Truer Interpreters Needed.

APROPOS of the dastardly assassination of President McKinley there is much wise and otherwise discussion, vocal and newspaper, of the question of freedom and liberty, of the individual and of the press. Some urge radical abridgment in both cases, while the more conservative, the calm judgment of the more mature, dispassionate minds is that constitutional rights in this respect should not be disturbed. Doubtless the latter judgment will obtain and adequate remedy will be found in other and more distinctively American action. In this connection it seems to THE TRIBUNE that the serious problem is not one of more or less liberty or freedom, but of a proper understanding of terms. First and fundamentally it must be agreed that license is not a synonym of liberty. Liberty is law. The liberty of the anarchist is death to ruler and destruction to law, it is free love, atheism, hell. The preaching, printing and dissemination of such spurious and damnable ideas of liberty may well be abridged, nay MUST BE. Every American citizen has the freedom to do right, and nothing constitutional, nor any just law, can give him the privilege to wrong his neighbor or the state. No fouler blot rests on our body politic today than the accursed sin of atheism and anarchy. That anarchy has been allowed to feast and grow fat among our free institutions may be something of a tribute to the magnanimous American heart, but it is no credit to his head and judgment. To give these enemies of government and mankind continued license would be a high crime. Justice has already been too long deterred.

Newspapers of a certain undesirable type have also to learn the limitations of true liberty and the exercise of freedom within allowable bounds. Freedom of the press has been and is being used with most malignant and unbridled license, inciting to crimes, teaching dangerous and subversive doctrines of morals and government, assailing and besmirching private character and public men with most reckless abandon and but thinly disguised attempts at decency or the facts in the case. Indeed, the crimes of "freedom of the press" are not few. The right to defend the noble and true and to assail the base and false; to tell the truth discriminatingly and to deal with folly and weaknesses mercifully may all remain—in fact no genuine safeguard of the press need be touched; but much else can with constitutional propriety be cut off or be circumscribed, and all that is useful, desirable or worthwhile in publicity will be undisturbed, an educational, uplifting force for the good and knowledge of mankind.

America needs not more freedom, (perhaps not less) but nobler, freer men to exercise the rights of liberty; and its newspapers need truer and nobler interpreters of liberty rather than greater latitude.

ANARCHY and atheism are not strangers.

The County Ticket. The Republican party comes before the people of Red Willow county, this fall, with a ticket composed of competent nominees harmoniously selected for the several offices, so that in the ordinary run of political affairs in this county the result in November is but a question of plurality, and proper activity upon the part of Republicans will make that plurality adequate and satisfactory.

FOR CLERK—E. J. WILCOX. The nominee for clerk, E. J. Wilcox of this city, needs no introduction. He came from Illinois about seventeen years ago, and has been engaged in merchandising in McCook ever since. He has always been actively identified with Republican politics and his popularity in his home town is unmistakably evinced by the fact that his pluralities in his races for city offices have always been among the highest. His nomination is a recognition of the younger element in the party, and his acknowledged capabilities added to his popularity will land him a sure winner in November.

FOR TREASURER—O. L. THOMPSON. Everybody knows and votes for genial "Old Man" Thompson—and he isn't old, either, but as young hearted as any of us. His conduct of the office of county treasurer for the past two years will bear the very closest inspection. Indeed, it has been very satisfactory, and that he will continue for another term in that important office is a foregone conclusion. His administration has been marked by promptness, courtesy and careful, intelligent attention to business. There is nothing to urge against his retention in office another term.

FOR SHERIFF—A. C. CRABTREE. "Art" Crabtree has lived in Indianola since the year one and has been favored several times with office in his home town. Being deputy under Sheriff Kinghorn, he naturally succeeded to the shrievalty when his chief resigned and as naturally received the nomination in the late Republican convention, practically without opposition. He is an experienced officer, popular at home and over the county, and his opponent will have to get a great move on him if he expects to keep any where in sight of Art Crabtree, election day.

FOR JUDGE—G. S. BISHOP. Mr. Bishop is the present occupant of the office of county judge and his conduct of that office speaks with stronger and truer word than we can pen. Judge Bishop brought legal training to the office and his every official act has been characterized by a high purpose, a sincere desire to do justly between man and man, without fear or favor, and THE TRIBUNE believes that he has achieved that honorable end in as large a measure as any man who has ever occupied the office in Red Willow county. His qualities of mind and heart, supported by his experience and ability, insure him a safe election and the decision of the people will be a wise one.

FOR SUP'T—E. S. DUTCHER. Although an old settler in this county, Mr. Dutcher is comparatively a stranger to many. However, it is a pleasure to be able to say that he is in every respect well equipped for a successful management of the county superintendency. By education and by experience as a teacher he is qualified to give the educational interests of this county the close and intelligent and practical attention they demand and should have. Mr. Dutcher hails from near Indianola and those who are best acquainted with him are prompt and unqualified in their support of his candidacy.

FOR CORONER—JOSEPH SPOTTS. It robs sudden and foul death of its terrors to know that Joe Spotts is in the coroner's office, and he seems destined to a life tenure of that position.

FOR SURVEYOR—A. C. WILSON. This is an office of small duties,—but if anything should arise needing the attention a competent surveyor, A. C. Wilson of Bondville precinct is said to have the qualifications of a practical surveyor.

FOR COMMISSIONER—C. H. HARMAN. No office in the county requires better business ability than the county commissionership, and the Republican nominee meets the requirements, being not only a farmer but a business man of large experience. He will make an active, careful and intelligent commissioner.

Burlington Stands Ready.

There is no longer any doubt in Chicago railroad circles, says a dispatch, that the management of the Burlington road is ready to build a line from Guernsey to Salt Lake City any time it is deemed wise policy to do so. It has been learned that agents of the road have recently filed maps of survey in the local land office at Cheyenne covering the right of way from the Platte river to the western line of Carbon county and also through Sweetwater and Uintah counties to the western line of the state. The claims from the western line of Carbon county were filed some time ago at Evanston, Wyo. Rights of way through Laramie and Albany counties were filed several weeks ago and now the right of way between Guernsey and Salt Lake City is complete. Not very long ago the reports were persistent from New York to the effect that James J. Hill was determined to build such an extension to connect with the Los Angeles line which Senator Clark is threatening to build. Although there may have been no truth in this, subsequent events lead to the belief that preparations for a new line are being made. Whether it will ever be built probably depends upon the ultimate success or failure of the community of interests.—Omaha Bee.

Burlington Fast Mail Helps.

American mail trains and steamships sailing under the American flag have just established the supremacy of America's transportation systems by demonstrating that the route between London and Australia via San Francisco and New York is quicker and better than the routes via the Suez Canal or Vancouver.

When the steamship Campania sailed from New York, September 7, she had aboard important Australian mail intended for the British Colonial Office which has now been delivered in London several days earlier than was ever done before.

The steamship Ventura, of the Oceanic line, had carried the 347 sacks of mail from Sidney, New South Wales, Australia, to San Francisco in twenty-one days, the former time for the trip being twenty-six days.

Special mail trains, racing 3,380 miles across the continent over the tracks of the Burlington route and the other mail carrying roads, delivered the mail in New York barely in time, and the mail sacks were hustled aboard the Campania only a short time before she sailed.

Officials of the railroads carrying the mail across the American continent were elated, for their claim that the shortest route between London and Australia was via New York and San Francisco had been substantiated.

The Burlington and its connections with the fast steamships of the Oceanic Steamship Company, have cut down the journey from Australia to London to about thirty-one days. This is a gain of several days over the other routes. Mail has heretofore been carried from Australia to England on P. & O. line steamships via the Suez Canal. Attempts have been made to shorten the journey, and only two years ago the route from Vancouver via the Canadian Pacific line to New York was tried. The American railroads have beaten the record made then.

"Trade from Australia and the Orient belongs to this country, and it is only a question of time when we will get it," said the official of one of the American roads that carry the mail.

"When the Oceanic Steamship line was opened John D. Spreckels went to Australia, where he had a talk with the government officials, to whom he explained that Australian mail could be carried more quickly via the steamship line to San Francisco and thence to New York, and now his statement has been abundantly proved."

Through delay west of Ogden, the attempt at breaking the record was nearly frustrated. The lost time was regained, however, by means of a special train over the Burlington Route from Council Bluffs to Chicago and another special over the Lake Shore railroad from Chicago to Toledo.

The Burlington special left Council Bluffs at 10:55 p. m., September 5, and reached Chicago at 9:08 a. m., September 6, the 500 miles being covered in 613 minutes, an average speed of 48.94 miles per hour. Deducting 51 minutes for delays, the actual running time was 562 minutes, a rate of 53.38 miles per hour. The fastest time on the run was made from Galesburg to Buda, Ill., the 45.8 miles between those points being covered in 45 minutes, an average speed of 61.09 miles per hour. The run from Burlington to Galesburg, 43.1 miles, was made at a speed of 55.02 miles per hour, that from Buda to Mendota, 33.9 miles, at a speed of 59.82 miles per hour, and that from Mendota to Aurora, 45.4 miles, at a speed of 57.96 miles per hour.

Fast as this run is, it is but a few minutes faster than that made every day in the week by the three exclusive fast mail trains of the Burlington between Council Bluffs and Chicago. Between these points the Burlington has handled the trans-continental mail for nearly eighteen years, and it is rare indeed that the Fast Mail in either direction is late.

Good Advice.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from dyspepsia and liver complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects, such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual constiveness, palpitation of the heart, heartburn, water-brash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. The treatment of Czolgosz by the Buffalo authorities deserves the highest praise. It is in marked contrast to the conduct of the Guiteau case. The assassin of Garfield was permitted to gratify his passion for notoriety by giving out interviews and selling trinkets. His trial has been dignified and without undue delay. The officials at Buffalo have given the world an admirable object lesson.—Kansas City Star.
