

Chance For The Tribune Readers.
In order to test THE TRIBUNE's great circulation and its superior advertising value, we have made arrangements with Cone Bros., the popular druggists, to offer one of their best selling medicines at half-price to anyone who will cut the following coupon and present it at their store.

COUPON.
This coupon entitles the holder to one 50c package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half-price, 25c. We will refund the money to any dissatisfied purchaser.
CONE BROS.
TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia is not an unknown remedy. It has made many remarkable cures right here in McCook and so positive are Druggists Cone Bros. of its great superiority in curing dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache and liver troubles that they will, in addition to selling it at half price, refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure. If you cannot call at their store, cut out the coupon and mail it with 25 cents, and a 50 cents box of the specific will be sent you by mail, charges paid. Do not put it off. "One today is worth two to-morrows."

TYRONE.
P. H. McMahon has his new barn up and enclosed.
The Walnut Grove Sunday school will have Christmas exercises on Christmas eve.
Rural free delivery No. 1 is well patronized, about sixty farmers being served with daily mail.
J. V. Logan had his well cleaned out and has put up a new windmill. M. F. Davis also has a new windmill and pump.
W. C. McTaggart, F. W. Borkman, H. F. McTaggart and some others have lost cattle by the cornstalk disease or black leg.
Miss Clara Hunt is teaching the school in the Warner district. There are only four pupils, but they certainly have a right to school privileges.

The Lone Star State down in Texas at Yoakum, is a big dry goods firm of which Mr. J. M. Haller is the head. Mr. Haller, on one of his trips east to buy goods, said to a friend who was with him in the palace car, "Here, take one of these Little Early Risers upon retiring and you will be up early in the morning feeling good." For the "dark brown" taste, headache and lost logy feeling DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best pill to use. Sold by L. W. McConnell.

BARTLEY.
Alex. Wheeler went to Crete, Tuesday morning.
Miss Minnie Wolfe returned from Lincoln, Friday evening.
Elder Nichols has gone to Lincoln to visit during holidays with his family.
George Wheeler and wife of Crete are on a visit to his mother Mrs. C. E. Williams.
Mrs. Smith from eastern Nebraska is here on a visit with her daughter Mrs. T. Ginther.
Robins brothers, who have been here for several months, returned to their home in Missouri, Tuesday night.
U. G. Etherton and family will visit relatives over Christmas at Bloomington and be present at the marriage of his sister.
Ed Curlee had an auction sale on the street Saturday afternoon disposing of machinery, household goods and other articles.
Clarence McCord, wife and baby of Indianola visited here Thursday with A. F. McCord and family and J. M. Epperly and daughters.
Ralph Clark, who is a second year student at the Grand Island Business College, came home Friday evening to visit over holidays with his parents.
Perry Ginther and wife are here from the eastern part of the state visiting their parents. They will return in two weeks, when he will resume his school work.
J. O. Catlett from Winona, Washington, who was here during the last few days before his brother's death, went to Danbury, Wednesday, to visit his brother and family and will go from there to visit a brother at Atwood, Kansas, who came over Tuesday and returned Wednesday. He had not heard of his brother's death until he arrived at Danbury on his way to Bartley.
Robert Catlett, who has been sick for about 18 months, died last Saturday. The whole community are in sorrow because of his death. He was an upright, intelligent, Christian, loved and honored by all who knew him. The funeral service was held at the residence of his sister, Mrs. A. F. McCord. The service was very able, replete with Bible truths concerning death and the resurrection and delivered with much pathos. A large concourse of friends followed the remains from the church to the cemetery where the closing ceremonies were conducted by the A. O. U. W. lodge of which order he was a worthy and honored member.

Millionaires' Poor Stomachs.
The worn-out stomach of the over fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over 35 years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. L. W. McConnell.

He Found a Cure.
R. H. Foster, 318 S. 2d Street, Salt Lake City, writes: "I have been bothered with dyspepsia or indigestion for 21 years, have tried many doctors without relief, but I have found a cure in Herbine. I recommend it to all my friends, who are afflicted that way, and it is curing them, too. 50c at A. McMillen's."

What's In a Name.
Canvasser—Are you single?
Man at the Door—Yes.
"Why, the folks next door told me you were married."
"So I am."
"Yet you told me just now you were single."
"Yes; so I did."
"Well, what is the matter with you?"
"Nothing, sir. My name is Single, and I'm married. Good day, sir."

The Value of Solitude.
Solitude, the safeguard of mediocrity, is to genius the stern friend, the old, obscure shelter, where molt the wings which will bear it farther than sun and stars. He who would inspire and lead his race must be defended from traveling with the souls of other men, from living, breathing, reading and writing in the daily time worn yoke of their opinion.—Emerson.

Better Than Art.
"Yes," said D'Auber, the artist, patronizingly. "I'm selling my canvases now at my own prices."
"You don't say?" replied Sharpley, whose works had not yet caught on.
"Yes, indeed. I suppose you'd give a good deal to be a great artist."
"No, indeed. I'd rather be you."—Exchange.

Quite a Different Thing.
Nagsby—Would you regard it as immodesty in a man to speak of his own good looks?
Wagsby—Well, it depends. If it were you I should call it plain lying.—Exchange.

Painfully Matter of Fact.
"If a fairy should appear to you and offer you three wishes," said the imaginative young woman, "what would you do?"
"I'd sign the pledge," answered the matter of fact man.—Washington Star.

Those outside of a palace may feel Shakespeare's sentiment, "There's such divinity doth hedge a king," but it is hardly possible to those inside. One of the Scotch commissioners to negotiate a union between Scotland and England, Sir John Clerk, could not have felt it during an official interview with Queen Anne, of whom he gives this realistic picture:
"Her majesty was laboring under a fit of the gout and in extreme pain and agony, and on this occasion everything about her was much in the same disorder as about the meaneast of her subjects. Her face, which was red and spotted, was rendered something frightful by her negligent dress, and the foot affected was tied up with a poultice and some nasty bandages."
"I was much affected at this sight, and the more when she had occasion to mention her people of Scotland, which she did frequently to the duke. What are you poor, meanlike Mortal, thought I, who talks in the style of a Sovereign?"
"Nature seems to be inverted when a poor, infirm woman becomes one of the Rulers of the world, but as Tacitus observes it is not the first time that Women have governed in Britain, and indeed they have sometimes done this to better purpose than the Men."

Six Follies of Science.
The six follies of science are: (1) The squaring of the circle, (2) perpetual motion, (3) the philosopher's stone, (4) the elixir of life, (5) magic and (6) astrology.
In all ages men of undoubted ability have toiled early and late to unravel the mysteries supposed to be connected with these fascinating problems. It is not always remembered that such intellectual giants as Bacon, Sir Robert Boyle and Sir Isaac Newton sought the philosopher's stone, which, strange to say, receives some countenance from the modern theory of alchemy. In the study of astrology Lilly was for a time even pensioned by parliament.
Most of these "follies" conferred indirect benefits upon science, for in seeking one thing their devotees discovered many another. The craze for the secret, or unknown, has still its hold upon men and is seen in palmistry and kindred cults.—London Standard.

A Joke O'Rell Didn't Appreciate.
Max O'Rell was booked to lecture in Hartman's hall in Grand Rapids a number of years ago. Carroll Hartman was having a serious time in inducing the people of the valley city to see the merits of lecturers.
There was a big sale for the O'Rell lecture and Hartman wandered over to the Morton House. In the afternoon to call on the French wit; also to pay him his fee of $100.
"But I have not delivered the lecture yet. Suppose I should die before tonight," said O'Rell, who could not understand why a manager should pay for something not yet delivered.
"Oh, that's all right. I'd exhibit your corpse," replied Hartman. The witty Frenchman never recovered from the shock of Hartman's remark. At any rate, he refused to lecture in Grand Rapids again.—Detroit Free Press.

The Simple Coast Folk.
The Newfoundland coast folk are "wreckers" as well as fishermen—not wreckers in the criminal sense, but expert workmen in stripping and unloading the hulls that are tossed up against the frowning cliffs. Every fisherman can turn his hand to this labor, which frequently pays better than his regular vocation, and salvage schooners find permanent employment there with divers and hoists, recovering from the oozy depths the treasures of the submarine curiosity shop.
The Newfoundlanders of the southern shore counts on "a few wrecks" every year to help him maintain his family.—McClure's.

NORTH SIDE.
Clyde Merriott attended the Little sale, Tuesday.
Nick Mitchell is shelling corn, this week, on the Willow.
Frank Brady came out from town to spend his vacation on the farm.
Fred Carter broke his engine quite badly while threshing on the Baker ranch, Friday.
We are informed the Mr. Nelms, living north of the Willow, has bought the Sam McClain ranch.
We attended the Little sale, Tuesday. Everything put up bought a fair price. H. H. Berry was the auctioneer.
Ben Schamel and Miss Lizzie Myers were married at St. Francis, Kansas, December 10th. Mr. Schamel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schamel of Bondville and his wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Myers, also of Bondville.

Coughing Spell Caused Death.
"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for a physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Dec. 1, 1901." Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1 at A. McMillen's.

A Frightened Horse.
Ranning like mad down the street dumping the occupants, or a hundred other accidents, are every day occurrences. It behooves everybody to have a reliable salve handy and there's none as good as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Burns, cuts, sores, eczema and piles disappear quickly under its soothing effect. 25c, at L. W. McConnell's drug store.

One Hundred Dollars a Box
is the value H. A. Tisdale, Summerton, S. C., places on DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. He says: "I had the piles for 20 years. I tried many doctors and medicines, but all failed except DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cured me." It is a combination of the healing properties of witch hazel with antiseptics and emollients. Relieves and permanently cures blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, sores, cuts, bruises, eczema, salt rheum and all skin diseases. Sold by L. W. McConnell.

Favorite Family Remedy.
Frequently accidents occur in the household, which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises; for use in such cases, Ballard's Snow Liniment has for many years been the constant favorite family remedy. 25c, 50c and $1 at A. McMillen's.
