

OUTING SHOES.

It long ago seemed as though shoes could never be better and never be cheaper, but they are better now and cheaper now than they ever were before. The great every day favorite is our men's and ladies' shoe. It is as much a boon to the pocketbook as it is to the feet. It won't wear you out to wear it out. You don't need to take care of it; it takes care of itself. It will give you solid comfort for the simple reason that a better shoe for knockabout purposes has never been produced. If prices never appealed to you before, the price of this shoe will, for it costs only $2.50. It will look nicer and wear longer than any shoe on earth.

The burning of some weeds along the railroad track on the west side, Monday noon, caused the fire alarm to be sent in, and a crowd quickly assembled; but the fire was easily controlled without the aid of the department, being beyond reach of any fire plugs at all events.

STRAYED—From the old Starbuck farm east of McCook, two 2-year-old heifers—one red with white face and the other black with white face; two yearling heifers—one black and white and the other red and white; one yearling bull—red in color. A suitable reward will be paid for their recovery. H. J. HANSEN. Box Elder, Neb., Nov. 2, 1892.

The horseshoe superstition is very old. The ancients believed that iron, as a metal, had unknown powers, and would drive nails into the walls to keep off pestilence. It has always been thought uncommonly lucky to find a piece of metal, and as horseshoes were the form in which it was most frequently found, the superstitious regard came to be transferred from the material to the shape.

McCook lodge No. 61, A. O. U. W., have issued 300 invitations to their first annual complimentary banquet to be given in Meeker hall, Monday evening next. It promises to be one of the Workmen's finest efforts at entertaining themselves and friends, and will be largely attended.

A small but enthusiastic meeting of the pushers of the gymnasium scheme was held Monday night and a committee appointed to get an estimate of the cost of the apparatus needed, and to report at the next meeting, Friday night at J. Albert Wells' store at nine o'clock. It is hoped that every one interested in this will be out.

Master Shed Huddleston had the misfortune to fall down into the area way in front of the First National bank building, a few days since, cutting a bad gash in his head, which the surgeon had to sew up. He is doing very nicely, however, and will soon be ready for another adventure, though his bump of caution has doubtless been somewhat enlarged by his recent mishap.

The grip is already making its appearance in the eastern states, coming early and evidently taking off its things for a long stay. It will cost more lives and suffering hundreds of times over than the cholera which touched our shores during the summer, and will be even more difficult to fight. Medical science seems to be helpless upon the approach of this perplexing and annoying disease.

Monday Judge Welty heard the divorce case of Joseph S. Holmes against his wife Janette Holmes, in our city at chambers. A decree was granted, Mr. Holmes being required to pay the costs of the suit and an attorney's fee of $25 for his late wife.

During the high wind of Saturday night the northern horizon was brightly lighted up by a fierce prairie fire, which, however, was quite distant, and no accounts of devastation or damage have reached us. The wind reached the proportions of a gale, and was decidedly uncomfortable to the more or less nervous citizen.

C. W. Paine has disposed of his harness shop to W. W. McMillen and is now packing his household effects preparatory to joining his parents in California, where they have decided to pass the remainder of their days. The business will be conducted at the old stand rear of the Famous.

There have recently been some startling disclosures, so we are informed, of the existence of a free coinage establishment in Bartley, at a not remote date. Numerous evidences of the operators' handiwork have come to light, in the quite correct form of dollars of our daddies, gold twenties, and other indications of misplaced genius and industry.

The dance in the opera house, last Friday evening, was in the nature of a farewell in honor of George Berry, whose departure for Illinois, this week, will be regretted by a large circle of friends. It was a very pleasant affair and was participated in by a large and enthusiastic company of young people of the city. Prof. Reizenstein's orchestra provided the music.

Statesmanship of a high order will be required to guide the forthcoming administration clear of a financial crash. If the tariff is reduced then government expenditures must be cut down or there will be a yearly deficit. At present the government is expending more than its revenues from all sources. If the tariff revenues are reduced and the pension list continues to increase, the graduated income tax proposition will force itself to the front.

The trustees of the Wesleyan university at Lincoln, having decided to locate four seminaries in the state and having published notice of a meeting of the trustees to be held at Holdrege on Nov. 22, 1892, a meeting of a few business men of McCook met at Dr. Welles' office and decided to present at the meeting, the advantages of McCook for the location of one of the seminaries, and appointed a committee consisting of Rev. A. W. Coffman, Dr. A. P. Welles and J. A. Wilcox to attend the meeting at Holdrege and present the claims of McCook.

It will interest many people to know that the sunflower, which grows more freely and naturally than any other plant in this part of the west, is possessed of some qualities of practical value. In Russia, where the sunflower is much cultivated, its seeds are made to yield a palatable oil for culinary purposes and the residuum is used as fodder for cattle. For the latter purpose it is in great demand in Great Britain, Denmark, Germany and Sweden. The plant is cultivated on a commercial basis in Russia and has been fifty years. It is a common product of the whole and southeastern Russia and its cultivation is becoming very common. One advantage of sunflower culture is that it does not exhaust the soil. No doubt corn is more profitable in Nebraska, but perhaps a thrifty farmer might get some thing out of the sunflowers that grow in rank luxuriance upon his waste land.

WEAVER-RUSSELL.

Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. S. H. Colvin, in the presence of a goodly company of relatives and invited friends of the high contracting parties, Rev. D. L. McBride spoke the words which united in the bonds of wedlock Mr. Alexander Weaver and Miss Matie I. Russell, both of our city. The groom is a young man of exemplary character and a valued employe of the Burlington in the machinists corps. The bride is the estimable and amiable daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Russell, and has long efficiently filled the position of clerk in her brother-in-law's office.

Following the marriage ceremony was a wedding feast of most ample and attractive proportions, which was not overlooked by the guests, but enjoyed by all in a way altogether gratifying to the authors.

The happy couple left on the night train for Denver on a brief honeymoon, taking with them the warmest well-wishes and congratulations of many friends, among which THE TRIBUNE desires to be enumerated. Upon their return they will occupy rooms with Mrs. Cora Kelley, corner of Dennison and Monroe.

That they were handsomely remembered by relatives and friends, the following list of tokens is substantial evidence:

- Rocker—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Russell.
- Berry Dish—Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Colvin and B. F. Olcott.
- Chocolate Set—Gold Russell and Will Critser.
- Fruit Knives—Grace and Ray Colvin.
- Set Tea Spoons—Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Brewer.
- Set of Knives and Forks—Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Cochran.
- Silver Cake Basket—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lewis and Eva.
- Silver Butterdish—Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Campbell.
- Clock—Mr. and Mrs. W. R. and S. M. Cole.
- Silver Bonbon Dish—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dwyer.
- Silver Salad Spoon—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kruyer, Aurora, Ill.
- Tennyson's Poems—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kneeland.
- Rocker—S. J. Jordan and family, Sutherland, Iowa.
- Silver Pepper and Salts—Mr. and Mrs. F. Fewell.
- Set of Fruit Plates—Wm. Brown and sister.
- Silver Cake Basket—S. A. and May Moore.
- Tea Cosey—Miss Nellie Brown.
- Silver Berry Spoon—Miss Dessa Hileman, Davenport, Iowa.
- Silver Bread Tray—Mrs. Nellie Slater, Nellie Johnson and Cora Kelley.
- Mirror—Misses Luvia Furbush and Ettie Hamilton.
- Throw—Miss Lillian Rowell.
- Rug—Miss Sara Lowman.
- Silver Vase—F. G. Westland.
- Pickle Castor—H. L. Davison.
- Dresser Scarf—Miss Ella Colvin, Cambridge, Neb.
- China Pitcher—Harrison Russell.
- Set Towels—Jessie and Floyd Russell.
- Pair Vases—Guy Russell.
- Bouquet—Mrs. C. B. Rowell.
- Hand Painted Banner—Eliza Olcott.

Horses for Sale.

Wayson & Odell keep horses for sale at their livery barn opposite the Central hotel.

A Week's Work.

S. H. Colvin informs THE TRIBUNE that he has sold six quarter sections of land in the vicinity of McCook, during the past week, to various parties, for a total sum of even ten thousand dollars—and it wasn't a very good week for selling land either.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

St. Patrick's Church Fair.

Which opened in the opera house on Tuesday evening, closed last night in a whirl of excitement and gaiety. The attendance throughout was good, being unusually large upon the closing night. The patronage received was generous, the receipts from all sources aggregating over a thousand dollars. The competition for various articles which were voted off was close and keen. The different contests resulted as follows:

- The diamond ring was won by Miss Lizzie Carroll.
- The silver water pitchers by Mr. Harry Barbazette.
- The handsome sideboard by Mrs. James V. O'Connell.
- Silver tea set, Mr. Thomas Haley.
- Suit of boy's clothes, Master Frank Cullen.
- Set of harness, Mr. M. C. Wayson.
- All in all the fair was a success the promoters may feel much gratification over.
- Father Magevney of Denver and Father English of Hastings were present during the continuance of the fair.

Supper will be served in the Menard opera house, this evening, by the ladies of St. Patrick's congregation from 6 to 12. Admission free. All are welcome.

The following poetic directions for tea making are painted on many of the teapots used in the Celestial empire: "On a slow fire, set a tripod; fill it with clear rainwater. Let it as long as it would be needed to turn fish white and lobster red; throw this upon delicate leaves of choice tea; let it remain as long as the vapor rises in a cloud. At your ease drink the pure liquor, which will chase away the five causes of trouble."

For table decorations this fall a bunch of yellow chrysanthemums in a tall, slender glass vase as a centre piece and one of these flowers laid at each plate is a popular idea.

Supper will be served in the Menard opera house, this evening, by the ladies of St. Patrick's congregation from 6 to 12. Admission free. All are welcome.

Velvet is much worn this winter for street costumes, even children appearing in rich cloaks of the soft material which not long ago was used exclusively for evening.

Charles H. Mehagan, who was quite seriously injured in the eating-house fire, was sufficiently recovered to leave for Chicago on 6 today.

Mrs. Randall, who lives a few miles northwest of the city, and who has been quite ill for some time, is now well on the way to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Todd were the guests of McCook relatives, fore part of the week, returning to Plattsmouth on Monday morning.

Mrs. G. W. Daniels, wife of Culbertson's leading merchant, was the guest of Mrs. Vina Wood, this week.

Presiding Elder Mastin of this district was in the city, last night, on business of the cloth.

Mrs. W. A. Peck, who lived south of Vailton, died on last Saturday of consumption.

There is little prospect that the eating-house will be rebuilt.
