Genuine California Claret, for summer drinking, at Strasser's.

A Very Creditable Entertainment.

The Opera House was well filled, last evening, upon the occasion of the taunting drill and musical entertainment given by the ladies of the Congregational geometrical society of the city.

If you want a really handsome door call at Bullard's lumber yard and see his stock. He carries a "dandy" line.

The city would subserv the interests of economy by purchasing a wheeled scraper or two, for use in grading streets, etc.

Don't fail to see Bullard's fancy front doors. They are elegant and rich—just the thing you are looking for if you want a handsome, ornamental door.

Send in your precinct caucus announcements; and don't fail to let us know your nominees for precinct officers in the various precincts of the county, when the same are made.

We learn that Supt. Meeker of the water works is preparing plans and making estimates on a two-story brick that the company is expecting to build on lot 5, block 16, Main Avenue, this fall.

Two old soldiers and their families took refuge in the Healy store building, Saturday night, during the storm. They were on their way to their home, north of McCook, from the reunion at Holdrege—Cambridge Kaledoseop.

Col. R. G. Ingersoll says: "The farmer who raises wheat is always poor because he only gets one profit and that is generally a loss. The farmer who raises wheat and beef and horses makes a second or a third profit and gets rich."

Honest criticism for a good purpose, may sometimes be quite proper; but virulent criticism for an evil purpose are always out of order, and he who perpetrates such an offense should be quietly rolled under the juggernaut of public indignation.

If the precedent established by Squire Hubbard, Wednesday morning, were followed, there would be just assaults in this city, where from one to five dollars and costs has been the usual expense of thumping a "smaller man,"—a mere bagatelle.

The Union Labor people are arranging to make a complete canvass of the county, but with faint hopes of increasing their voting strength over that polled, last year. In other words everything indicates that this is a republican year in old Red Willow.

McCook and Southwestern Nebraska received merited recognition at the hands of the republican state convention in the election of J. Byron Jennings as one of the state central committee. Mr. Jennings will make an active and efficient member of committee.

Your attention is directed to the advertisement of Messrs. Wilcox & Fowler, the popular West Des Moines street merchants, which appears in this issue. They have just placed upon their shelves an immense and complete and handsome line of goods for the fall and winter trade, which they are offering at lowest figures. Call and inspect their stock.

Of course the way of the world is not to be too severely criticized, for humanity, in the exercise its abundant will power, follows the fixed laws of its being, and we are not quite wise enough to see the final outcome of it all. A condition we severely execrate to-day, may, in the economy of the universe, result in greater good than any mortal could have dreamed of.

Occasionally Bill Nye drops into a caustic bit of philosophy, as when he says: "The racing-around-running-about and never staying-at-home woman is more foolish than the goose, as uncertain as the wind, and generally a discontented and unhappy being, having to self-poise and contributing to the unrest of all about her—being to body to herself and a regular nuisance to everybody else."

We understand that George Hocknell will commence to improve the block recently purchased in the northwest part of the city as soon as the water service is extended to the same. In the springtime he contemplates the erection of a residence that will, for elegance and convenience, exceed any in Western Nebraska. Supt. Campbell, Thos. Colfer and Holmes Blair also own property in the same locality.

The boys at the depot and a nine composed of business men and clerks crossed willows on the diamond, last Friday afternoon, the former being vanquished in a score of 23 to 15, the game being called at the end of the seventh inning. The game was interesting and not entirely devoid of science; and was witnessed by a considerable audience. Noble's batting was the feature. Charlie probably displaced more atmosphere than any member of the "Dukes," but failed to find the ball for a single run. Lowman fairly put whiskers on the sphere, but was unfortunate in his base running. Harper and Barnham of the depot boys did good work in the battery. Both will make gill-edged players with practice.

An exchange feels called upon to make the following pertinent observations on a not uncommon occurrence: "We have heard of many mean men. There is the man who used the wart on the back of his neck for a collar button, and one who pastured a goat on his grandmother's grave; the one who stole coppers from a dead nigger's eye, the one who got rich by giving his five children a nickel each to go to bed without their supper, and then stealing the nickels after the children were asleep—but for pure downright candor the man who will take a paper two years, mark it 'refused' and then stick it back in the post office, is entitled to first premium."

What miserable journalism it is for newspapers to be about and belittle the public meetings of the opposite party. Yet that is what they are continually doing. The Republican organ says the democratic meeting was a failure, no attendance and but little enthusiasm; and the Democratic organ says the Republican gathering was a miserable fiasco. Now in point of fact the meetings might have been entirely satisfactory and sufficiently large on both sides but the organ newspaper seems to think in such cases its mission is to misrepresent. The idea is a mistaken one and should be abandoned. Accuracy should be as strictly observed in reporting political meetings as in giving the news of any other event. "Tell the truth."

The union labor friends had a little blow-out at the dancing pavilion, Tuesday evening which cannot be described as a roaring success all around. Messrs. A. M. Teal, Sidney Dodge, (nominee for county attorney), T. M. Helin (nominee for assessor), and others delivered the oratorical fireworks for the occasion, but did not succeed in gathering together and riveting the attention of any considerable number of people, nor in arousing much enthusiasm of a spontaneous character. The fact is the subjects considered were not handled in a way calculated to set the world on fire or to irresistibly force conviction on the thoughtful mind. The drum, corps, headed by Shepard and Lawson, furnished the music for the occasion which was probably not particularly auspicious or notable.

Miss Anna McManara of the corps of teachers city schools returned, the first of the week, from her vacation in Illinois, much refreshed and invigorated for the work of the fall and winter term of school.

Albert Noren returned home, yesterday, from his visit to Orleans, where he has been spending a couple of weeks looking after his fine farm located near there. He disposed of a number of steers while absent.

John Healy, late baker at the Bon Ton, departed for St. Louis, Saturday morning, a fact his many friends in the city will regret. He was an enthusiastic member of the local base ball club and he will be missed from the ranks of the "Fannons."

Jacob Thomas, a former resident of McCook but more recently of Hayes county, departed for Denver, this morning, where he will make his home. He will build himself a dwelling, when his family will follow. He reports work plentiful and wages good, at his trade.

Charles and Henry Hartshorn of Buckley, Ill., came in on the flyer, Tuesday, remaining the guests of J. B. Meserve and family of Brush creek until the following afternoon, when they continued their journey to Denver on the flyer. The young men are about to locate in Nebraska in business—perhaps at Kearney.

On Tuesday, Mr. John Hannan was in the city advertising the Omaha Fair and Exposition Association's fourth annual fair, which opens on September 31, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st. The "Siege of Sebastopol" is one of the leading features being advertised by Mr. Hannan. This alone covers five acres and 300 people are required to make the exhibition, which perhaps has never been exceeded in America.

Lou Armaoost, of Beatrice, a large stock owner on the Frenchman, was a Commercial guest, Monday. Mr. Armaoost was treasurer of Chase county, at an early date in its organization, when the cowboy held forth in all his primitive glory in southwestern Nebraska. But times have changed. The cowboy has become a reminiscence and the granger has come in and possessed the fair lands along the White-man's Fork.

Mrs. Joseph Wenger and two children, of Cairo, Ill., Mrs. Lou Rogers, of New Mexico, and Miss Josie Danforth of Washington, Ill., arrived in the city, Tuesday afternoon, on the flyer. They remained here over night, guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilcox, the entire party—argued by Mrs. J. A. Wilcox and daughter Mabel—the following morning, going to Trenton, where the visiting friends will spend a week or more with relatives. Mrs. Wilcox and daughter returned home on the evening passenger.

Mrs. J. E. Cochran killed a large and vicious rattlesnake, yesterday, on the walk in their front yard. It had eight rattles and fought wickedly while being dispatched with the garden hose. The children were playing on the walk at the time when his snakeship made his appearance from a hole in the wooden walk. One of the children had just passed over the hole and another was approaching when the deadly reptile crawled out quietly and coiled around the child. Mrs. Cochran fearlessly disposed of the dangerous intruder, and then, woman like, felt a "little frightened" afterward as she over. It was a narrow escape.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hoge's four-year-old son, who was bitten by a rattlesnake, Thursday of last week, died on Saturday, from the effects of the poison injected into his system by the reptile. The funeral occurred, Saturday, from the Lutheran church, the remains being interred in Longview cemetery. The sadly stricken parents have the profound sympathy of all in their bereavement.

Where They May be Found.

Premium lists of the Red Willow county fair may be found at any of the business houses of the city or at this office. Provide yourself with one and familiarize yourself with its contents.
