Yes, my son, this beats irrigation.

The "ditchers" are coming, hurrah, hurrah.

"They do say" that hard water is not suitable for irrigation. Ah, me!

Work on the Meeker ditch is being prosecuted energetically with all available men and teams.

This week, Councilman LaTourette adds a neat and comfortable stable to the convenience of his home.

The M. E. pulpit was occupied last Sunday morning by Rev. Fulmer of Culbertson. No evening services.

"The True Democrat" made its initial bow to the public, last week. It was a very creditable publication.

Merchants are already feeling a revival of trade, brought about by the South Side Irrigation Ditch Enterprise.

The person who argues with a liar has about as much sense as the man who drives in the mud to paint his wagon.

The Times-Democrat rounded off the sixth year of its existence, and last week entered upon its seventh year with encouraging prospects. THE TRIBUNE offers its congratulations.

The Right Reverend Bishop Graves of Kearney will preach in the Lutheran church, Thursday evening, June 18th, and will administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

The county alliance held an important session at Indianola, last Saturday. There were 65 delegates present. The election of county officers will occur at the next monthly meeting in July.

Children's Day exercises will be held in the Congregational church, next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Regular preaching services both morning and evening by Rev. W. C. Stephenson.

A rural member of the fraternity offers this: "Money will feed gluttony, pride, indulge voluptuousness and gratify sensuality; but unless it be an engine in the hands of wisdom, it will never produce any real joy." But what does a country newspaper man know about money, anyhow?

We understand that S. R. Smith, member for Red Willow county of the Republican Central Committee of the Eleventh Judicial District, has resigned. It is intimated that Indianola's mayor's pole is already reaching out after the independent nomination for judge of this district.

First of the week, Potter & Easterday purchased the stock of A. T. Campbell & Co., who retire from the business at this place. Messrs. Campbell & Co. retain their interests at Bartley and Hildreth, and are figuring on buying the Moody elevator at Stratton and one in the eastern part of the state.

Next to irrigation, perhaps there is nothing capable of bodily boosting real estate up to a real dizzy altitude like a sure-enough, robustness and adult ochre mill boom. The transfers, this week, show a sale of about 400 acres of land just east of Indianola for $52,700.00, or over $125 per acre. THE TRIBUNE offers its congratulations. Come up and see our machine shops, boys.

Patronize home industries. That sounds old and trite; but the advice is full of wisdom. That's the way to build up home institutions. That's the way towns and cities are built. Its reciprocity in its most practical sense. Joe Reizenstein advocates the idea, and invites the people of McCook and vicinity to call at his parlor when they are looking for a first-class cigar, and become converts to that doctrine. Joe makes right here in our city goods of the best quality for the money. He accordingly solicits the patronage of our people. Patronize home industries.

The enterprising city of McCook has become the subject of wide and favorable comment by voting $10,000 in bonds to aid an irrigation enterprise. It is one of the first, if not the very first, to incur an indebtedness for a public improvement designed primarily to benefit the farmers. The action is, however, based upon a perfectly sound idea of logic. McCook has suffered from the drouth as keenly as the farmers in the surrounding country, on whom it depends for its trade. If the new ditch makes the prosperity of these farmers secure it will benefit McCook by removing the precarious element in its farmer's life. Perhaps the action of the smartest town in Red Willow county will set an example which towns all over the arid region will follow.—Irrigation Age.

MCCOOK'S GUIDING STAR.

THE MCCOOK TRIBUNE, the leading newspaper of Southwestern Nebraska, rounded its tenth year last week. THE TRIBUNE was established at McCook's birth and has ever been devoted to the upbuilding of that beautiful and thrifty little city and to the advancement of the interests of the Republican valley generally. Like all western newspapers that succeed THE TRIBUNE has during its career passed through periods of adversity and discouragement, but under the able management of its enterprising and industrious editor, Mr. Kimmell, it has continued to grow and prosper and is now established on a firm foundation and will continue to be McCook's guiding star in the future as it has been in the past.—Benkelman Bee.

MUCH WIND.

The city fathers were in regular session, Wednesday evening; all present but Clerk Warren, Councilman Kay being pro tem. clerk. Bills of A. J. Stroud $2.60 and Lincoln Land Co. $157.50 were allowed. A resolution was passed instructing the mayor and clerk to enter into contract with the Lincoln Land Co. in the sum of $1,200 for city water supply for the fiscal year, an extra fire hydrant, and the relocation of watering trough. The city clerk was instructed to compile and arrange the city ordinances now in force. The question of city management of the water works was discussed in extenso, but no action was taken. Adjourned to Wednesday, June 17th.

ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH.

Next Sunday, June 14th, Rt. Rev. Bishop Bonacum, D. D., of Lincoln, Neb., will administer confirmation to a class of thirty, at the High Mass, 10:30, A. M. Special music will be rendered during this occasion to which all are invited.

June 18th, at Meeker's Hall, Grand Reunion and Social of St. Patrick's Parish. Music by Reizenstein's orchestra. Supper included in admission ticket. A pleasant time for all.

LAND DECISIONS.

In the case of Alpheus R. Barringer in which officers below rejected the application for payment of the purchase money paid upon Barringer's commuted homestead entry for the east half of the north-east quarter of section 32 and the west half of the north-west quarter of section 33, township 50 north, range 31 west, McCook district, the acting secretary of the interior today affirmed the decision below. He also affirmed the decisions in the case of Harriet M. Davis vs. Thomas Simonton, McCook district.

TWINS!

THE MCCOOK TRIBUNE is just ten year old. So is McCook. They are twins. F. M. Kimmell is one of the steadiest and sturdiest newspaper men in Nebraska and prints a most excellent paper. His politics, which grows more hide-bound as the years go by, is the only point against him.—Lincoln Herald.

The bank furniture of the late Bank of McCook was loaded, yesterday for shipment to Lincoln, where after being overhauled and embellished it will be placed in the Braze building to be used by the new financial institution which will be opened in the Capital City, July 1st, namely the Merchants Bank.

At the state meeting of Homeopathic physicians held in Omaha, last week, Dr. A. P. Welles of our city was elected recording secretary of the state society. The next session will be held in Beatrice, June, 1892.

The high, full sleeves which have disfigured the female form divine are doomed. Swell gowns are to be made with long, tight-fitting sleeves, just slightly raised at the shoulder.

If you need a Binder or a Header call on S. M. Cochran & Co. They sell the Walter A. Woods and Plano Binders and the Randolph Header, machines not excelled in the world.

If the weather clerk does not interfere with the present arrangement, our people will have the pleasure of hearing an outdoor concert by Sutton's band, Saturday evening.

The latest word from the sick room is that Frank Fowler seems to be gaining strength slowly and that his condition is perhaps more encouraging, though still critical.

Parties who have been out over the country somewhat say that they never saw finer rye in their lifetime. Wheat is also looking splendid. Oats fair.

Tuesday night's rain was one of the heaviest of the season. All formalities were waived and the water just simply fell in sheets.

A false fire alarm accelerated the public pulse uncomfortably, Wednesday evening. Crossed or grounded wires, perhaps.

C. A. Ready, county attorney of Hayes, had land business here, Wednesday.

Mrs. Cora Kelley left, Wednesday, for Bakesburg, Ia., to be absent until September.

A. T. Campbell was up from Hildreth, Tuesday, closing out his feed store at this place.

Prof. C. W. Charles of Culbertson enjoyed the inspiring air of the metropolis, last evening.

Rev. W. M. Taylor, the short man of Bartley's next best friend, was a city visitor, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles White gave a pleasant farewell supper to a company of friends, Wednesday.

Mr. Barnes of the Times-Democrat sojourned under the parental roof at Indianola over the Sabbath.

Clerk Roper, Treasurer Henton and Commissioner Hodgkin were guests of the municipality, last evening.

F. S. Wilcox, a prominent shipper and breeder, brought in eight cars of cattle from Hooper.—South Omaha Stockman.

B. F. Troxel is back from Hot Springs, S. D., having secured great relief from the enemy of his comfort—rheumatism.

Prof. Monlux of Hastings sojourned in the city, Tuesday, the guest of his fellow-educator, Prof. Valentine of our city schools.

H. D. Watterman has returned to his old territory and has reoccupied his cosy little home in the northwestern part of the city.

Mrs. N. S. Berry departed on Friday last for Virginia, Ill., on a visit to her old home, where she has a married daughter residing.

Miss Alice Murphy came up from Oxford, Monday, on business and to greet her many admiring friends in McCook in a social way.

Mrs. W. H. Davis returned home, Tuesday evening, from Trenton, where she has been visiting relatives the past week or ten days.

M. Y. Starbuck left, Tuesday evening, for Chicago, to attend a convention of the sixth postal district, which opens in that city on the 12th.

Rev. and Mrs. Samuel F. Myers have struck the McCook gait in good form. A lusty boy baby is reported at the rectory, last Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris, who have been the guests of their son Frank for the past ten days, departed for their Illinois home yesterday morning.

John F. Majors came in from Ainsworth, where he has been on legal business, Tuesday morning. Leaving the same evening for Duluth, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Allen of Hinesburg, Vt., are guests of their son, Hon. John C. Allen and wife, at their home at Twelfth and K street.—Lincoln Journal.

Sweeney Munson and family arrived home, Tuesday evening, from their Orleans visit. Sweeney goes to Chicago, in a few days, where he expects to get work.

County Clerk Roper and family were up from the county-seat, Monday, to invoke the skill of the photographer in "preserving the shadow ere the substance falls."

Nate Crawford and Bert Smith, of Gen. A. McD. McCook Camp S. of V., went down to Geneva, Sunday night, to take in the state encampment, S. of V., in session there this week.

Mr. C. E. Shaw and family leave, to-morrow evening, for Lincoln, where they expect to make their home. Mr. Shaw is president of the Merchants bank to be opened for business July 1st.

Attorney Foss of Crete was up the valley on business, the close of last week, being a city visitor on Saturday. He was the junior member of the late well-known firm of Dawes & Foss.

George W. Burt was up from Indianola, Monday, looking after his political fences hereabouts. We understand that Mr. Burt would like to be W. T. Henton's running mate again next fall.

Prof. W. S. Webster came in on Monday's flyer to look after his real estate interests down in Grant precinct. The Professor just closed his school at Juniata and was en route for Glenwood Springs, Colo., where he has a brother residing, on a prospecting tour.

Our old friend, V. Franklin, President of the Citizens Bank of McCook, one of the brainiest and most successful business men of McCook, Neb., was in town, last week, on business. He predicts a bright future for the entire west. Mr. Franklin is one of the solid men of that enterprising city and knows what he is talking about.—Holyoke News.

Judge Cochran of McCook has been in the city since yesterday on legal business. He is one of the leading promoters of irrigation in the western part of the state. He said that in a year or two more droughts in the western part of Nebraska would be only a memory. "The work of building irrigation ditches," said Judge Cochran, "is progressing at a truly wonderful rate. Irrigation companies are being organized in every western county and are going to work with a will. In a very short time we will be independent of rainfall and will raise crops, rain or no rain. We haven't needed any irrigation so far this spring, for we have had plenty of rain and crop prospects were never finer."—Sunday's World-Herald.

You will be needing binding twine soon. S. M. Cochran & Co. are prepared to fill your orders at lowest market price.
