

Nebraska - State - Fair.

Omaha, Sept. 20-24.

The Burlington Route's arrangements in connection with the 1897 State Fair are as follows:

RATES.

One fare for the round trip, plus fifty cents for admission to the Fair. Selling dates, Sept. 10 to 24. Return limit, Sept. 25.

In addition, a rate of $6.50 for the round trip (fifty cents of which is for admission) will be in effect September 21 and 22 from stations in Nebraska and Kansas where the regular one-way rate to Omaha is $6.00 or more.

TRAIN SERVICE.

For Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 22 and 23, the Burlington Route has arranged a very complete service of special trains from points within 150 miles of Omaha. These trains will have through coaches on the Fair grounds and will arrive there not later than 11:30 a. m. Returning, they will leave the Fair Grounds at 7:00 p. m., and Omaha station at 7:05 p. m. Wednesday, Sept. 22, for Grand Island, Burwell, Arcadia, Hastings, Wymore, Schuyler, Superior (via De Witt and Edgar) and intermediate stations.

Thursday, Sept. 23, special trains for Hastings, Grand Island, Wymore (via Crete), Wymore (via Table Rock and Pawnee), Schuyler and intermediate stations will leave Omaha station at 11 p. m., after Ak-Sar-Ben Parade. Visitors are thus enabled to spend practically a whole day at the Fair or in the city, as preferred, reaching home the same day.

See small bills or consult local ticket agent for time of departure from your station, arrival at Omaha, through cars, etc.

THE STATE FAIR.

This year's State Fair will be a reminder of the prosperous days of the '80's when big crops and high prices were the rule. The Nebraska exhibits will be more numerous and of higher grade than those of any previous year. An unusually large representation of eastern exhibitors is expected. During Fair week and on the Fair grounds, the Fall races of the Omaha Fair and Speed Association will be held. Many of the fastest horses in the country are already entered. Holders of admission tickets to the State Fair are admitted to the race-track without extra charge.

THE PARADES.

Tuesday, September 21st, Military and Civic Parade, Wednesday, September 22nd, Mechanical Parade, Thursday, September 23rd, Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Parade, Friday, September 24th, Ak-Sar-Ben Ball.

The street parades, particularly the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Parade, will be very enjoyable features of the week's festivities. No effort or expense is being spared that will redound to the credit and pleasure of the guests. The entire business portion of the city will be elaborately decorated and brilliantly illuminated. Everywhere will be banners, bunting and electric lights.

J. FRANCIS, General Passenger Agent, Omaha, Neb.

IT SAVES THE CROPPY CHILDREN.

THE INFLUENCE

of the Mother shapes the course of unborn generations—goes sounding through all the ages and enters the confines of Eternity. With what care, therefore, should the Expectant Mother be guarded, and how great the effort be to ward off danger and make her life joyous and happy.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

allays all Nervousness, relieves the Headache, Cramps, and Nausea, and so fully prepares the system that Childbirth is made easy and the time of recovery shortened—many say "stronger after than before confinement." It insures safety to life of both mother and child. All who have used "Mother's Friend" say they will never be without it again. No other remedy robs confinement of its pain.

"A customer whose wife used 'Mother's Friend,' says that if she had to go through the ordeal again, and there were but four bottles to be obtained, and the cost was $100.00 per bottle, she would have them." GEO. LAYTON, Dayton, Ohio

STRIVING TO PLEASE.

THE ADVANCE AGENT TELLS HOW HIS FRIENDS OBSERVED THIS RULE.

A Manager of a Pyrotechnic Show Who Didn't Want to Disappoint His Audience—A Monument Which Proves That His Efforts Were Appreciated.

"I always strive to please," remarked the dramatic editor, as he scratched the words "big thing" out of the advance notice he was writing and substituted "megatherian aggregation."

"Thanks, I am sure," said the advance agent, as he read over the few lines the dramatic critic was giving to him, and carefully put back into his pocket the half column notice he had first drawn on the d. c.

"I presume," smiled the d. c., "that you always strive to please, too, don't you?"

"Not always"—in a semidissatisfied tone—"but I used to have a friend who did. He really was the most self denying chap I ever saw, and what he wouldn't do to please an audience wasn't worth doing."

"Where is he now?"

"Dead."

"Yes, it killed him. It was this way: He was in the pyrotechnic branch of the dramatic art and used to give shows at one of those imitation Coney Islands to be found on nearly every sand bar in nearly every river tributary to the Mississippi. He had been the originator of the fireworks feature at this place, and his phenomenal success had made him so proud that he would sooner have died than had a failure. One Fourth of July he was going to give the grandest display of his life, and the feature in the biggest letters on the bill was a set piece, 100 feet high, with an enormous balloon loaded with fireworks to go up from the top as a grand finale. There were ten times as many people there that night as there had ever been, and my friend was feeling so good you could see it in his walk.

"Everybody was on edge, too, for the grand blaze of glory the management had been advertising for weeks, and when, promptly at the hour of 10 o'clock, my friend stepped forth like a peacock to set off the great display with his own hand there was a round of applause, followed by a dead silence as the audience sat breathless watching for the burst of blazing glory. But somehow it didn't burst. The professor fired the train and retreated to a safe place, but the powder wouldn't burn. It fizzled and went out instead. Once, twice, thrice, it fizzled, sputtered and went out, and then the crowd began to growl and guff, as crowds always will, and the professor began to get wild.

"Several other attempts to set the piece off were no more successful, and at last, with a smothered scream of crazy rage, he shot up the ladder of the tower to its very top, where he had a platform stored with all sorts of inflammable and explosive things arranged to go off at the proper time. He stood there a moment silhouetted against the sky, the crowd indulging in gibes and jeers, with now and then a threat as to what he might expect if he would only come down to the ground. This was his time to show what he could do to please his audience, and in a minute, and before anybody had any idea what he would do next, he caught up an armful of the explosives about him, fastened them to his clothes and hung wreaths and rings over his neck and shoulders, and, setting the whole thing afire, he swung out into the air in the balloon, which was already tugging at its anchor.

"As the balloon shot up it was a terrific sight, and the poor devil's shrieks added to the intensity of the scene, already lurid with red and blue lights, while the air was filled with all manner of bursting bombs and crashing explosives. Women fainted, men ran helplessly about shouting, and still the balloon swept upward with its fiery freight and passenger, until, when it had reached a point 1,000 feet above the earth, it caught fire and the whole burning mass shot like a blazing ball straight to the ground.

"You will be safe in betting those people never saw such an exhibition as that before, nor will they ever again in all probability, and when it was over," concluded the agent, "the audience seemed to realize what the professor had done to please them, and they chipped in and built him a monument where he fell, having on it, besides his name and the proper dates, no other inscription except 'He strived to please.'"

The dramatic critic was at least half a minute in recovering his speech after the recital of this remarkable tale, and before he could ask any questions the advance agent had folded his tent like a circus and stolen away to the office of the next dramatic critic he had to call upon.—Washington Star.

A Toad as a Talisman.

The Western Morning News reports a remarkable case of superstition. A young woman in Penzance had suffered from fits, and she adopted a remedy which would be to most people almost as repulsive as the disease itself. She procured a live toad, placed it in a bag, hung it around her neck and carried it next her body. The woman was cured of her fits, but she was being medically attended at the Pensance infirmary at the same time. The woman believes, however, that this was a coincidence and that her strange talisman was the instrument of her cure.—South Wales News.

A Different Matter.

The Man (expectantly)—Then you will be my wife?

The Girl—No, indeed. I simply said I loved you.—New York Ledger.

To Live.

To live is to have justice, truth, reason, devotion, probity, sincerity, common sense, right and duty welded into the heart.—Victor Hugo.

SUMMONS BY PUBLICATION.

In the District Court of Red Willow county, Nebraska.

The State of Nebraska, to J. Byron Jennings, James A. Crawford and Jennie R. Crawford, his wife, defendants:

You, and each of you, are hereby notified that you have been sued, together with Vina W. Jennings, alias Vina W. Woods, E. C. McKay, John H. Moore, Nettie Moore, his wife, Sidney A. Speer, Ollie Speer, his wife, and The Huddleston Lumber Company, a corporation, as co-defendants, by Asahel L. Clark, plaintiff, in the district court of Red Willow county, Nebraska, and that on or before the 18th day of October, 1897, you must answer the petition in Chancery filed therein by said plaintiff against said defendants, wherein plaintiff prays for a decree of said court foreclosing a mortgage given by defendants J. Byron Jennings and Vina W. Jennings, alias Vina W. Woods, to the Lombard Investment Company, dated October 27th, 1896, now owned by plaintiff, and covering the following described real estate situated in said Red Willow county, Nebraska, to-wit: The North one hundred and forty-five (145) acres of the Northwest quarter of Section fifteen (15) in Township two (2) North, Range thirty (30), West of the Sixth P. M.

Said petition further prays that the rights, titles and interests of said defendants be determined and settled; and that said lands be appraised and sold, according to law, and the proceeds arising from such sale applied, first, in payment of the costs of said action, and of such sale; second, in payment of the full amount due plaintiff, with all interest thereon, on the indebtedness secured by said mortgage; that from and after confirmation of such sale, the defendants to said action, and all of them, be forever barred and foreclosed of and from all right, title, interest, lien, claim and equity of redemption in or to said lands, and every part thereof.

Unless you answer said petition, as aforesaid, the statements and allegations therein contained will be taken as true, and a decree will be rendered against you by said court as therein prayed.

Witness my hand and the Seal of said Court, by me affixed, this 4th day of September, 1897.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kindneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold the urine, stings and pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention THE TRIBUNE and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietor of this paper guarantees the genuineness of this offer. April 2-yr.
