

Baltimore, Feb. 13.—The story sent out from Chicago that General Passenger Agent Austin of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, had reported rates cutting on the part of rival lines, to the Receivers, is strenuously denied at B. & O. headquarters. Mr. Austin, in a letter, absolutely denies that any such cases have come under his notice and denounced the report as a "she" pure and simple.

It isn't the amount, but the quality of talk that tells. She who spoke to Balaam wasn't given to talking much, but when she spoke, it was the point.

IN CANADA'S FREE HOMESTEAD LANDS.

Wetaskiwin, Alta., April 5th, 1898. W. F. McCree, Govt. Immigration Commissioner, Winnipeg. Dear Sir:—I like the country very much so far; have seen a great number of farmers from the states and every one seen so far says they have done well and like it here far better than where they came from, and all claim it to be the best country for a poor man that they were ever in, and with good crops this season I predict a great rush. There are some nice claims to be had yet, but will not last the summer through. I do not find it any colder than in Iowa and am feeling much better than when I left there March 1st. I think this a great country for those who are suffering with throat and lung troubles. I have seen men that had as high as 5 1/4 bushels wheat per acre and near 100 bushels oats, but they weigh from 45 to 51 pounds per bushel, but the general run is 25 to 50 wheat, 50 to 75 oats, and stock looking fine; some cattle running out were nearly in market flesh. I expect to return to the states late this fall for stock, etc., will write you when I want to go. Thanking you all for past favors, I remain, most respectfully yours, (Signed) Dr. D. E. Strevell.

Some men find consolation in thinking the things they dare not say.

MISSOURI'S WAR GOVERNOR

GOVERNOR T. C. FLETCHER.
Hon. Thomas C. Fletcher, the noted war Governor of the State of Missouri, is a great friend of Pe-ru-na. He writes:

The Pe-ru-na Drug Mfg Co., Columbus, Ohio.
Gentlemen—For years I have been afflicted with chronic catarrh, which has gone through my whole system, and no one knows the torture and misery I have passed through. My doctor has prescribed various remedies, and I have never found any relief until I was persuaded by a friend to use Dr. Hartman's Pe-ru-na. After the use of one bottle I feel like a new man. It also cured me of a dropping I had in my throat, and built my system up generally. To those who are suffering with catarrh I take pleasure in recommending your great medicine. Very respectfully,

Thomas C. Fletcher.
Everything that affects the welfare of the people is a legitimate subject of comment to the real statesman. The statesman is not a narrow man. It is the politician who is narrow. The true statesman looks out on the world as it is, and seeks, as far as is in his power, to remedy evils and encourage the good.

Catarrh in its various forms is rapidly becoming a national curse. An undoubted remedy has been discovered by Dr. Hartman. This remedy has been thoroughly tested during the past forty years. Prominent men have come to know of its virtues, and are making public utterances on the subject. To save the country we must save the people. To save the people we must protect them from disease. The disease that is at once the most prevalent and stubborn of cure is catarrh.

The stage hand that can't be cured should be insured.

MEN AND WOMEN OF SALOICA

Latter Despair of Competing with the Gorgeous Cavass.

As for the male population, it consists mainly of some 50,000 replicas of Sir Henry Irving as Shylock, says the London Chronicle. They have all borrowed his sash, his furred gaberdine and his complete "make-up." These are the descendants of Jews who fled from the Spanish Inquisition, and whether it be the result of in-breeding or of some other cause, they are all alike. No doubt they know one another, and perhaps a practiced resident can tell them—just as a shepherd can tell his flock—apart. Their women-kind wear a remarkable uniform, which might have a certain charm if worn by people of a different shape. It may be said to consist chiefly of décolletage—no corset—and a green satin door-knocker at the back of the head. Feminine vanity takes the form of competition in the size of the door-knocker. It is not a vision of perfect beauty, but at any rate it is better than a yashmak. The truth is that women of all races and creed in Turkey have given up trying to wear attractive clothes out of sheer despair at the unapproachable gorgeousness of the cavass. A cavass in full uniform "defies competition." I happened to be present the other day at Constantinople at the semi-official farewell of M. Cambon, the departing French ambassador. The central figure on the railway platform, towering above ambassadors and putting the mere military into the shade, was a splendid creature in dazzling scarlet. It was the first cavass of the British embassy. Sometimes the cavass affects the Albanian costume—short braided jacket, jaunty cap and stiff, white ballet-dancer petticoat. I instinctively looked to see these gentlemen pirouette on their toes. The cavass is notoriously—and pardonably—vain. It is not only that he is conscious of a costume; he remembers that he was once a janissary. Hence he goes armed to the teeth, even though it is only to carry his mistress's lap dog. If we ever introduce the cavass into London—and why not?—in the affections of the nursemaids he will prove a formidable rival to Policeman X. and Dandy Dan, the life guardsman. And he is as useful as he is ornamental. The protection of a cavass gets you through the customs with hardly the opening of a hat box, knocks 25 per cent off the sum by which you are cheated in the bazaars, and even keeps the irrepressible little Jewish shoeblacks from running at your heels. His dignified port, though it at first abashes, at last stimulates and fortifies you. You feel that you are taking part in the procession, and that now or never is the time for your demeanor to be noted by the reporters as "affable." This is the cavass frame of mind. And to think that you can enjoy the harmless exaltation for "the ridiculous sum" of a few plasters!

LETTERS SENT TO NOTED MEN

Those curious personages who delight in prying into unexpected subjects and classifying the results in learned form have been very busy recently with the letters received by prominent people. The president of the French republic, for instance, is said to receive daily 700 letters, and these are made up as follows: Begging letters, 250; petitions on political affairs, 150; petitions from criminals, 100; complaints against various functionaries, also 100; anonymous letters containing insults, 80, and threats of assassination, 20.

The daily post bag at Marlborough house, London, too, contains some extraordinary letters. By one post there arrived the following: A request for a loan of $5,000 to enable student of entomology to start for Africa; a petition from a poor old lady to provide a dowry for her daughter, who was about to be married; a pressing letter from a French inventor of a new diving dress, begging the Prince of Wales to do it and dive into the Seine when he next visited Paris, and a calm request for money to redeem a workman's tools.

Of course few of these curious missives ever reach the Prince of Wales, for his experienced secretaries sift the correspondence with care and knowledge. Every day there are scores of letters connected with the public ceremonies in which the prince takes a part, for every item is submitted for approval. Then there are the thousand and one social invitations requiring a reply, and unnumbered appeals for money in aid of charities. The private letters for the prince are very numerous, for his relatives keep him in touch with all interesting things. His sister, the Empress Frederick, is a charming letter writer, and corresponds with the prince regularly.

As She Expressed It.

"Yes," said the lady from Boston, speaking of her favorite lecturer, "he is one whom the lady would designate as a biscuit john." "Beg pardon?" said the member of the laity. "Oh," to be explicit, a crackerjack."—Indianapolis Journal.

Must Explain.

A man must not only have a fractured skull, but a clear and coherent explanation as to how he came to get it, before he is admitted to a New York hospital.—Puck.

There is one portion of the human body which continues to increase in size throughout life, and does not cease with the attainment of maturity. This is the crystalline lens of the eye.

When General (then colonel) Guy V. Henry, now governor of Porto Rico, was in command of the Third cavalry under Crook in the Indian war of 1876, he was wounded nearly to death, but replied to the condolences of his fellow officers: "It's nothing. This is what we're here for."

Fifty walnut trees in Cass county, Michigan, were recently sold for $10,000 cash. These trees have been felled, and will be shipped to English buyers. The largest tree was seven feet in diameter at its base and will yield lumber worth from $700 to $1,000.

TUMOR EXPELLED.

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. ELIZABETH WHEELLOCK, Magnolia, Iowa, in the following letter describes her recovery from a very critical condition:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have been taking your Vegetable Compound, and am now ready to sound its praises. It has done wonders for me in relieving me of a tumor. My health has been poor for three years. Change of life was working upon me. I was very much bloated and was a burden to myself. Was troubled with smothering spells, also palpitation of the heart and that bearing-down feeling, and could not be on my feet much. I was growing worse all the time, until I took your medicine. After taking three boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Lozenges, the tumor passed from me. My health has been better ever since, can now walk quite a distance and am troubled no more with palpitation of the heart or bloating. I recommend your medicine to all sufferers from female troubles."

It is hardly reasonable to suppose that any one can doubt the efficiency of Mrs. Pinkham's methods and medicine in the face of the tremendous volume of testimony.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists, price 75c. per bottle. Suggestions for Women as to the Care of Dainty Underwear.

It is one thing to have pretty belongings, and another to keep them so. Of nothing can this be more truly said than of women's underwear, so generally ruined in washing with strong, impure soap, and by hard rubbing. Silk and woolen underwear should never be washed on a cloudy day. When ready to do the work, half fill a tub with warm water, through which dissolve a fourth of a bar of Ivory soap, and wash the articles with it with the hands, rinse in warm water and squeeze, but do not wring. Hang on the line and press with a hot iron while damp.
