The County Fair.

Will open at Indianola on next Tuesday, Oct. 2nd, and continue four days. Every effort will be made by the officers for the comfort of visitors. Agricultural hall will be open Monday noon for receiving and arranging exhibits. This is done to give exhibitors ample time to properly arrange their exhibits, and as it is quite impossible to arrange in one day, we hope a good commencement will be made on Monday. We want everything in its place, in the best condition, ready for the awarding committee by nine o'clock, A. M., Wednesday, and in order to do this a good start must be made Monday. We want each one to feel that the success of the fair depends on his own individual efforts. There is not a man or woman that is a resident of the county, but has an interest in its fair name, and we want to state right here, that there is not a county in the state of Nebraska, as well as favorably known, in Iowa, as Red Willow and her fame is spreading through Illinois. We expect reporters from Iowa, at our fair, and it would be extremely humiliating to see in the Iowa papers like the following: "We attended the Red Willow county, Neb., fair, there was an exhibition a squash, a peck of small potatoes, and a half bushel hubbards." Suppose each farmer would bring 20 ears of corn, as there are 1,100 farmers in the county, there would be over 22,000 ears of corn. Would not that be a grand display, and a grand advertisement for the county?

There were visitors from Illinois, at our fair four years ago; and after looking at the corn remarked: "I have raised corn in Illinois for 40 years but this beats any I ever raised there." Let each one do their full share. Don't hold back and say, "Oh, I haven't anything good enough to take to the fair," and then come into the grounds and look at the produce and remark, "why, I have better than that at home." Bring the best you have and thus show an interest in the welfare of the county. We hope there will be enough produce brought on the grounds to make it necessary to build an addition to the hall, and enough stock, that more stalls will be needed. Create nurseries will make a fine display of trees and fruits, and we hope the merchants will be present in full force, and make a creditable display of merchandise. Bring a sample of groceries, dry goods, fancy goods, boots and shoes, furniture, hardware, farm implements, wagons, buggies, windmills, musical instruments, in fact everything that is used in a civilized country. We want the editors to exhibit samples of fancy printing, etc. We request the superintendents of the several departments to select, as awarding committees those peculiarly qualified for the positions assigned them. That will make the awards without partiality, fear or favoritism, and according to intrinsic merit. The awarding committees of each department consist of three members and it is desirable that the members of a committee be selected from different sections of the county. No interference with the committees, in making their awards, will be allowed. No gambling or games of chance allowed on the grounds. WILLIAM COLEMAN.

THE RED WILLOW COUNTY FAIR WILL OPEN AT INDIANOLA, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2ND, AND CONTINUE FOUR DAYS.

Among the many attractions to interest the visitors will be speeches of the different political parties, made by speakers that have a national reputation as speakers. The prohibition party will occupy the time allowed for speeches, on the second day of the fair, which is the third day of the month. The Republicans and Democrats will occupy the time the third day of the fair in a joint discussion, and the Union Labor party will occupy the time the fourth day. The farmers will leave their farms, the smiths the shop, the merchant his store, and there will be a three days' political jubilee and great rejoicing. The B. & M. road will give one and one-third tickets west as far as Wray, Colorado and Bloomington and Minden east, at any station between those points and Indianola, where fifty purchase tickets and come on the same train. Tickets go to return any time during the fair. A grand time is anticipated and it is hoped that at least fifty, at every station between the points above named, will avail themselves of the opportunity of listening to speeches from some of the best speakers of the country.

The undersigned will sell public auction, at his farm in section 19, township 2, range 30, ten miles southwest of McCook, on MONDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1888, commencing at 10 o'clock, A. M., the following stock, implements, household goods, to-wit: 15 milk cows, 4 graded bulls, 4 mules, 12 graded mares, 1 Clydesdale stallion, 1 Poland-China boar, 7 fat stock, 8 calves, 2 teams driving horses, 5 graded colts, 4 brood sows. (Above mares are with foal by graded Clydesdale.) Also my farming implements, consisting of self binder, riding cultivator, combined lister, riding stirring plow, drag, sulky, two-horse wagon, three sets farm harness, and all my household furniture. TERMS OF SALE: Sums of $5.00 and under, cash. Amounts over $5.00, twelve months' time, at 10 per cent interest, secured by bankable paper. 10 per cent off for cash.

Fortnightly Dancing Club.

A meeting was held in the offices of Babcock & Kelley, Monday evening, for the purpose of organizing a social dance club for the winter. After some preliminary talk, the meeting came to order and proceeded to organize by electing J. E. Kelley, president; J. D. McAlpin, secretary; A. C. Ebert, treasurer; committee on constitution and by-laws, H. W. Cole, E. E. Lowman and E. L. Laycock; executive committee, Ed. Jordan, L. W. McConnell and C. G. Potter; committee on invitation, W. J. Hill, Geo. B. Berry and A. C. Ebert. The Fortnightly Dancing Club was chosen as the name of the club, after which an adjournment was taken till last evening, to allow some minutes time to prepare constitutions and by-laws and membership list.

Lot There be Light?

The question of an electric light plant for McCook is once more being mildly agitated. Mr. Emil L. Oppermann, of the Brush Electric Company of Cleveland, Ohio, was in the city, Wednesday, representing that famous company, presenting its advantages, etc., in the hope of inducing our citizens to take hold and put in their plant. An impromptu meeting was held on Wednesday evening, but no action was taken. It is expected to more fully investigate the subject this evening. That such a plant would pay is admitted. The thing lacking is capital to put the enterprise going. It would be a great thing for McCook.

Republican Rally.

There will be a republican rally in Menard's Opera Hall, Monday evening, October 1st, at which the Honorable J. J. Buchanan, of St. Joe, Mo., and other prominent speakers, will discuss the issues of the day. Turn out with your ladies and hear able political addresses on the living issues.

Collaria Morbus.

Washington Critic. [In the old Roman Forum.] Groverius—Good morning, friend Thurnianicus. How go the auguries? Thurnianicus—They greatly favor us, Groverius; as much as I0 to 8. Groverius—'Tis well, Thurnianicus; and now art thou? Thurnianicus (lightly)—As skittish as a colt unbroke, Groverius. But yet withal a little weary from sitting up last night with one Collaria Morbus. Groverius (jealously)—And who, prithee, is this Collaria, so fair? Another one of those Port Huron maids? Methinks, Thurnianicus, the kisses that thou kissest have tongues to tell the other maids the story of thy gallantry, and yet are dumb when they do touch my name. Thurnianicus—Groverius, you're off your— Groverius—Oof, no, no, off, Thurnianicus. I could not see the Morbus family is quite large, and votes for kisses is such fair exchange I would not have you lose a vote for worlds. Get gone, Thurnianicus.

The Needy in Distress.

We wish to suggest the advisability of giving a musical concert for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers in the plague-stricken south. There is plenty of good material in the city to prepare a musical worthy of a full house. The needs of the south are urgent, and this city should not be slow in extending a helpful hand. We make the suggestion believing it to be feasible, and we hope to see immediate action taken. If anything is done, it should be done at once!

McCook Legion.

At a special meeting of the Legion held on Monday evening, Sept. 23rd, the following officers were elected: J. E. Fancher, C.; Z. L. Kay, V. C.; C. D. Belnap, L. C.; H. W. Cole, P. C.; W. H. Davis, R. and R. T.; W. M. Anderson, T.; W. S. Perry, S. B.; W. W. Josselyn, S. W.; Morris D. Lutz, J. W.; Martin Herian, G. W. M. Anderson was chosen representative and H. W. Cole after a vote of 10 to 8.

That "Write-Up"

We present the long-looked-for "write-up" this week. Its publication has been delayed beyond our expectations. As issued it is complete and not what we hoped it might be, either as to subject matter or mechanically. We give it as prepared. Extra copies may be secured at this office at five cents each.

Gone to Har Long Homs.

Mrs. Thomas Fowler of the Beaver Slope died on Sunday morning of droupy, after a lingering illness, and was buried on the morning following. She leaves a husband and two children, who have the profound sympathy of all in the sorrow that has come upon them.

It is very difficult for a man of any prominence in these times to tell just what his character is, he works in a political direction, the press of his own party says he is the very best of men, and the press of the other says he is the very worst; and if after looking the field over carefully he thinks he is justified in leaving one party and joining another, his former friends at once discover that he never did amount to anything, and his former enemies suddenly discern great worth in him. It is a great world and a great country, and politics are a big thing. But there is one thing that we believe is clearly American, and that is the right of a man to act with any political party he may prefer, without consulting anybody and without exciting comment. The political newspapers tries very hard to be a tyrant, and if once succeeded very much better than it does now. People are thinking for themselves in political matters and thousands of them do not whip into the traces with a cent. The politicians who wisely recognize the fact that in these times the very worst thing he can do is to soil and hurl thunderbolts of abuse. When people think they will not put up with that kind of campaigning, and as we have said, the people are thinking. Twenty-five years from now, taking the rise of the current, the results of a campaign will be largely problematical, because of the independent vote which will not be influenced by bombast or political sophistry. Things point distinctly to greater independence among American voters. A large independent intelligent vote will put all parties upon their best behavior.

COUNTY-SEAT ITEMS.

[From Indianola Courier.] UP to the present time Attorney S. H. Smith has done all that was reasonable, or fair and lawful, to oppose the granting of a saloon license in this city and, practically, without any compensation. He feels at this time as though his efforts were not appreciated by those ten per cent people who have been loud in their demands to secure a fair enforcement of the law, and although successful in every point made in the district court, he proposes to let the saloon question drop, unless reasonable fees are paid him for further work. As for ourselves, we stand charged by the whiskey ring with being the backer of the whole opposition to a saloon, and while we did not expect any compensation for our services along that line, deeming it a work of humanity, we have been made the subject of a boycott by the saloon element, in which they have sought and are seeking our financial downfall. As one of them put it, "we'll make his property worth less than twenty five cents on the dollar before spring." We quote to show the animus, not that we have any fear of that element being successful. On the other hand we cannot point to the subscriber or the advertiser that we have secured by reason of our opposition to a saloon here. Moreover, we are convinced that our people want a saloon so bad, that they are willing to have it at any sacrifice of principle or law, and being convinced of this fact, we shall so far as personally concerned, let the matter rest where it is.

TO OUR PATRONS.

OFFICE OF McCOOK WATER WORKS. McCook, Neb., Sept. 27, 1888. Water tax for the Fourth Quarter of 1888, is due October 1st. We much desire your prompt attention to this matter. For the Young People.

In order to meet a felt demand in our Sabbath school we have arranged for, and have a Young People's Bible class, with Rev. Kelley as teacher. This class is exclusively for the young people and we earnestly invite the attendance of all such in the city, as are not directly connected with other schools. O. C. GASTON, Supt. Cong. S. S.
