—A sixteen-year-old daughter of John Peterson, a German farmer living thirty miles north of Harrison, near the Dakota line, was found in a ravine about a mile from her home. The girl left home Monday morning for a neighbor's, two miles distant. Not returning when expected her parents began to feel uneasy as to her safety. As the girl has been subject to fits for some time it is believed she was seized with one of them and wandered into the ravine, which has been filled with water by a late rain, and there drowned.
—The bodies of Brakemon Moore and Engineer Delaney, who met death in the railway accident at York, were taken to Lincoln. Moore was 42 years old and leaves a wife and three children. Delaney had a wife at Beaver, but had not lived with her for some time. She will receive $5,000 from her husband's life insurance. The remains of Delaney were taken to Beaver and those of Moore to his old home at Newell. O. Fireman Bean, whose leg was completely severed in the wreck, is at a hotel in York. He declares that he will get well, though the physicians say his recovery is doubtful.

DESTRUCTIVE FLOODS

PORTIONS OF IOWA RAAGED BY THE ELEMENTS.
The Town of Merville Almost Wiped Out—The Country From Storm Lake to Cherokee One Vast Sea of Water—Great Damage to the Railroads—No Loss of Human Life Thus Far Reported—President Powers on the Nebraska Farmers' Alliance—A Scheme to Produce Rain.
An Awful Freshet in Iowa.
BOONE, Ia., June 27.—At the Chicago & Northwestern headquarters in this city was received yesterday the first direct news from the scene of the floods on the Maple river branch of the road. The dispatch is from the operator at Merville and says that the town is almost wiped out, the water is running in to the depot windows and is up to the ceilings of all the buildings.
All the houses in flat portions of the town have been swept away and the railroad turntable is washed from its place. Three miles of track are gone between Merville and Kingsley, also most of the small bridges and the bridge over the Sioux river.
This destruction is now being supplemented by another storm raging at present in the same vicinity and extending south to the main line of the Northwestern. It is raining very hard and the storm is traveling.
Cherokee is still isolated from railroad and telegraphic communication with the rest of the world. An Illinois Central conductor who returned today from the scene of desolation reports damage and loss of property, live stock, growing crops and personal losses of the unfortunate people who lived in the track of the storm as almost incalculable.
The country from Storm Lake to Cherokee Wednesday was one vast sea of water. Mercantils in every town between the two points suffered great loss from floods, to say nothing of untold damage to crops and live stock. Of seventy-five to one hundred houses washed on the bottom at Cherokee most of them were homes of laboring men. These people lost everything, barely escaping with their lives. Hundreds of animals were seen in the river floating past Cherokee Wednesday. Horses tied to fragments of their wrecked barns were also seen, some dead and others drowning. Hundreds of cattle, hogs and chickens followed each other at short intervals.
One farmer living south of Cherokee said that over two hundred head of cattle were missing from his pasture and he supposed all were lost. A man named Young, an importer of draft horses at Cherokee, lost eight fine animals. The Little Sioux valley from Cherokee to Onawa is one of the largest stock raising sections in Iowa and when the water subsides and a careful survey of the desolated district can be made the loss will be found to be appalling.
The Illinois Central is also a heavy loser. Superintendent Gillespie says that $200,000 would not repair the damage already in sight and investigations have not been pursued further than five miles on the south branch of the Cherokee & Dakota division. The north is still inaccessible. The company has a force of 200 men at work at the bridge at Cherokee, and it is expected a temporary structure will be ready for use by Sunday.
Four Dopes. Ia., June 27.—The latest advices from Cherokee say the damage by the flood is greater than at first reported. As the waters recede the carcasses of cattle are exposed and the stench from the same permeates the air. It is estimated that hundreds of head of stock were lost there. Two miles of track of the main line of the Illinois Central between Cherokee and Sioux City was washed out and it will take about a week to repair the damage. The Onawa and Sioux Falls branches of the same road are in a worse condition. The wires over both branches are still broken and authentic reports of loss of life have not been received. While the Sioux river is going down, it is still forty feet deep. The work of clearing away the debris is now in progress, and it is being given the unfortunates at Merville who are camping out.
An eye witness of Tuesday's flood, who has just arrived from Cherokee, states that it is necessary for one to see to have the least idea of the great amount of damage done.
"Why," he exclaimed, "it is simply and terribly wonderful the way that the immense body of water swept things before it. Houses were but bubbles on its crest. I was at Cherokee when the cloudburst came and in less time than it takes to tell it a flood was upon the town. Houses were seen to tremble, swing half around and be carried along by the torrents. Trees were bent and broken like reeds, and not a thing could stop the terrific onward rush of the water, and all this occurred before the people could possibly realize what had happened."
The most remarkable feature of the disaster is that any one in the track of the flood escaped with their lives. As far as I know no lives were lost at Cherokee and the immediate vicinity. The storm rendered between three hundred and four hundred families homeless in and about Cherokee. They are being cared for in the Masonic, Grand Army of the Republic and Knights of Pythias halls at Cherokee.
"The Illinois Central lost 12,777 feet of roadbed, and 987 feet of piling. This does not include the bridge taken out over the Sioux river. The amount of damage will reach $50,000.
President Powers Pleascd.
DES MOINES, Ia., June 27.—President J. H. Powers of the Nebraska state farmers' alliance was in Des Moines today. Asked if his organization opposed the southern alliance he said: "No. Our alliance differs somewhat in its plan of organization from the Southern Alliance and Industrial Union and while essentially agreeing with it in principle, there is no antagonism between them."

"The people's party in this state has nominated a prominent member of your organization, I believe, for governor. How do you regard it?"
"I am somewhat acquainted with Mr. Westfall, and regard his nomination as a very judicious one, and I consider him a fitting representative of the agricultural interests of the west."
"Is your alliance increasing in membership?"
"Yes, sir, it is. In every state where it has an organization it is increasing rapidly. In Nebraska, especially, the work is moving forward with great force."
To Manufacture Rain.
WASHINGTON, June 27.—Further experiments were made by Colonel Dyer for the department of agriculture on the outskirts of Washington in testing the feasibility of exploding a balloon charged with gas at a considerable height in the air, with the object of discovering the practicability of exploding dynamite in a like manner and its effect in producing rain in case of drought. Three balloons, about twelve feet in diameter, charged with two parts of hydrogen and one of oxygen were exploded at an elevation of about twelve hundred feet. The tests were considered a success.
Trichinae in the Pork.
CHICAGO, June 27.—Trichinae have been found in the meat of hogs killed at the stock yards by Prof. Michels and his corps of trained microscopists who are making the federal inspection of pork in the big rooms of the Nelson Morris building on Halsted street. Speaking on the subject of his discoveries Prof. Michels said:
"Three days of inspection of pork under the microscope has revealed more trichinae than I expected to find. I do not care to inform the press of the number of hogs we have found to be infected, as it might cause alarm. We have found the parasite in Chicago pork, and wherever it has been discovered the meat of the hog has been destroyed."
Seven hundred more hogs will be inspected today. Prof. Michels said that the safest way for the housewife to guard against the deadly little animal is to cook pork through and through. Meantime he will do his best to lessen the danger which yesterday's examination revealed.
Considered by the Cabinet.
WASHINGTON, June 29.—The cabinet meeting to consider financial questions was attended by Secretaries Foster, Tracy, Noble, Rusk and Postmaster General Wannamaker. Secretaries Blaine and Proctor and Attorney General Miller were not present and their departments were not represented. The questions discussed were the continued coinage of silver, the extension of the 4 1/2 per cent bonds and the change in the form of the assets and liability statement. Secretary Foster made the following statement as to the result of the meeting affecting the coinage of silver: After a full and careful consideration of the law relating to the coinage of silver, Secretary Foster finds that the act of March 3, 1891, requires that the secretary of the treasury shall as soon as practicable coin the trade dollar bars into silver dollars." He also finds that $150,000 has been appropriated for the recoinage of subsidiary silver coin into such denominations as will best serve to give it circulation. There is a constant demand for small coin, principally dimes, which the mints have not been able to supply. The secretary of the treasury has decided that his first duty in this matter is to obey the direction of congress.
Congress has ordered the coinage of the trade dollar into standard silver dollars. The coinage of the trade dollar bars in this manner will transform what cost $5,087,735 into 3,148,281 standard dollars. The secretary finds that it will require perhaps four months to perform the work of coining the trade dollar bars into standard dollars and recoinage the subsidiary silver, therefore the question of the continued coinage of silver dollars as heretofore is not a practical one at present.
The cabinet also decided to change the form of the asset and liability statements issued from the treasurer's office daily and at the beginning of each month. In the new form of statements the net surplus will disappear and only an available cash balance will be carried. Other changes of a minor character will be made, but what they will be has not as yet been decided by Secretary Foster. In a general way the new form of statements, both of the debt and asset and liabilities, will closely resemble the statements put out when Senator Sherman was secretary of the treasury. These changes go into effect the 1st of July, the beginning of the next fiscal year. The extension of the 4 1/2 per cent bonds was not considered at this meeting, but will probably come up at next Tuesday's session.
The general impression prevails in official circles that the action of the cabinet postpones the continued coinage of silver for the present. In lieu thereof trade dollar bullion will be coined in an amount equal to the monthly coinage by the treasury during the present fiscal year, which has been at the rate of about 2,000,000 ounces of silver per month.

WRECK ON THE ROAD.

TWO MEN KILLED AND ONE MORTALLY WOUNDED.
An Accident on the Lincoln and Black Hills Line Caused by a Washout—Twenty-three Cars Piled Up in Indescribable Confusion—Additional Particulars of the Killing of Col. Sam Wood in Kansas—A Conspiracy Formed to Get Rid of Him—The Marriage of Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea Finally Consummated.
A Disastrous Railroad Wreck.
YORK, Neb., June 26.—A terrible accident occurred near here yesterday morning on the Lincoln & Black Hills line of the Burlington, about two and a half miles west of the city. As near as can be told the accident occurred at 5 o'clock and was caused by the heavy rain of last night washing out a small culvert into which a train crashed at a speed of eighteen miles an hour. Train No. 45, drawn by engine No. 193, which was manned by G. W. Delaney, engineer, and Oscar W. Bean, fireman, came thundering along and plunged into the hole. Whether Delaney saw the hole and tried to stop, or whether the accident came without warning, will probably always remain a mystery, for the engineer was killed and the fireman is unconscious and dying. The engine plunged into the abyss and twenty-three cars are piled up in indescribable confusion. Beneath the mass of broken cars lie the bodies of the engineer and fireman and W. H. Moore, the head brakeman. Word was at once sent to York and to the officials at Lincoln. The wrecking crew started from Lincoln at 8 o'clock with men and material to repair the road. Men were also sent out from York to aid in rescuing the men imprisoned beneath the engine and cars and at 9:40 Fireman Bean was found alive beneath the tender. He was almost insensible from pain, the heavy iron rim having completely severed the left leg below the knee. The tender was jacked up and Bean was taken out and given over to the doctors in attendance. It is not likely that he can recover, as the shock was a terrible one. At 11:30 the bodies of the engine crew had not been reached. Bean is a married man and lived at 1007 Q street, Lincoln. Moore is also married and lives in Lincoln and Delaney is a single man. Delaney is a member of the Knights of Pythias and a delegation of that order came down with the wrecking train to take charge of the remains.
Fireman Bean is said to have taken off his blouse, wrapped up his wounded limb, used his suspenders as a compress to stop the flow of blood and crawled out of the wreck.
A man traveling with a horse had a miraculous escape. The car that contained himself and horse was thrown about 100 feet and lay on its side in the bed of the creek. Strange to say the man escaped with a slight sprain and the horse did not get a scratch. The scene beggars description. The washout is from twenty to thirty feet deep and 200 to 300 feet long. The engine shot into this abyss, and twenty-two loaded cars were piled on and around it in every conceivable shape, completely burying it from sight. Merchandise, lumber, farm machinery, railroad ties and cars were piled together in a shapeless mass of ruins. Wrecking trains with gangs of men are at work and traffic will be continued in a few days.
Delaney, the engineer, was to have been married to an estimable lady of Lincoln next week. The bodies of Delaney and Moore were taken to Lincoln yesterday afternoon, and the funeral will take place today.
Colonel Sam Woods Was Evidently Shot Down on the Street.
TOPEKA, Kan., June 26.—Reports received here place an entirely new phase on the killing of Colonel Sam Wood by James Brennan at Hugoton Tuesday. The friends of Colonel Wood have written that he was assassinated and declare that the reports sent out by the correspondents were previously submitted to the faction to which the murderer belonged and approved. The most complete detail of the killing is given in a letter written to A. N. Mackey of this city-law partner of the murdered man. Mackey refused to give the name of his correspondent, as he feared he would be violently dealt with.
The writer declares that there was a conspiracy among the friends of Theodosius Bodkin, judge of that district, whom Wood had caused to be impeached, to kill him. While Wood was in the court room, Brennan talked pleasantly with Mrs. Wood, who was waiting in a buggy for her husband. As soon as Wood came out of the court house Brennan shot him in the shoulder. Wood ran and Brennan shot him in the back of the head. Still Wood did not fall, but turned around and Brennan shot him under the right eye. The letter further says: "Everything points to premeditation on the part of Brennan, as he stood Sheriff Gunn off and surrendered only to the sheriffs of Stanton and Morton counties, who had been in town all night by an arrangement with somebody."
When the letter was received Mr. Mackey visited the governor and insisted on the attorney general being sent to Stevens county to prosecute the case. William O'Connor, the county attorney of Stevens, whose duty it is to prosecute the case, was an enemy of Woods, the latter having instituted proceedings contesting his election. Mackey also insisted that a judge from another district be called in to try the case. It has been impossible to get any reliable news from Stevens county until today. The telegraph operators near the town of Hugoton refused to make any reports whatever, and the newspaper reports had to be submitted before they were sent out. All the leading papers in the state denounce the killing, and it will probably result in forcing Judge Bodkin from the bench.
Stopped the Scandal.
LONDON, June 27.—It is learned that the marriage of Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea took place yesterday. The only witnesses to the ceremony were two servants from Mrs. O'Shea's house. The registrar was strictly enjoined not to give any information about the marriage, and promised to preserve the closest secrecy. An order was given to have a solitary one-horse phaeton in readiness at 6 o'clock in the morning, instead of the usual order for horses or carriage for exercise, as was customary when Parnell stopped at Brighton. When the conveyance was ready Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea entered the phaeton, and orders were given the coachman to drive westward. After the party left Brighton behind them the driver was directed to proceed to Steyning by a circuitous route. Steyning was reached at 9 o'clock, at which time a heavy rain was falling. Upon entering the town Mrs. O'Shea, who is familiar with the place and knew the situation of the registrar's office, relieved the coachman and drove direct to the office herself.
Mr. Parnell himself procured a special license on Tuesday setting forth that the marriage would occur within three months. He begged the registrar to do the utmost within his legal rights to keep the marriage a secret.
Mrs. O'Shea wore a black brocade silk dress, a lace mantel and a black hat trimmed with roses.
Parnell appeared to be well and in cheerful spirits, but occasionally threw nervous glances around him, apparently being somewhat anxious lest the wedding party be observed. Mrs. O'Shea, too, was in good spirits and very vivacious, both before and after the ceremony.
It is announced that a second religious ceremony will take place in London immediately so as to satisfy the Catholics.
Mrs. Parnell was seen at Walsingham Terrace tonight. She said she and Parnell were married this morning, but she declined to have the ceremony performed in church in London, there having been difficulty in connection with the license.
Kansas Wheat Uninjured.
WICHITA, Kan., June 25.—Sixty-nine stations on the line of the Missouri Pacific and its branches in southern Kansas have reported the condition of their wheat crop and the effects of Saturday night's storm.
The counties on the border of the Indian territory have about 75 per cent of their wheat harvested in prime condition; the next tier about 50 per cent and the remainder standing all right and ready to be harvested this week. In the third tier of counties about 25 per cent of the crop has been harvested. The storm did no particular damage.

WOMAN KILLED.
HUGOTON, June 25.—The trail in wool continues fair, but sales are for the most part in small lots. Prices remain the same as they were a week ago, but outside quotations are difficult to obtain. Ohio and Pennsylvania X has been selling at $26 to $28 and XX and above at $1 to $2c. Michigan X has been offered at $27 to $28c. In coming and delaine fleece there have been sales of No. 1 combing at $26 to $28c. Ohio fine delaine and Michigan fine delaine at $32 to $34c. In new territory there has been sales of fine at a premium. New Texas, California and Oregon wools are selling in the range of $26 to $30c. Fullest wools are in good demand; choice wools are selling at $28 to $32c. fair to good super at $26 to $28c, and extra at $25 to $30c. Foreign wools are in steady demand and firm.
DOMESTIC CROP REVIEW.
CHICAGO, June 25.—The Farmers' Relief will say tomorrow. Harvesting of winter wheat will already begun in part of the counties of Illinois and Indiana and about one-third of Ohio. The yield is estimated in these states at 15 to 20 bushels to the acre, a few counties reporting as high as 25 bushels and others as low as 10 bushels. In Kentucky harvesting is in full blast. The yield is poor, correspondents generally estimating it from 10 to 15 bushels to the acre, three counties being as low as 7 bushels. The Missouri harvest is about completed. The estimates range from fifteen to thirty-five bushels. A large yield is undoubtedly secured. In Kansas harvesting is well under way. The estimates are the same as about fifteen bushels to the acre. Harvesting has not commenced in Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa or Nebraska. The yield in the latter will undoubtedly be very large. In the other states fairly good. Spring wheat in all the northwestern states is reported as doing very well. Corn is generally reported improving in condition and promising from a fair to an average crop.
Oats prospects are reported good in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky and only fair in Indiana. In the other states an average yield is expected.
