$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

We may be truly thankful for the essential brevity of the present session of congress.

The Benkelman News proudly announces its evacuation of the fence, and its espousal "until death doth us part" of simon-pure republicanism.

JOHN M. THURSTON has a host of loyal supporters among the weekly press, for the senatorship. But the pencil pushers have no votes.

THE Baltimore (bankers') plan is the president's idea of a financial policy, to a gnat's heel. But the plan may not be said to be so popular with the people.

SPEAKING of the speakership, Representative John J. Lamborn of Red Willow county is talked of by his many friends and would be in certain contingencies a strong candidate.—Lincoln Journal.

THE president's message to the closing session of the 53d congress which convened at Washington on Tuesday of this week, is of appalling length, though not so startling in its diction and views as some of the president's past messages. It is declared, on the whole, unsatisfactory to both parties, though quite Clevelandesque.

Mrs. Trissell, who lived about five miles northwest of Bartley in Alliance precinct, was almost instantly killed, Monday afternoon, about two miles north of Indianola, in a runaway accident. Her brother was walking along side of the wagon driving the team, he stumbled and fell, and the driverless team ran away. Mrs. Trissell jumped from the wagon, striking the ground on her head, probably breaking her neck, receiving injuries at all events from which she died in about ten minutes.

Cards are out announcing the approaching nuptials of Harry Z. Owen of Chipeta, Colorado, and Lila Welborn of Indianola. The ceremony will be performed at the residence of J. W. Welborn, next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. They will be at home to their friends at Chipeta, Colorado, after March 1st, 1895. Miss Welborn is one of Indianola's most estimable daughters, and has been one of the teachers in her public school, the past fall term. ### NOVELTIES IN LADIES' SKIRTS.

The portion of the costume which seems to be the leading subject of enquiry at the present moment is the skirt. While bodies and sleeves are following to some extent the general lines of the former season, skirts are the absorbing theme of interest in the new importations. Great is their variety. The question of choice embraces an extensive field, both of extreme novelties and simple, practical designs. Models to suit every taste and occasion are illustrated in the popular "McDowell Fashion Journals" which we have at hand. One finds, moreover, in these magazines in their coupon patterns, a feature exceedingly convenient for those who desire a cheaper grade of patterns than the more expensive made up models. Among these coupon patterns are seen some artistic, practical skirt designs filling very appropriately a general demand for the latter. "La Mode De Paris" and "Paris Album of Fashion" cost $3.50 each per annum, or 35 cents per copy. "The French Dressmaker" is $3.00 a year or 30 cents per copy. "La Mode" which is the best home magazine of its kind, costs only $1.50 a year or 15 cents per copy. If you are unable to procure any of these journals from your newsdealer, do not take substitutes from him, but apply by mail directly to Messrs. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th Street, New York.
