$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

DANBURY.

The ground is becoming dry and needs moisture.

John and Will Leisure visited the commercial centre, Tuesday.

Still there are a few emigrants going back to their wives' folks.

This week Frank Everist moved out onto his ranch on the Driftwood.

George Woods has gone east to enter a government training school for seamen.

There was some frost in this locality, last Friday and Saturday nights, and the fruit was injured a little.

The Danbury base ball club will play the Cedar Bluffs team, next Saturday, the 18th instant, on the home grounds.

The county teachers' association meeting held here, last Saturday, was not so well attended, on account no doubt of the bad weather of the forenoon.

George W. Woods was fifth in the standing of those who recently took the examination for admission to Annapolis. His total average was 73 10-27. The average of the winner was 84 11-27.

Hon. F. W. Collins of Lincoln delivered a fine lecture before the county teachers here, last Saturday. The lecture was largely attended and greatly enjoyed. Dean McBrien of the Orleans academy accompanied him.

F. W. Collins has returned from a trip to Red Willow county. Saturday night he delivered a lecture at Danbury, before the teachers on "Our Boys." He was taken on a tour of the county by some friends, and he said he never before saw so prosperous looking a community anywhere in the state. The fields of alfalfa were enough to bring joy to any farmer's heart, and the prospects were never better. He thinks that this county will get to the front in short order if alfalfa, as it is said to be, is really the salvation of Nebraska.—Lincoln Journal.

INDIANOLA.

Councilman Hager indulged in a flying visit to McCook, Saturday evening.

Sheriff and Mrs. Banks and C.H. Russell were visitors in the "valley's finest," Saturday evening.

G. W. Swiggart and Lydia Worth were united in marriage at Box Elder, Wednesday.

One of our youthful Nimrods recently went gunning for bluejays, on the classic Coon creek, and just narrowly missed bagging a "jay and a chippie." Are you on?

Treasurer Meserve has been up at the metropolis, part of the week, assisting in the delivery of the hogs he recently sold to C. T. Brewer. His wife accompanied him, visiting her daughter.

Charlie Lehn of McCook will lead one of the fair daughters of this neighborhood to Hymen's altar, Tuesday of next week. The ceremony will be performed by Father Sproll. Here are our congratulations in advance.

Our esteemed and well-meaning Courier, last week, found considerable fault with the open immorality of McCook. And this suggests to our mind the question, which the Courier may answer at pleasure: "Which, think you, is the more objectionable, recognized haunts of vice, or the resort to livery stables, box cars or the thickets of classic Coon creek?" If the Courier exhibits judgment in answering this question another one may be propounded something like this: "Which has the more demoralizing effect upon the community, the open saloon, or the boot-legger and side door drug store?" These will do for a starter. We have in mind a number more.

PROSPECT PARK.

Quite a number have quit listing; too dry.

Miss Nellie Brown of McCook visited Miss Mattie Shears, Monday.

Banksville was treated to a law suit and a knock-down, all in one day, last week.

C. G. and Charles Boatman took a trip to the county-seat, Saturday, returning home Sunday.

Mrs. James Boatman was quite sick, the fore part of the week, but is better at this writing.

Mrs. E. F. Duffey departed on No. 4, Friday evening, to join Mr. Duffey and the girls in Galesburg, Illinois.

Quite a runaway occurred near Mr. Dunham's place, the other day, in which Charlie Shears' cart came out second best.

MARRIED—At the home of the bride in Tyrone precinct, Sunday, May 12th, 1895, Justice Frank Moore officiating, M. A. Richard of Livingston, Montana, and Maud Goreley. Both the young people are well known here, the groom having been a former resident. The young couple expect to make their home in Livingston.—Tyrone correspondence Courier.

BEAVER CITY is said to have two candidates for the judgeship at least: Lawyer Norris, republican, and Lawyer McClure, populist. We suggest that Editor Kelley, democrat, be added to round out the matter properly.

WELLS!

Frank Nichols guarantees the wells he sinks. Leave orders at Cochran & Co's. Prompt attention will be given the same.

COLEMAN.

W. M. Rozell has a fine stand of corn large enough to cultivate.

M. H. Cole and William Sharp were in Driftwood precinct, Wednesday, doing a little work for Mr. Taylor.

Mrs. Cole and son Arthur, mother and brother of M. H. Cole, who have been visiting here for two months, left for their Iowa home, Wednesday morning.

Mrs. W. K. Forsey was summoned, last Saturday, to come at once to the bed side of her mother who is very sick in the eastern part of the state. She left on Sunday morning.

On last Friday, as Mrs. Corner was lifting a can of milk her right shoulder suddenly gave way and since then she has had no use of her right arm. It is possible there is, at least, a partial misplacement of the shoulder. The shoulder has become so tender and sensitive that the slightest touch causes excruciating pain.

This week, Mrs. William Coleman and daughter Gertie were papering the house. For a scaffold they used two barrels placed six or seven feet apart, and on these was a 4x4 about two feet long, and a 2x4 plank was laid on these 4x4 pieces. At the time the plank projected over one of these pieces at one end about two feet. Mrs. Coleman was standing on this end of the plank at the time. Gertie, not noticing this, stepped down onto a chair. As soon as her weight was off of the plank it flew up and threw Mrs. Coleman violently backward, landing her on her shoulders about the middle of a feather bed, which had been wheeled to that favored position but a few seconds before. Had it not been for this results would have been, in all probability, of a very serious nature, if not fatal. While as it was their gymnasium feat made them laugh till they cried, while Uncle Billy snickered.

RED WILLOW.

Mrs. P. J. Taylor spent the Sabbath at the old home on the Willow.

There will be an ice cream supper at James Woodworth's, Tuesday evening.

Red Willow school is in active preparation for a school exhibition at the close of the school year.

The Red Willow Y. P. S. C. E. send Jackie Longnecker and Charlie B. field as delegates to the convention at Arapahoe.

The frost of Saturday night damaged the fruit a good deal. Not even wild grape jelly will tickle our palates, this year.

Sheriff Banks informs us that he has not revoked C. F. Babcock's commission as deputy sheriff, as reported by us in our last issue, nor does he intend to do so. He simply deputized Mr. Jordan as a favor and at the urgent request of Mayor Kelley.—Courier.

The general report from over the county is that rain is needed—in some localities more urgently than in others—but needed everywhere; while the small grain prospect is for the most part practically nihil.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

NORTH DIVIDE NUBBINS.

Small grain looks well at this writing, but a good rain is needed.

The writer was absent from home the greater part of last week, consequently no nubbins.

George Henderson was quite badly bruised and shaken up on the way home from church, Sunday evening. His pony became unmanageable and "acted up" desperately.

Two more deals and the aid business at Box Elder will be a thing of the past. A good deal of dissatisfaction exists among those who have been assisted the most, and without apparent cause or reason.

We understand that Ben Johnson has found work up near Kearney, Nebraska, where he expects to stay for the next three or four months. As might be expected, Ben and the big fiddle are more than missed.

Miss Topsy arrived from the east, one day last week, nicely arrayed in a black and red gown, yellow spotted sun bonnet, and snow white apron. Miss Topsy is quite young, of pleasing form and features, has black hair and blacker eyes, is very quiet and reserved and does not seem to be worried at all at the dry weather—and our dryer prospects. Her friend and companion, Miss Dinah, lives just over the way, and she also has a sweet, quiet nature, as those who know her best say she never talks back.
