Our esteemed young friends Oscar Yarger, the genial telegraph operator, and Carl Jenkins, the popular band master, have spurned the winsome smiles of their lady friends and determined on a life of perennial celibacy, having elaborately furnished a suite of rooms over Ducker's store. Their reasons for wanting to "bach" are numerous. One says that by so doing their living is not so expensive. Another says that their food will be more hearty, and Stewart Albright thinks it was all done so they can come home at 2 a. m. "without the folks getting on." Their rooms are nicely arranged with "brussels carpet on the floor, and street cars running by the door," also a fine library and dissecting room. It is said that they have pneumatic tubes running down to Geo. Lindsey's shop for meat, and another running to Miner Bros' store for groceries. They haven't laid the tube to Polinsky's place of business yet. The rooms are heated by electricity furnished by the cats which hold nocturnal visits on their back porch. There used to be a poker table in the dissecting room, but Jenkins tore the dog-blasted thing up, and makes Yarger say his prayers before breakfast. The first bushel of beans cooked were thrown away by Yarger, because he said they were wormy, when in fact they were the best of beans, but simply had dark germs, and the same day Jenkins used rough on rats for baking powder, and upset a can of hot lard on himself when he discovered his error. Several of their bachelor friends dined with them Sunday, at which time was served a feast far ahead of anything ever had in Red Cloud. But for lack of space we would give the menu.—Red Cloud Chief.

A Sad and Fatal Accident.

Bert Williams, aged sixteen years, son of John S. Williams of Perry precinct, this county, accidentally and fatally shot himself with a twenty-two calibre revolver, Tuesday afternoon about half past four o'clock, the bullet entering his right eye and lodging in the brain on the left side of his head, causing death at about six o'clock on the following morning.

Deceased was out on the Republican river near Perry siding with a party of geese hunters. Not having a gun he was told to lie down on the bank of the river while the other members of the party slipped up on a flock of geese near by to the river. The party had not gone far before they heard the report and the subsequent splashing in the water where the young man fell in his agony. They hurried to his rescue, and the injured boy was taken to his home near Perry and medical assistance summoned. But it was a fatal shot. The bullet had coursed to the left side of the head from the entrance at the right eye, the entire left side soon became paralyzed and death ensued about six o'clock on the following morning, the injured boy being conscious to the end, and stating that the revolver had been accidentally discharged and shot him.

The family moved into that section about two years since. This tragic death of their son is a crushing blow to them, and the profoundest sympathy of all goes out to them in their deep sorrow.

Rev. Fr. Hickey conducted the funeral services in St. Patrick's church of this city at 10:30 A. M., Thursday, and the remains were interred in the parish cemetery.

SPECIMEN CASES.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wisconsin, was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Illinois had a running sore on his leg of 8 years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklin's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, Ohio, had five large fever sores on his leg. Doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box of Bucklin's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at McMillen's drugstore.

Parks' sure cure is a sure specific in all diseases of the liver and kidneys. By removing the uric acid in the blood it cures rheumatism. S. B. Basfor of Carthage, S. D., says: "I believe Parks' sure cure excels all other medicines for rheumatism and urinary troubles." Sold by McMillen.
