill five times, last year. Not any "just give you credit for it" for her. Because one day a Pullman porter complained to me, "No money this trip; too many women aboard. Don't never get nothin' out of a woman 'ceptin' just her regular fare." I had just paid him 25 cents for blacking one of my boots and losing the other. And when he said that, when I saw for myself the heroic firmness of those women, traveling alone, paying their fare and refusing to pay the salaries of the employees of a wealthy corporation, I said: "These women have a right to vote. To vote? By all that is brave and self-reliant and sensible, they have a right to run the government."—Bob Burdett.

Worse Than a Fire Alarm,

One of the most dreadful alarms that can be sounded in a mother's ear is produced by croup; dreadful, because it is known to be dangerous; the more dreadful because the life of a loved one is in jeopardy. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a never failing safeguard against this dangerous disease. Its reputation as a preventive and cure of croup is fully and firmly established. In fact, it is the only remedy which can always be relied upon. Sold by Willey & Walker and McMillen & Weeks.
