We have made money for ourselves by turning our stock quickly, and have saved our customers more by giving them bargains in extra quality goods at low prices—as low as any mail order house asks and gets for a very much inferior shoe. We have dozens of regular customers, now buying all their footwear of us, who formerly bought their goods from mail order houses. They know now they are saving $$ every year. Cash will buy goods anywhere, but no better or cheaper than you can get the same quality from us.

Will Enlarge the Oxford Yards.

The Burlington railroad will build new yards at Oxford, Neb. Five and one-third miles of track will be added to the present yards on the west extending 4,000 feet west of the railroad hotel. While the company has bought room for twenty tracks in this strip, it is understood that but seven tracks the length of the strip will be put in at this time. It is not stated how much this improvement will cost, nor just when it will be completed, but it is understood that the work will be started this winter and perhaps completed by spring, unless weather should prove unfavorable.

It is said that congestion in the Oxford yards has interfered considerably with handling business in the past; that land could be secured there for a reasonable price, and that conditions were favorable for extending the yards and making it possible to handle business economically. The company is completing extensive yards at Ravenna, and it is said that within the next few years all congested yard districts will be relieved.—Lincoln Journal.

The new system will soon be installed. It is said that operators are not so hard to find to fill Burlington positions since the new wage schedule became effective—Lincoln Star.

Those Missouri Ridge Ballots.

The ballots from Missouri Ridge were not deposited with the county clerk until Monday, while the law requires that they be sent in not later than Saturday after election. This made it necessary to hold over the matter of canvassing the returns until Monday, when the work was completed by Messrs. J. A. Cordeal and C. W. Barnes. The result of this official canvass is given elsewhere in this issue.

From the Ainsworth Star-Journal of Ainsworth, Brown county, we glean the fact that Miss Florence Johnston, formerly of this county, was chosen county superintendent of Brown county at the last election without opposition. We heartily congratulate Miss Johnston and Brown county.
