PUBLIC FREE LIBRARY NOTES.

Every season has its own peculiar charm, but no month in this latitude is so universally beloved as June. The cooler days of the early spring recalled too vividly the chilling blasts of winter. The excessive heat of the older year is not felt in June. Perhaps it is because climatic conditions are conducive to our physical comfort that we like the month so well. June, rather than May, should be called the month of flowers. All nature seems instinct with life,—exuberantly glad. The trees are full in leaf. The prairies assume their richest mantle. The flowers are all abloom. The mourning dove calls from the distance. The meadow lark sings in the pasture. The robin iterates his monotonous melody. The mocking bird, in the ecstasy of joy, makes night resound with music.

The storms intensify the glories of this season. The winds blow with frightful violence. The rains come in dashing torrents. The lightnings illumine the darkness. The thunders seem to shake the very universe to its foundations. The manifestations of the forces of nature awe and inspire us.

Spend one day in contemplation of the wonders and the beauties of the world. Go into the meadows, or stroll along some tree-lined stream. Listen to the wild notes of the birds among the branches; to the chirp of summer insects in the grass; to the ripple of the flowing river. Watch the sunbeams glinting on the waters, the dew-drops sparkling on the foliage, the grasses bending before the breezes, the cloud-forms chasing one another through the sky. Spend the day, for once, away from men, in what may seem the abandonment of idleness, and say, when the day is done, if it has not been well spent.

Do not pry into the affairs of nature. Far more pleasure and profit will be derived by him who looks at the flowers with the eyes God gave him, than by him who examines them with artificial aids. A minute inspection will but reveal the details of their construction. It will not discover their secrets. Be content to accept effects, without inquiring as to causes. Your questions will be received in immeasurable silence. When you are worthy, when your mind shall be capable of grasping the truth, when you are ready for the revelation, knowledge will blaze in your firmament more brilliantly than the sun shines in the heavens, and you shall know all that is compulwith to your understanding. You cannot learn more rapidly than it is intended that you should. The wise men of all ages have sought in vain for solutions to the same problems that trouble you. Their questions were impertinent. Did we know the answers, the fascination of mystery that shrouds the secrets of creation would be dispelled, and, knowing, life would cease to interest. If there were nothing more for us to learn, existing would no longer be worth enduring.

A Startling Test.

To save a life, Dr. T. G. Merritt of No. Mehoopany, Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes: "A patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in fourteen months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation and kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50 cents at L. W. McConnell's.

A leap year party was given at the opera house Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. Lois Davies of Kansas. The young people assembled at the opera house at 7:30 and began the evening program with music. Then followed the various amusements provided for the occasion. The bashful young men were kindly looked after and we are sure the young ladies were capable of doing it in a most agreeable manner. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening and at 12 o'clock they wended their way homeward voting it a howling success.

E. church was crowded with attentive listeners who were held willingly for about an hour in a heart to heart talk by Mr. Norris presenting the useful and practical duties of life so impressively as to be long remembered.

Warning.

The Human Lottery

"Ah, if only I were beautiful how happy life would be."

Many a forlorn maid has said this as she looked into the mirror. It is the one possession in the lottery of human life which woman would not refuse.

BRADFIELD'S Female Regulator

for young girls on the threshold of womanhood is invaluable. When they become pale and languid, the eyes dull, aching head, feet and hands cold, appetite gone or abnormal, obstructed periods and painful menses, and their systems generally run down, they need a tonic, building up and their blood cleansed.

Bradfield's Female Regulator for women is particularly valuable and useful owing to its tonic properties and as a regulator of the menstrual flows. Painful, obstructed and suppressed menstruation is permanently relieved and all diseases peculiar to her genital organs are cured by it.

Regulator clears the complexion, brightens the eye, sharpens the appetite, removes muddy and blotched conditions of the skin and cures sick headache at once.

Of druggists at $1.00 per bottle. "Perfect Health for Women" can be had free by sending us your address. THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St., CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.
Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I complained much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

George Dumber

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?
