BODY LYING IN STATE

Friends Gather at Milburn House to Mourn Over Their Leader.

NEW PRESIDENT SADLY AFFECTED

Senator Hanna Filled With Anguish Over Loss of Chief—Body to Be Taken to Be Taken to City Hall and There Remain Daring Monday.

BUFFALO, Sept. 16.—Buffalo yesterday became a city of mourners. The gay and flaming decorations of the Pan-American exposition gave way to the symbol of sorrow. The black drapery of the city's streets muffled the tolling bells of the churches. Bits of crepe appeared on every sleeve. The sorrow was everywhere apparent. In the morning a simple service took place at the residence on Delaware avenue where the martyred president died.

A hymn was sung and prayer was offered over the dead body. That was all. Only the immediate family and the friends and political associates of the late president were present. The scene there was pathetic in the extreme. Then the body was borne out to the waiting cortege on the brown shoulders of eight sailors and soldiers of the republic. The cortege passed through the walls of living humanity, grief-stricken, to the city hall.

A remarkable demonstration occurred which proved how close the president was to the hearts of the people. Arrangements had been made to allow the public to view the body from the time it arrived, at about 1:30 o'clock, until about 5 o'clock. But the people were wedged into the streets for two blocks. Two lines formed. They extended literally for miles. When 5 o'clock came 40,000 people had already passed and the crowds waiting below in the streets seemed undiminished. It was decided to extend the time until midnight. Then for hours longer the streets were dense with people and a constant stream flowed up the steps of the broad entrance into the hall and passed the bier. When the doors were closed at midnight it was estimated that 80,000 people had viewed the remains, but thousands of disappointed ones were still in the streets. The body will lie in the city hall until morning. At 8:30 the funeral train will start for Washington over the Pennsylvania railroad. Mrs. McKinley, the president, the cabinet and relatives and friends of the dead president will accompany the remains.

Mrs. McKinley bore up bravely today during the service at the Milburn house, and Dr. Rixey, her physician, thinks she will be able to support her trying part in the state funeral at Washington.

The day was gray and cheerless. Heavy clouds hung over the city, at times breaking to let through a rift of sunshine and then threatening to let loose a downpour upon the gathering multitude. The air was humid and heavy and only a light wind from the south stirred the drooping flags and the emblems of mourning. The very elements seemed to lend fitting accompaniment to the scene of sorrow about to be enacted.

Mrs. McKinley, the poor, grief-crushed widow, had been led into the chamber by her physician, Dr. Rixey, and had sat a while alone with him who had supported and comforted her through all their years of wedded life. But though her support was gone, she had not broken down. Dry-eyed she gazed upon him and fondled his face. She did not seem to realize that he was dead. Then she was led away by Dr. Rixey and took up her position at the head of the stairs, where she could hear the services.

At 1:25 the body was allowed to be viewed by the public, and a vast crowd moved along and took their last look at the dead chieftain.

The remains will then be carried, under the escort of a squadron of United States cavalry, to the executive mansion, where they will rest until 9 a. m. Tuesday, September 17. They will then be carried to the capitol, accompanied by a military and civil escort, the details of which will be given in a separate notice.

The remains will then lie in state. Religious services will be held in the rotunda of the capitol on Wednesday at 12 o'clock noon. At 1 o'clock the remains, under a military escort, will be transferred to a funeral car and carried to Canton, Ohio, via the Pennsylvania railroad, arriving there on Thursday at 11 a. m., where arrangements for the final sepulture will be committed to the charge of the citizens of Canton under the direction of a committee to be selected by the mayor of that city.

No ceremonies are expected in the cities and towns along the route of the funeral train beyond the tolling of bells.

JOHN HAY, Secretary of State.

IGNORANT OF VICTIM'S DEATH. Assassin Czolgosz Does Not Know That President is Dead.

BUFFALO, Sept. 16.—The assassin, Czolgosz, does not know that President McKinley is dead and probably will not know it until he is arraigned for murder. He will be indicted by the grand jury probably today and the case will be then immediately removed to the supreme court. The arraignment will take place in that court and will be very soon, the time depending on the returning of the indictment. No further effort was made to talk to Czolgosz nor was the theory of poisoned bullets taken up by the police. They feel confident that when the bullets remaining in the revolver are chemically examined, as they will be, no poison will be found in them.

The instrument was executed some time before the shooting and at no time during his suffering was there any wish or occasion to revise it or frame a codicil. It leaves the bulk of his property to Mrs. McKinley. How much the estate is worth cannot be stated with exactness by those most familiar with the late president's business affairs, but it is believed to be a goodly sum.

WAR ON OLEOMARGARINE.

Food Commissioner Bassett to Suppress the Yellow Imitation.

LINCOLN, Sept. 16.—State Food Commissioner S. C. Bassett has commenced the long expected crusade against manufacturers and dealers in oleomargarine who have for several years openly ignored the law of the state which prohibits the sale of imitation butter colored yellow. Suit was commenced in justice court against Beha Bros., butchers of this city, and the case will be tried October 1.

The complaint in the case was filed by the county attorney. The penalty under the law is a fine of $25. If the suits ends in favor of the state similar suits will be commenced in all parts of the state. It is reported that the manufacturers of oleomargarine will pool their interests and resist the enforcement of the law by carrying the suit to the highest court in the state, and possibly to the United States courts. The complaint was filed under the original act in this state, which makes it unlawful to sell oleomargarine colored yellow. Its passage drove the manufacturers out of South Omaha, but the product has been shipped into the state and sold everywhere.

The defendants in the suit have complied with the United States law in securing a government license and in having the packages properly stamped but have disregarded the state law, which prohibits the sale of the product colored yellow.

AS TO LEGAL DISSECTIONS. Superintendent Fowler Quotes the Law in Regard to the Same.

LINCOLN, Sept. 14.—State Superintendent Fowler has issued a circular quoting the law stipulating the conditions under which dissections are legal in Nebraska, with this preface:

"The following law is self-explanatory. Every coroner, sheriff, jailer, undertaker, superintendent or managing officer of any asylum, hospital, poor house or penitentiary in this state should make himself fully acquainted with the requirements of this act. This department will insist upon a strict observance of every provision in this law. Let all concerned take due warning.

"The question has been raised regarding the amount the medical colleges are supposed to pay for such bodies as come under this law. I do not understand that any undertaker, coroner, sheriff, jailer, superintendent of asylum or hospital, warden of penitentiary, etc., will be entitled to charge more than the actual expenses incurred, making due allowance, of course, for his services. Unreasonable charges will not be tolerated."

NEBRASKA DIVORCE LAW.

Deputy Labor Commissioner Seeks Opinions of Prominent Persons.

LINCOLN, Sept. 14.—Deputy Labor Commissioner Watson has addressed inquiries to fifty prominent persons of Nebraska asking them for their views on the subject of divorce legislation. His letter containing the questions follows:

"I would respectfully submit the following questions for your careful consideration and ask that, if convenient, you will kindly favor this bureau with such answers as shall be of interest and profit to the people of our state.

"Are you in favor of more stringent divorce laws in Nebraska. If so, what steps do you deem necessary to procure a practical measure of reform?"

"What is the effect of divorce on the integrity of the family?"

"Would a more prohibitory measure, reducing the number of causes of divorce as defined in the existing statutes have a tendency to promote the moral purity of society in this state?"

"While the subject of divorce is gradually assuming a position of greater prominence before the country from year to year, yet its importance even when confined to state limits, might well engage the scholarship of a Newman or Liddon and awaken the enthusiasm of a Wilberforce or Sumner."

Mr. Watson concludes by saying that complete returns from all counties in the state shows that there were 9,966 marriages solemnized and 758 divorces granted in 1900. In Lancaster county seventy-one divorces were granted and thirty-five cases were abandoned.
