McCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 22, 1898.

NUMBER 10

A Narrow Escape.

About eleven o'clock, Sunday night, McCook experienced a narrow escape from a destructive fire. At that hour a fire was discovered in the store room of M. Garber & Co., and but for the prompt and efficient work of the fire department we would have a costly conflagration to report, this week. As it is, the loss is comparatively small, much being the result of the smoke and heat of the pent-up fire. By careful work, the damage from water was reduced to the minimum.

M. Garber & Co. have the greatest loss, the amount being placed in the neighborhood of $1,000. They carry an insurance of $6,000 on their stock, hence their entire damage will be covered, save the loss of business that will naturally result while the loss is being adjusted and the inconvenience attendant upon such misfortunes.

The damage to the building will be small, perhaps $200 will fully cover this. Mr. Franklin has the building well insured and this loss will be fully covered.

None of the other tenants or owners of the great block sustained any damage worth speaking of, and altogether it was a most fortunate escape for all parties concerned, and the community draws a full breath of relief with them in the result. Never has the value of the water-works and fire protection been more satisfactorily shown than in this case. The absence of such facilities as the town has would have meant the loss of a vast sum of money.

The fire had evidently burned for an hour or two before being discovered and the heat in the room was something intense, causing stoppers to be blown out of bottled goods, extracts, etc., damaging canned goods, and frail fabrics that were not touched by the flames crumbled to pieces. The fire was confined to a small area of the room in the rear and north side, in a space that was partitioned off from the main room.

The origin of the fire remains a mystery. The adjusters arrived on Wednesday and have been at work since in figuring up the loss.

The Committee Met.

The Republican county central committee met in the city hall, last Saturday afternoon, transacted the following business:

The committee was called to order by Chairman Barnett. Resignation of Secretary Valentine was read and the chairman was authorized to appoint a successor. C. B. Gray was named.

It was decided to hold the convention in McCook, Saturday, August 6th, 1898, at one o'clock in the afternoon.

The representation was based on the vote cast for W. A. McCool in 1897, giving one delegate for each fifteen votes or fraction and two at large from each precinct.

It was recommended that the precinct primaries be held on July 30th.

Committeeman McCool resigned from Fritsch and R. W. Heum was appointed in his stead. Committeeman Peterson resigned from Grant and Jos. Relph was appointed in his place. J. E. Kelley was appointed committeeman from the first district of Willow Grove precinct vice William Valentine, resigned.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the call for the convention.

Concert and Benefit.

The social given on the lawn at A. Barnett's, last Saturday evening, for the benefit of the Brigade band, was a large success. Ice cream, cake and berries were served and quite a comfortable sum was realized for the band.

The band gave a concert on the lawn during the evening, playing a fine program in their usual faultless style, and to a large audience of appreciative people.

Those promoting the affair are to be congratulated upon the successful results, socially and financially.

Will Return to McCook.

It will be a pleasure to his many old-time friends to learn that Mr. George E. Thompson, who formerly was in business here, has decided to return to McCook and will engage in the dry goods business in our city about August 20th.

Petition the Commissioners.

A meeting of citizens of McCook was held in the city hall, Tuesday afternoon, for the purpose of taking action in the matter of asking the county commissioners to call a special election to vote a special tax to provide means with which to furnish the new court-house, to add jail facilities, etc. Jonas Engel was chairman of the meeting. There was a fair representation of our business and professional men in attendance and the matter was discussed fully.

It was finally decided to prepare and circulate a petition asking the board of county commissioners to submit to the people of the county, to be voted upon at a special election, a proposition to levy a special annual tax of five mills on the dollar of valuation, for the years 1898 and 1899, for the purpose of completing, furnishing and adding jail facilities to the new court-house.

Messrs. J. W. Hupp, P. Walsh and J. S. LeFlew were appointed a committee to circulate the petition for signatures.

It is contemplated that the sum of $12,000 will be secured from the proposed tax during the two years. This sum will be sufficient to furnish the court-house, add good jail facilities, provide the plumbing and complete the entire structure for occupancy by the county officers.

In addition to the original $10,000 voted by McCook, the city has added $500 more to the better foundation decided upon and $125 to buying a lot, and with other concessions the entire amount given by McCook to this enterprise reaches $11,000. When it is considered that McCook will pay a large per cent of the amount now sought to be raised by special annual tax, in addition to what she has already given, there ought to be no objection on the part of the commissioners to the calling of the election, nor on the part of the people outside of McCook to voting the special tax asked for, as the burden falls by far most heavily on McCook, while the entire county will have all the advantages of the fine and convenient court-house that will be built and furnished with the money.

THE TRIBUNE believes this is the best way to raise the necessary means to furnish and finish the court-house. No sinking fund is created, but the money is used at once; and no long paying of interest is required. We also believe that in view of the fact that McCook has done all she can under the law and that she has made still further concessions besides, that the people of the county will be willing to add their mite to the completion of a court-house which will be a credit to the county and will serve every purpose for many years to come.

Red Willow County Teachers' Institute.

The institute for 1898 will be held in the McCook high school building from August 15th to 26th. The earnest, faithful teachers fully appreciate the benefits of institute work and need no urging to attend. To those not familiar with the requirements, I will say that all persons desiring to teach in Red Willow county the coming year are expected to attend the institute or its equivalent. The school law reads as follows: "The county superintendent may, at his discretion, revoke the certificate or refuse to grant a certificate to any teacher who refuses to attend the county institute."

The work will be professional in character rather than academic. The object of the institute is not a preparation for a teacher's examination, but to increase the efficiency of the teachers and fill them with inspiration and love for their noble work. A number of lectures will be given during the two weeks, some to be illustrated with the optical lantern belonging to the McCook public schools. All will be announced later in the papers and at the institute.

A reception for the teachers and their friends will be given on Tuesday evening, the 16th. All should endeavor to be present and make this a most profitable feature of the institute.

Examinations will be held Saturdays, the 20th and 27th. No third grade certificates will be granted. All who hold second grade certificates with grades below 80 per cent, must raise such grades. Board will be procured at reasonable rates. Examination fee of $1 is required. Enrollment fee will not exceed fifty cents, may be less.

A cordial invitation is extended to all school boards, patrons of schools and friends of education to visit us at any session. We will try to make this one of the best institutes ever held in the county, and hope that all teachers will receive practical help and enthusiasm for the work of another year.

LILLIAN M. WELBORN,
County Superintendent

From Bowery to Klondike.

The union meeting of the Methodist, Congregational and Baptist brethren in the church of the latter, Sunday evening, was an interesting and profitable one. There was a large gathering present. Two members of the Bowery rescue league of New York city, Frederick J. Baylis and Joseph L. Paynter, had charge of the meeting. They are walking to Alaska to enter upon their regular rescue work among the miners, during the coming winter. Neither lay any claims to oratory, but tell their simple story earnestly and enthusiastically, and with telling effect. They made a very favorable impression here, and seem to be especially fitted by experience and life to the difficult work they have set before themselves. Mr. Baylis is somewhat of a vocalist and this will be helpful to them in their endeavors. A free-will offering was taken up for their benefit and a liberal offering attended the Godspeed of the people for their success in the great field awaiting them.

Will Give Us a Talk.

Prof. Lawrence Bruner of the state university has spent most of the week here investigating the grasshopper situation, and as a result of his experiments and observation he is satisfied that the propagation of the fungus disease among them, in view of the dryness of this air and climate, will be too slow, and he suggests that mechanical means will be the best method of disposing of these pests. To this end he will return here, about the middle of next week and at a public meeting which will be announced later, he will give his ideas as to the best means to use in this work. Prof. Bruner has no equal in this country in this subject and his instructions will be invaluable. Every man who is interested in this matter should make it a point to attend this meeting of which due notice will be given.

Machine Oils at McConnell's.

Frank Everest came in from Denver, this morning, with a shipment of about 125 cows.

A House-Warming.

The Methodist brethren celebrated the completion of their parsonage last Friday evening, by a musical-literary entertainment in the church and the serving of refreshments in the new parsonage. The affair was an exceptionally neat one. The program rendered had much to recommend it to the large audience that filled the church and the refreshments were served in very attractive form and were of a most delicious nature.

The parsonage just completed is a very neat and ornate and comfortable structure of eight rooms. It is located just south of the church, and will afford very convenient and cosy quarters for the pastor. The building has cost the Methodist brethren in the neighborhood of $1,500 and is one of the handsomest parsonages owned by the church in this section of Nebraska. We congratulate the members of the church upon their enterprise and generosity.

The program was as follows:

"All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name"..... Congregation

How "Horrible the Grave."

Doubtless the city of the dead down near Indianola needs a little "fixin' up" itself. Jasper Phillips of the Reporter took an evening stroll out that way, recently, and this is the way it looked to him,—it was altogether too dreadful for his artistic, sensitive soul: "The cemetery even is as barren and desolate as a desert. Perched on the hillside, the shiny tombstones grin and stare at the living in a way to conjure up all the horrors of the grave."
