BOHEMIR KRYL A TRUE BOHEMIAN

Bohemir Kryl, the cornet soloist of the "Four Great Stars" who has played on two continents with a success on each only equaled by his prosperity on the other, is a Bohemian by birth. Any one could tell that by his use of the English language, or rather his misuse for he has not been long in this country and his English is nearly as much broken as the best tea set a week after the new Irish maid was employed. But you don't need to know English in order to play the cornet. Bohemia must be a pretty musical place it seems, and Mr. Kryl's native town particularly so, as it has had the honor of producing not only Bohemir Kryl, but those other Bohemian artists, Jan Kubelik and J. Cocian. He will play at the opera house, Wednesday evening, November 15, in the first number of the citizen's entertainment course.

Public Stock Sale.

They will sell 12 bulls and 24 cows and heifers bred to their great herd bulls. The cattle from these herds are famous all over the country and have furnished the winners at Nebraska and Iowa state fairs and American royal show. "Bar None" second champion bull of Nebraska will sell, also other equally good. Three stallions and five mares will be offered. Write A. C. Shallenberger at Alma, Neb., for catalogue.—11-13-25.

A Successful Social Affair.

The oyster supper and entertainment given by the men of the church in the Congregational church, last Friday evening, was liberally patronized and greatly enjoyed. The men showed themselves to be experts in cooking the succulent bivalves and provided a brief literary-musical program on the outside.

Curman, after which the remains were laid away in Riverview cemetery. Deceased was perhaps the oldest resident of this county, and was one of the early settlers of the county.

[MARY FRIDAY was born near Canton, in Stark county, Ohio, February 7, 1816, hence would have been ninety years old in February. She was united in marriage with Joseph Crockford in Ohio in 1840. Of the eight children born to them six are still living, Henry and Joseph in Michigan; William in River-sioux, Iowa; Jacob in Hooker county, Nebraska, who was present at the funeral; Elizabeth in Cleveland, Iowa; Mrs. C. H. Barrett of our city. Deceased lived in Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, most of the time in Michigan. Her father was a soldier in the Revolutionary war and her husband and two sons were in the Civil war. She was an invalid and great sufferer during the closing fifteen years of her life—and bedfast for the past year. She was for almost three-quarters of a century a devout member of the Methodist church.]

K. of P. District Meeting.

The members of McCook lodge No. 42, K. of P. are feeling finer than silk over their district meeting, Wednesday evening of this week. About fifty members of the order were present and a grand time was had, viewed from every point of consideration.

The principal address of the evening was that of Grand Chancellor Commander Magney of Omaha, who covered the ground of modern Pythianism fully and magnificently. Past Grand Chancellor Commander Kelley, of Omaha and Past Grand Chancellor Commander Kildow of York, Grand Keeper of Records and Seal Will Love of Lincoln, and District Deputy Meyer of Alma also added to the sum total of pleasure and profit of the gathering, both at the business session and at the following banquet. The banquet was spread in the Ganschow hall by the ladies of the Dorcas society of the Congregational church. It was entirely in keeping with the traditions of the society in every feature. It was a bountiful spread of good things well served. Indeed it is the consensus of Pythian opinion that it was the finest ever.

Miss Julia Heinrich.

Miss Julia Heinrich, the daughter of the well known musician Max Heinrich, and a contralto of no mean ability herself, is one of "The Four Great Stars." Miss Heinrich's voice has all the freshness of youth as well as being under that perfect control which only comes from long training. She sings with the utmost simplicity, and enunciates every word so that it can be distinctly understood to the uttermost corners of the opera hall.
And the voice with which she sings—well, it has been compared to pure gold, a jewel, and a treasure house. Of course however, those are just enthusiastic newspaper comparisons. We don't compare her voice to anything, we only want you to go and hear her. After that you can hunt up your choicest superlatives and most favorite comparisons with which to express your delight.

Death Ended a Long Sickness.

In addition to all the best odors made by Palmer, the New York perfumer, we have those of Reiger, the famous California perfumer, and for purity in preparation, fragrance, lasting qualities and the true equals of the flower, nothing equals "Pasadena Rose," "Royal Cherry Blossom," "Mariposa Lily" or "Palo Alta Pink."
