

An alliance state convention is called to meet in Lincoln, July 4th.

SOME of the ex-senator's admirers, and they are legion, are urging Hon. J. W. Dolan for congressman.

THE farmers' alliance is now engaged in the pleasant pastime of twisting the tail of the democratic tiger in the southern states.

GOOD GRANDMA THAYER has "flunked" and rescinded and revoked his proclamation calling an extra session of the legislature. Well!

SENATOR HALE of Maine is reported as saying: "I fear we are as a party carrying this tariff matter too far." There is no doubt of it.

SENATOR INGALLS thinks ten years undisputed possession of real estate should give a good title to the same, and he has introduced a bill to that effect.

FIRST ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL CLARKSON will tender his resignation as soon as he returns to Washington. It is said that he will assume the editorship of the Chicago Times.

THE president has directed that the United States flag shall hereafter fly daily over the executive mansion, from sunrise to sunset, instead of as heretofore, being hoisted only on special occasions.

THERE are thousands of republicans in Nebraska who believe that the McKinley tariff bill is a retrograde measure and not in accord with the pledges of tariff revision embodied in the national republican platform.

THE dispatches tell us that at last the railroad passenger war is to be ended, an agreement to that effect having been signed by the high officials in New York recently. The plan is now to restore rates on the 10th of June.

THE senate committee on public lands has taken favorable action on the bill to repeal the timber culture laws. Like measures have been before the last three congresses, but failed to receive the attention they deserved. It is doubtful if the repeal will be of any benefit now.

THE republican state central committee had a meeting in Lincoln, Wednesday. It was decided to hold the state convention in Lincoln, July 23d, at 8 P. M.; and it was also recommended that no proxies be admitted and that the delegates present cast entire vote of the county.

MANY women have been appointed census enumerators in different sections of the country. This is wholly in the nature of an experiment and the result will be awaited with interest. Fancy the effect of one woman asking another woman her age, whether she is white or black and whether she lives in a mortgaged house.

AN order issued by the census bureau removes from the local officials the duty of prosecuting those refusing to answer questions relating to physical infirmities and debts. Enumerators are instructed to place in the proper column the words "refused to answer." The widespread criticism of the questions has apparently produced a commotion in the census bureau.

NO STATE in the west can approach Colorado in its wealth of real estate frauds. The salted mine industry having collapsed, the sharpers and natives who linger there for their health have planted booms in foothills and canyons, and raked in the cash of the tenderfoot. The Holyoke swindle is one of dozens, by which credulous people were taken in and the reputation of the state injured at home and abroad.—Bee.

THE Farmers' alliance movement, state and national, will soon have reached its height, so far as numerical strength is concerned, and the course pursued by its leaders in the political campaigns of 1890 and 1891 will largely determine whether the organization will maintain its present importance and independence in the years to come, or like the grange and similar movements, gradually wane in power until swallowed up in the deep sea of oblivion.

REVOKED THE CALL.

But the Amendment Battle Rages with Increasing Intensity.

Roggen and Rosewater's Anti-Prohibition Association.

Special to THE McCOOK TRIBUNE.

LINCOLN, NEB., June 3.—The Capital City was thrown into a fever of excitement when the morning papers appeared yesterday containing the Governor's proclamation revoking his call for an extra session of the legislature. Up to two o'clock Sunday it was asserted that the executive was firm in his determination not to withdraw his call. On the arrival of the noon train from Omaha, the special messenger who had been sent to Omaha on Saturday's B. & M. flyer to consult with the anti-prohibitionists, of whom E. Rosewater is the chief, returned and was soon whirled to the executive domicile. He delivered the ultimatum from the Amendment slayers in the metropolis, who were unwilling to risk the passage of the Australian ballot bill. Prominent leaders on both sides besieged the Governor and late in the afternoon the mob was victorious and liquor dealers yesterday and today were wild with exultation.

The Daily Call yesterday afternoon denounced the Governor's action and exposed the anti-prohibition feature of the great fiasco. The friends of the Prohibitory Amendment are happy amid all this chaos, because they see in every new move of the liquor men a betrayal of nervous dread of coming defeat.

One of the most amusing developments of the week is the exposure of Roggen and Rosewater's anti-prohibition organization lately formed in Omaha. They named their society the "State Business Men and Bankers Association." They did not dare to call it by its right name. It should have been christened "The Nebraska Saloonkeepers', Brewers' and Distillers' Protective Association." But knowing that this true title would kill the society leader than one of Pharaoh's mummies, Roggen and Rosewater decided to work the gullible along smoother lines. The articles of association are signed by about one hundred and twenty business firms and individuals of Omaha and their declamation contains the usual stereotyped attack on prohibition. Mr. Roggen announces that no president of the association has yet been chosen, but an executive committee has been formed and E. Rosewater is the chairman thereof. Chas. A. Coe is the treasurer and Chas. Moffat is clerk of the executive committee. Ed. Roggen is the state secretary and general manager, and will speedily make a canvass of several towns to secure the signatures of "bankers and business men," to a pledge which guarantees the murder mills of Nebraska, protection from the besom of prohibition. This Omaha society, composed at present almost exclusively of Omaha friends of the liquor crime, announces its headquarters in Lincoln. C. V. Gallagher, the distinguished Omaha Postmaster has denounced Mr. Rosewater and certain confederates for planning to control the next Republican State Convention, in the interests of the whiskey combine. This denunciation with its implied accusation appeared over a week ago in the columns of the World-Herald over Gallagher's own signature.

The prompt passage by the United States Senate of the Wilson bill relating to the interstate shipment of liquors, gives a fresh impetus to the prohibition agitation the country over. This bill overthrows entirely the bad influence of the "original package" decision of the U. S. Supreme Court. The bill passed the Senate by a vote of 34 to 10. It will soon come up in the House, where very little doubt is entertained as to its speedy progress. Leading Republicans of the state will petition the Nebraska delegation in the House to stand solidly by the measure which, when passed, will restore to the states the police power rightfully belonging to them, but which under the recent decision they are restricted in fully exercising.

An important meeting of Swedish Lutheran ministers was held in this city last week at the residence of Rev. John A. Eckstrom, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church of Lincoln. Hon. Eric Johnson, editor of the Swedish Temperance Bugle, presided and Rev. F. M. Swanburg, was the Secretary. An executive committee was chosen, of which Hon. Eric Johnson is chairman. All Scandinavian church denominations in the state will be enlisted, and a large Amendment mass meetings will be held in tents and churches. Mr. Johnson's Temperance Bugle has a weekly circulation of 5,000 copies and is making a grand fight for the Prohibitory Amendment.

The New York Voice sent a special commissioner to Nebraska this week to investigate the recent offers of certain newspapers to publish matter in the interests of the liquor dealers for cash remuneration.

The Lincoln Daily Call has come out for the Prohibitory Amendment and will make the strongest fight of its life in the interest of the people and for Nebraska's deliverance from rum's red rule.
