

You Can Draw Your Own Conclusions

About our $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 Shoes, but there's really only one conclusion that you can possibly come to and that is that in shoe leather a better investment you never made. Just as sure as you wear this shoe, just so sure will that be your judgment of it. Some shoes are cheap without being good; others are not good without being cheap; this shoe is cheap and good enough for the most fastidious of feet. It will fit as snugly as a made to order shoe and there are many made to order shoes that haven't its durability. In all respects it's a wise purchase for the wise buyer.

A petition is again in circulation in Hitchcock county for an election to remove the county-seat from Culbertson to Trenton. The main reason for its removal is alleged that the county must spend $2,000 to repair the courthouse.

We would suggest that the name of this county be changed from "Dundy" to "Irrigation." Our reasons for this is because irrigation has been adopted to such an extent that the name "irrigation" would be of more justice to the people than that of the present one.—Haigler Tribune.

THE MCCOOK TRIBUNE is justly indignant at the special correspondent of the Omaha Bee at that place who telegraphed glowing accounts of the recent windstorm calling the same a "terrible cyclone." THE TRIBUNE is right in saying that it is rank injustice to a country as free from cyclones as almost any spot on the globe.—Beaver Valley Tribune.

The building committee of the Congregational church met on Monday evening at the pastor's residence. They looked carefully over the designs for churches as found in E. B. Price's book, of Philadelphia, and selected a beautiful edifice, which they hope, soon, to commence building. The building for erection will be an edifice that will do credit to our town.

The remains of Oscar Brown, (who died at Frank Everist's ranch, last Thursday evening,) were buried in the Culbertson cemetery on Friday afternoon last, the expenses of the interment being borne by Driftwood friends and McCook business men.

The soda water season is with us and as usual The City Drug Store is promptly on hand with the very latest and best the market offers in that line. Their fountain is now in operation and if you want a drink of soda water, with the purest of syrups, turn your foot, steps toward The City Drug Store. You are certain of securing it there.

McCook has donned her imperial robes of beauty and her season of loveliness has just unfolded. While she is not a town of palatial brown stone fronts, yet she paints upon the retina of the stranger's eye a picture that is soulful and pleasant. For health, general morals, peace, plenty, culture, beauty and dogs she is the peer of any town in the state.

Two Russian domestics have recently been employed at housework in the Altschuler home. And by a singular coincidence the silverware, or at least a portion of it, disappeared during the term of their service or at the time of their discharge. So Mr. Altschuler invaded their home in South McCook, first of the week, armed with a search warrant to clear up the mystery connected with the disappearance of the silverware. He was partially successful, and left a business-like impression resting on the minds of the long fingered females, which constrained them to soon place all the missing silverware in Mr. Altschuler's coal house, where they were found by the members of the household, not many hours after the search.

Another of the deserving newspapers that has had a birthday lately is THE MCCOOK TRIBUNE. It is one of the few "all home print" newspapers that reaches The Journal and it is also one of the neatest and best. A great many newspapers in the state would have a hard time giving an excuse for their existence, since a dozen lines or so of local news, a few clipped editorial items and a few horribly and fearfully constructed advertisements, the whole having the appearance of being printed with rusty nails and clayey loam on an inferior grade of wood paper in a cheese press, cannot be said to return value received for subscription price. Such papers as THE TRIBUNE rest the eye that has grown tired searching through a bushel of newspaper chaff for a grain of wheat. May the shadows of Colonel Kimmell and his TRIBUNE never grow less.—Falls City Journal.

SIR KNIGHTS BANQUET.

On last Saturday night at the B. & M. there was gathered a select company of Knights Templar and their ladies from McCook and adjacent towns. The banquet furnished for the occasion under the direct supervision of J. M. Trammel and wife, who came up from Oxford for the purpose, exceeded even the high standard of their usual attempts and all the delicacies of the season were most temptingly displayed.

After the repast Sir Knight H. W. Cole welcomed the ladies and visiting Sir Knights in a neat little speech, which was responded to by Mrs. S. Cordeal for the ladies, and Sir Knight Bishop, of Indianola, for the visiting Knights. Other toasts followed by Sir Knights Green, Wilcox and Cordeal. Those present were:

MR. and MRS. J. A. Wilcox and daughter, MR. and MRS. J. T. Bullard and daughter, MR. and MRS. S. Cordeal and daughter, MR. and MRS. John Hatfield, A. Campbell, A. Snyder, S. L. Green, H. W. Cole, C. E. Pope, T. L. Jones, H. M. Tyler, J. R. Roxby, R. L. Tinker, R. B. Archibald, J. F. Ganschow, G. F. Pronger, Wm. Smith, E. C. Ballew, Mrs. Cora Kelley, C. W. Bronson, Messrs. H. H. Easterday, G. S. Bishop, A. A. Taylor, A. H. Barnes, and J. A. Tubbs.

Work in the Red Cross degree on three Oberlin brethren drew together the Sir Knights of McCook at the B. & M. hotel on Wednesday night, last. The following Sir Knights were present at the feast: J. A. Wilcox, J. T. Bullard, O. E. Reynolds, S. Cordeal, J. R. McFaul, S. L. Green, H. H. Easterday, T. G. Rees, H. W. Cole, J. A. Tubbs, R. B. Archibald, J. F. Ganschow, Wm. Smith, J. L. Landers, E. C. Ballew, J. Adams, G. W. Bertram, A. C. T. Geiges and Wm. A. Burnett.

The finale of the High Five Club's parties was held on Tuesday evening, of this week in the Babcock building. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Troth entertained the club, which is equivalent to saying that the affair was thoroughly clever and enjoyable in every respect. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Brewer, C. F. Babcock, V. Franklin, F. M. Kimmell, H. P. Sutton, J. B. Meserve, S. W. Huddleston, J. C. Birdsell, O. M. Kipple, J. Albert Wells, C. M. Noble, D. E. Bomgardner, Geo. E. Johnston, Mrs. Nellie Johnson and Mrs. M. A. Spaulding. The honors were awarded Mrs. Nellie Johnson and Mr. J. C. Birdsell. The booby prizes were captured by Mrs. H. P. Sutton and Mr. C. T. Brewer without a struggle.

It is quite evident that firmer action is necessary in this matter of lawn sprinkling. The hill portion of the city, under the present condition of affairs, is not only robbed of half their supply of water for lawn sprinkling purposes, but most of the night, if not quite all night, are left practically without fire protection, as the tank is often kept dry all night, by the disregarding of all regulations as to hours etc. While the city fathers are in the business THE TRIBUNE would suggest that they take this crying evil into account. Half the consumers are robbing the other half.

It is a matter to be most sincerely deplored that so much of error and misrepresentation appears in the Omaha Bee concerning this country. The articles are uniformly unreliable and damaging in that they are unreasonably overdrawn and valuable facts are misstated to our harm. It is an injustice to this country, perhaps not intentional, but nevertheless rank, and that which is doubtless intended for our good, in the eyes of sensible men, makes us ridiculous and liars of the very first magnitude. It is about time that the Bee correspondent confines himself somewhere within the lines of truth. We have enough sensational rot.

A farmer by the name of Hoffman, living about thirty miles from here up in Hayes county, has lost four children from scarlet fever within the past two weeks. The remaining two children are sick and their recovery is despaired of. Surely his cup of sorrow runneth over.

MARRIED:—In McCook, June 23d, at the residence of O. D. Keith, Mr. Wm. Upright and Miss Mable Lee, both of Holdrege. Rev. A. W. Coffman officiating.

All members McCook Lodge 61, A. O. U. W., are requested to attend meeting, June 27th, for election of officers.

TAYLOR'S CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE.

The Only Big Show to Exhibit in This Vicinity This Year.

Through an arrangement entered into between the proprietors of the leading shows of the country the great F. J. Taylor shows, which appear in McCook, July 9th, will be the only tented exhibition of any importance that will visit this section of the country this year. Already the circus-loving portion of this community is on the tip-toe of expectancy over the coming of the old reliable F. J. Taylor aggregation; and it can be set down as a certainty that it will attract tremendous crowds. The proprietor of this well known establishment who is the acknowledged leader of the circus business of America, is said to have outdone all previous efforts in this line, both in the novelty of the entertainment and in the wonderful features exhibited. The securing of the umbrella eared elephant, the only one in America, at an enormous outlay of cash, is evidence that the manager of this great show is bound to exhibit to its patrons something new and worthy the great name and reputation it already has. The street parade will be the grandest ever seen here. After the parade a grand free show will be given on the show grounds, which is said to be the best ever given. We confidently predict enormous crowds on July 9th.

Minden at McCook.

About twenty republicans, good and true went from Minden to the McCook convention, which was held yesterday, and all came back feeling proud of their town, proud of McPhee, proud of the glee club and proud of the candidate who was nominated. McPhee was made chairman of the convention, and no convention ever had a better presiding officer. The glee club completely captured the immense crowd with the splendid music it sang, and if the boys had staid they might have been singing yet. The McCook people royally took care of the crowd, and all who were there are much pleased with the trip and result of the convention.—Gazette.

TAX NOTICE.

The delinquent personal tax lists for the city of McCook, Nebraska, have been placed in the hands of C. F. Babcock, deputy sheriff, for collection and can be found at the office of Babcock & Kelley in National Bank building. Parties who have not paid their taxes should call at once and settle, thereby saving costs, as the sheriff is authorized to collect these taxes by legal methods if not paid immediately.

W. T. HENTON, Treasurer.

TAKE NOTICE.

Commencing with Monday, May sixteenth, we will buy hogs only on Mondays of each week, when we will pay the highest market price. We can pay you more money on hogs delivered on one day in the week than we can where they are brought in a few at a time, as we will thus be able to ship full car loads, without holding the hogs at an expense.

It is rumored that Col. Barnes has rented his paper for three months.—Courier.

When Col. Barnes retires from the newspaper business in McCook, the people who used to cuss him and say that he should be given hours to leave town, will hold meetings and lament together that this good man and lustrous journalist is no longer running a paper here. They will declare that Colonel Barnes conducted the only paper in this part of the west worth reading and that Literature received its death blow when he dropped his pen. They will probably follow him to his hermitage and beg of him to take hold of his Trenchant Pen and edit a paper once more, and when he yields to their entreaties and goes into the newspaper business again they will cuss him as of yore, and say that he ought to be fried in axle grease, and buried alive head downward. It's the way human nature runs. Col. Barnes is a complete compendium of all known virtues with a copious glossary of lovable traits, and THE TRIBUNE commends him to the mercy of the public.

"A new postal card for use in foreign mail will be introduced in the postoffices throughout the country on July 1," said Postmaster Troth the other evening. "It is really a double postal card and the principal object of its introduction is to enable correspondents to prepare answers by post. This could not be done with letters and stamps, as those of the latter issued by this government cannot be used in sending mail from other countries to this. The new card will do away with that trouble. Attached to the card on which the original message is written is a duplicate, folded over. The one receiving the card tears off the duplicate and returns it with the answer. The new cards will be sold at four cents each and can be sent to all foreign countries in the postal union."

During the rain storm, last night, the dwelling house in South McCook occupied by Hank Walker, was struck by lightning and considerably shattered, but none of the family were injured, though somewhat stunned for the moment. The chimney and roof were but slightly damaged.
