A Fractured Skull.

A telegram from Spencer, Boyd county, Wednesday, announced a severe accident to Frank Cullen, who is traveling in the northern part of the state for the wholesale grocery firm of Allen Bros. of Omaha. The details of the accident are meager, Spencer being twenty miles from railroad communication, but it is stated that Frank fell from an elevated sidewalk and sustained a fracture of the skull. An operation has been performed and word came yesterday that he was resting comfortably and that there were no alarming conditions. Miss Maggie Cullen left Omaha for Spencer as soon word was received of the accident, arriving at Spencer, Thursday noon. Dennis Cullen left here, last night, to be at his bedside. Mr. and Mrs. Cullen received the first news of the accident on No. 5, Wednesday evening, while coming home from burying her stepfather, Michael Hawes, at Heartwell.

Frank is most highly esteemed and it is the sincere hope and prayer of a host of friends that his recovery may be rapid and complete, and there is much regret to relatives. expressed at his misfortune.

Tenderly Laid to Rest.

Last Sunday afternoon, from the Baptist church, the remains of Lyman Miller were tenderly consigned to Mother Earth in Riverview cemetery. The ser vices at the church were conducted by Rev. George L. White and were attended by a large audience, the G. A. R. and Ladies' Circle being present in organization. The ritualistic service of the order was had at the cemetery. A pathetic ter Mrs. J. J. Curran. feature of the burial was the sad fact that the bereaved wife was the only relative of the departed present, no children being in the family, nor were any relatives of either present from away. Kind and loving friends, however, made every thoughtful arrangement and provision for the last sad rites, which were tender and touching.

Considering the lateness of the season the floral tributes were pretty and thoughtful evidences of sympathy.
