Mrs. H. Thomas, mother of Mrs. G. W. Burnett, is here from Oberlin, and will, we understand, make her home here in the future.

W. J. Purvis has been having quite a painful and serious time with blood-poisoning, this week, but is better and getting on as well as can be expected.

Auditor Brant has resigned from the Burlington service and is now in the employ of the Anheuser-Busch people at a large salary and with liberal allowances.

Mrs. Dr. A. Townsend is at Cook, Neb., for a several weeks' visit with her parents. The Dr. accompanied her, but returned the first of the week.

Geo. Monks of McCook, is filling the position in the round house here formerly held by Clarence Denton, who is now at Oberlin, Kansas.

It is quite probable that Chas. F. Lee of this place and Saul Muran of St. Francis will exchange situations soon. Mr. Lee will go over to St. Francis some time this week to get acquainted with his new work and see how he would like the change.

Mr. Muran, a number of years ago, was an employe under Foreman Burton at this place.—Oxford Standard.

"As We go Marching to Victory."

Uncle Sam has roused himself from lethargy and peace

To make the Isle of Cuba free, and cruel oppression cease;

The Yankee guns will boom along, 'till Cuba gets release,

As we go marching to victory.

CHORUS—

Hurrah! hurrah! we'll not forget the Maine,

Hurrah! hurrah! we'll whack it to old Spain,

We'll fight our battles bravely while we shout the same refrain,

As we go marching to victory.

The Stars and Stripes now proudly wave o'er islands far away

Where Spanish dons for years and years held undisputed sway,

But Dewey fell upon their fleet in sweet Manila bay,

As he go marching to victory.

CHORUS—

Hosts of men are leaving home and old familiar scenes

To aid the gallant Dewey now to hold the Philippines;

That's what makes the Union Jack—observe the Eagle's scream,—

As we go marching to victory.

CHORUS—

Old Glory is the greatest flag, the proudest in the world,

And now upon the ocean's crest the banner is unfurled;

Castilian blood and royalty from reigning will be hurled,

As we go marching to victory.

CHORUS—

Mrs. C. E. Pope spent the early days of the week in Lincoln.

H. F. Tomblin and wife of Imperial were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. J. F. Forbes, part of the week.

Dr. Beebe of Chicago, who has been relieving Dr. Waters, left for Chicago, Wednesday evening. Dr. Waters arrived home last night on No. 3.

Mrs. A. Herstrom and Mrs. M. Herstrom mother and sister-in-law of Mrs. H. M. Dixon, arrived from Denver, Tuesday afternoon on 6. Mrs. M. Herstrom has gone on to Omaha, to see the exposition and will return and visit here later.

Mrs. A. Herstrom will also see the exposition before returning to Denver.

James I. Lee was "held up," Wednesday night, on his way home from the round-house, where he had been putting in some "overtime," by a gang of foot-pads.

All that saved his coin and perhaps his life was the vociferousness with which he raised up his magnificent bass voice in supplication for assistance.

Jim's vocal powers are of the first-class-raise-the-dead sort, and finally caused the dispersion of his assailants.

Lillian Bell and the Czar.

"Kodaks" are not permitted within sight of the Czar of Russia, and he is considered the most difficult man in all Europe to photograph.

Lillian Bell, who is in Russia for 'The Ladies' Home Journal, persuaded the Russian officials to allow her to be an exception to the rule, and she succeeded in photographing the Czar so close that the Russian monarch jumped at the click of the button.

Miss Bell will tell how she got her photograph, in the next issue of the Journal.

Accomplishes Wonders.

The coat may not make the man, but a coat of paint will accomplish wonders toward improving the appearance of private dwellings and business-houses and thus of the entire city.
