

STONE ELECTED IN MISSOURI.

Two Republican Congressmen Chosen—J. J. O'Neill Defeated.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9.—In St. Louis the entire national, state and local Republican ticket was successful. Harrison carried the city by 1,000 and Warner by 3,000.

The Republicans here are dissatisfied with the result of yesterday's election in the city. They charge the Democrats with corruption and stoutly maintain that with an honest election and a fair count Warner would have carried the city by at least 10,000 votes. Their indignation also extends to Kansas City. They cannot understand Warner's loss of that city and express themselves as anxious that an attempt should be made to punish Recorder of Voters Oswald.

The purpose of the local election was the defeat of John J. O'Neill, the Democratic nominee for congress, by Charles F. Joy, the Republican nominee in the Eleventh district. This district was the old First, and was gerrymandered so as to make it surely Democratic.

The Democrats claim to have elected thirteen out of the fifteen congressmen and the Republicans do not deny this. The returns make the claim look probable. Besides Joy the Republicans claim to have elected Barthold from the Tenth district, and this they assert is all they expected after the gerrymander of the state accomplished by the Democrats at the last special session of the legislature.

Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 9.—Cleveland carries the city by over 2,000 majority and the county by over 4,000. The entire Democratic state and county ticket is successful. Stone had 259 majority over Warner in the city. Thousands of citizens were disfranchised, and Democrats and Republicans alike condemn the methods of the recorder of voters.

Warner Ahead in Greene County.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 9.—Greene county's vote will not be all in before to-night. Warner has run ahead of his ticket and will carry the county by at least 1,000. The entire Republican county ticket is elected.

Warner Carries Sedalia.

SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 9.—This city gave Warner 326 majority. The county is close for governor. Returns are slow. The Democratic electors probably carry the county by a small majority.

The Second District.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Nov. 9.—Returns from all of the eighteen precincts of Kansas City, Kan., and fourteen of the twenty-two county precincts of Wyandotte county gave Funston a majority of 182 with which go into the other eight precincts. Some of them are large precincts and there was much scratching of Funston's name yesterday all over the county and city. The Harrison electors in these same precincts received a majority over the Weaver electors of about 500 votes, showing that Funston run behind the ticket over 300 votes in these thirty-six precincts.

It is conceded by the Democrats that the Republican state ticket, including congressman at large, will carry Wyandotte county by a small majority.

GARNETT, Kan., Nov. 9.—Anderson county gives the following majorities: Harrison 230, Smith 250, Bruce 250, Anthony 250, Funston 275. The Republican party carries the legislative ticket.

OTTAWA, Kan., Nov. 9.—Franklin county gives the following majorities: Weaver 250, Lewelling for governor 250, Harris for congressman at large 250, Moore for congress 350.

Mr. Cleveland Speaks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Several gentlemen from the Democratic national headquarters went up to see Mr. Cleveland at his residence at about 2 o'clock this morning to congratulate him on his election. There were in the parlor Chairman William F. Harney, Don M. Dickinson, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Charles S. Fairchild, William C. Whitney, C. C. Baldwin, Henry Villard and others.

Mr. Cleveland and Mrs. Cleveland came out on the portico and Mr. Cleveland made a short speech acknowledging the congratulations of a throng which even at that hour had gathered about the home of the president-elect.

Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 9.—Ninety-two precincts in Minnesota outside of the cities give Harrison 7,551, Cleveland 7,205. As compared with the vote cast in the same precincts four years ago there is a Republican loss of 1,254. If the same ratio of loss continues the Harrison electors will have from 12,000 to 15,000 plurality over the straight Democratic electors. The returns on fusionist electors are insufficient to indicate anything as to their vote.

Wisconsin Elects.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 9.—This afternoon the Republicans admit the election of Peck, Democrat, for governor by a small plurality and that the electoral vote goes to Cleveland. Four of the ten congressmen are probably Republicans. The legislature is Democratic and a Democrat will succeed United States Senator Sawyer.

Little Known About Washington.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 9.—Only a few scattering returns have been received from the state of Washington. Two hundred and sixteen precincts in nine counties give Harrison 604, Cleveland 622, Weaver 481, Doolittle 563, Wilson 445, Carroll 678, Monday 468, Knox 437, Van Patten 477.

Ohio Doubtful.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon the Democrats had reported from eighteen counties showing a net gain of 11,050. If this ratio holds good for the remaining sixty-eight counties the state will go Democratic.

Indiana Elects.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—Indiana has gone Democratic by from 3,000 to 4,000. The Democrats elect the governor, ten out of thirteen congressmen and both branches of the legislature.

Oregon for Harrison.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 9.—Harrison will probably have 7,000 majority.

TARIFF KICKERS.

THE BRITISHERS AND DEMOCRATS KICK IN UNISON.

Equally Opposed to Our Protective System—What the English Manufacturers and Newspapers Are Saying—Openly Opposed to Our Tariff.

There can no longer be any doubt that the British free traders are not only very much displeased with our protective tariff policy, but are anxious for Democratic success in the coming election in order to see the tariff destroyed. One of the most striking evidences of this is found in a collection of clippings from British newspapers and trade journals which Hon. A. C. Bowen, of Denver, made while spending a few weeks in England. They show the greatest bitterness on the part of the manufacturers, who say that the American tariff, under the McKinley law and its reciprocity features, is absolutely destroying British commerce in the countries where they have been fostering trade by large expenditures for years.

The British journals make no secret of their hope for Democratic success. The London Times says: "Englishmen can feel little sympathy for either of the parties engaged in this ignoble struggle, but undoubtedly our interests as a trading country must make us wish success to the Democrats, who now, for the first time, go to the polls as the avowed champions of free trade."

Commenting on the advantages which our reciprocity treaties give American commerce over that from Great Britain, The Colliery Guardian, a very influential British industrial journal, complained bitterly that the very countries where Englishmen have invested great sums in public and private enterprises should give American manufacturers great advantages over those of England. It says frankly that the protective policy which the Republican party has fostered and the Democrats opposed has not only made the United States a large producer, but with the additional leverage of reciprocity is forcing our products into the countries where the English have heretofore had their own way. On this subject it says of the Republicans and their policy:

"Their effort is to obtain the monopoly of the trade of the New World, and they are so influencing some of the countries that produce from the United States, as being admitted duty free, whereas the goods of other nations have to pay heavy duties. The McKinley tariff affords an excellent bargaining power when negotiating trade treaties which we in England cannot possess, seeing that in return for any concessions they might make we could give them nothing, because we already admit duty free almost everything we import."

"Last year, it will be remembered, we had one prominent example of this newly inaugurated policy of the United States in the case of its treaty with that large and interesting market, Brazil, which placed us at a great disadvantage in our trade with that country. The hardship of that treatment to our manufacturers cannot be denied, for whatever development there has been in the industries and commerce of that country has been in great part brought about by English aid; British capital has been found to construct the railways and other public works, and private undertakings have been extensively assisted out of English pockets."

"If therefore any nation had a right to have its goods received in Brazil on the most favorable terms it was the British and not the United States, which has done nothing to foster the development of the country, and till the new treaty was signed charged heavy duties on all Brazilian products imported to its shores, whereas for years we have levied no—or at any rate very small—duties. The people of the United States are now therefore reaping where we have sown, and our government, which has been appealed to by the chambers of commerce and various trading bodies appears to be unable to obtain for us better treatment."

"Another instance of this new policy is their treaty with Cuba and Porto Rico. It will be almost impossible for our producers to compete against those of the United States in the Spanish West India islands, and the hardware manufacturers of the midlands, in endeavoring to get our foreign office to move in this matter, have represented that their business with those islands—which is not at all inconsiderable—will be practically annihilated."

Advice from a Valuable Source.

George E. Hahner, of New York city, a first cousin of David B. Hill, says that Harrison will be elected, and that he will have a majority of votes in New York state. Mr. Hahner says that he had a talk with Senator Hill, but declined to divulge the nature of it. "If you have any money to bet place it on Harrison," added Mr. Hahner.

Statistics prepared by a Democratic official, under a Democratic administration, show as clearly as anything can that the tariff is a question of wages and that the McKinley law has been a good thing for the workingman, for in addition to increasing his earnings it has actually reduced the cost of living to a point that has never been touched before in thirty years.

I have had but one thought in my mind. It was to use whatever influence had been confided to me for the general good of all our people.—President Harrison at Indianapolis.

NIGHTMARES.

THEY ARE TROUBLING THE DEMOCRATIC LEADERS NIGHTLY.

The Issues Which the Platform Opponents Are Proving Troublesome—The Voters Are Pleased with Present Conditions and Can't Be Persuaded to Change.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The evidences of Democratic alarm over the political situation continue to make themselves apparent. The frequent conferences between Mr. Cleveland and the various members of the committee which is trying to run the campaign indicate great anxiety. And there seems little reason to believe that the developments have been very satisfactory. The nightmare of free trade, wildcat currency, pension votes and other peculiarities of the Democratic platform seems to disturb them. With Democrats at every hand denouncing the free trade plank of the platform, English newspapers expressing a hope of Democratic success, leaders of the Farmers' Alliance denouncing the wildcat money scheme which is made a prominent part of the party's principles, old soldiers getting ready to avenge Mr. Cleveland's treatment of their comrades, and a bitter fight continuing to rage between the two factions of the party here, the chances for Democratic success seem to be exceedingly slim.

Harmony That Doesn't Count.

There is a good deal of disappointment among Democrats over the evident failure of the attempt at harmony which Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Dickinson put up. The more the matter is studied the more evident it appears that the attempt was unsuccessful. The attack made by the national committee upon Labor Commissioner Peck within a few hours of the time of Mr. Cleveland's dinner to certain of the Hill following seems to have upset any prospects of harmony that may have been hoped for as a result of that dinner. Commissioner Peck is a close friend of Senator Hill, and as such the attack made upon him by the national committee is naturally, and quite properly, resented by Senator Hill's friends generally.

In a Peck of Trouble.

The efforts of the Democratic national committee to discredit and generally tear to pieces Commissioner Peck's report create a good deal of amusement. It is evident that they are hard hit. Word comes from all the state and all over the United States that it is proving a very damaging thing for the Democrats, and is evidence out of the mouths of their own party of the fallacy of their free trade theories. The utmost efforts which they have made to discredit it or lessen its effects have been unsuccessful.

The Wildcat Currency Troubles Them.

Another feature of the campaign which is giving the Democrats a good deal of anxiety is the prominence of that feature of their platform relating to a repeal of the tax on state bank notes, with the purpose of returning to the wildcat currency of antebellum times. This proposition is condemned by all classes of citizens. There is not a man found willing to open his mouth in its favor, and people are now wondering how it is that it was ever put into the platform. The explanation is found in the frantic attempt which the authors of the platform were making to satisfy in some way the demand of the south and west for "more money." As they were unable to put free silver into the platform upon which they were to put Mr. Cleveland as a candidate, they felt in duty bound to do something else to placate that element demanding "more money," and to prevent it from going over to the third party. Hence it was that the repeal of the tax on state banks was proposed. It was simply a tub thrown to the "more money" wains, but it promises to prove very disastrous to the people who threw it. With the president of the Farmers' Alliance, of New York protesting against this proposition as one which would bring disaster to the country generally and to farmers in particular, the leaders of the party begin to see plainly that they have made a mess of it in this particular and wish that the wildcat scheme was out of their platform.

The Rainbow Chasers.

The rainbow chasers seem to have subsided. You hear scarcely anything more of the talk about carrying western states. The "sick Cleveland fund" is a dead failure. With a hundred or two hundred newspapers all over the country clamoring for subscriptions, the total aside from the amount subscribed by three or four newspapers which expected to get an advertisement out of the scheme, is a mere trifle, and shows that the people are taking no interest and have no confidence in the claim that it is possible to carry any western state.

English Support the Democrats.

Another circumstance which has depressed Democratic stock materially is the arrival of a number of English newspapers complaining bitterly of the injury being done to English markets and manufactures by the McKinley tariff and its accompanying feature of reciprocity. These statements show that the British manufacturers and exporters are already conceding heavy losses in their business with other countries by reason of the new American tariff. The reciprocity feature of the tariff is distressing them greatly. The fact that the United States is able to send its goods free of duty into countries where British goods have been going in great quantities under a heavy tariff payment is damaging their trade very greatly and proportionately improving that of the United States.

Republicans Cheerful and Confident.

On the other hand the Republicans are in excellent shape. There is perfect harmony in their ranks, the business people and the masses find themselves well satisfied with the prosperity which the Republican tariff and a Republican system of finances has brought, and there are accessions to the ranks of the party from every direction; not only from those who were formerly in the Democratic party, but from the intelligent young voters who are this time to cast their first ballot.

The laws of health are taught in our schools; but not in a way to be of much practical benefit and are never illustrated by living examples, which in many cases could easily be done. If some scholar who had just contracted a cold was brought before the school, so that all could hear the dry loud cough, and know its significance; see the thin white coating on the tongue, and later as the cold develops, see the profuse watery expectoration and thin watery discharge from the nose, not one of them would ever forget what the first symptoms of a cold are. The scholar should then be given Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely that all might see that even a severe cold can be cured in one or two days, or at least greatly mitigated, when properly treated as soon as the first symptoms appear.
