The Iowa house of representatives by a vote of 48 to 12 has passed anti-discrimination bill which is intended to oust the Standard Oil Co. from Iowa or compel the company to revise its methods of doing business.

The Iowa effort to secure a two-cent fare bill like the Ohio measure has been temporarily retarded by the house committee on railroads and commerce in that state, this week, voting to kill the proposed measure. The "Burlington Reserve" is a pretty stiff proposition, but the Iowa people will be supreme yet.

S. W. Nebraska District Teachers.
The next annual meeting of the South-west Nebraska District Teachers' association will be held in Arapahoe, Friday and Saturday, March 3rd and 31st. The program on our table gives evidence that the sessions will be worthwhile. On the special list are such numbers as William Hawley Smith, Dr. E. A. Ross, Rev. Robert P. Carson, State Sup't J. L. McBrien.

McCook teachers and others are well represented on the program with music numbers, both vocal and instrumental. While to Sup't Thomas falls the debate, "Debating or Athletics—Which?" and the response to the address of welcome, Miss Quick, county sup't, will handle the topic, "What Professional Work May Justly be Required of Teachers?" The Burlington has made the usual one and one-third rate and will stop No. 13, Friday morning, and No. 14 Saturday night, to accommodate the teachers attending.

Christian Endeavor Entertainment.
"Ma Sweet," under Endeavor auspices, held the entertained attention of a fair audience in the Congregational church, last Friday evening. Mrs. Geo. B. Hawkes had the title role and her seven daughters were programmed as follows:
"Ariminty Ann"..... Ruth Wiehe
"Betsy Belinda"..... Dora Oyster
"Caroline Cordelia"..... Edith Waite
"Dorothy Dofiah"..... Rachael Greig
"Elizabeth Eliza"..... Lillie Campbell
"Francis Felony"..... Helen Burns
"Gloriana Gadabout"..... Bessie Rowell
"Ma Sweet" is a big bunch of fun and the actors filled the bill to the large amusement of the audience.

After the program the members of the committee served ice cream and cake in the church parlor to a fair patronage, for the benefit of the music fund of the church.

A World-Wide Convention.
The Inter-Conference Missionary convention of the Methodist church to be held in Omaha, April 3-5, is expected to attract 1,200 regularly accredited delegates and as many more visitors. Many of the great missionary bishops will be present—men from all over the world. It is expected to be a great gathering.

McCOOK, NEBRASKA

Red Letter Day for the A. O. U. W.
Monday marked another red letter day for the members of McCook lodge No. 61, A. O. U. W., and incidentally for the ladies of the Degree of Honor. Upon this occasion the lodge was honored with a visit from the grand master workman, Hon. O. J. VanDyke, the grand recorder, Silas R. Barton, and Hon. A. Galusha, secretary of state, and a member of the grand finance committee, and J. H. Bennett of Omaha, a former townsman, and at present a member of the grand finance committee.

During the day a class of 45 new members was initiated into the membership of the local lodge, and later on in the evening, there were speeches, music etc., in the Methodist church.

A brief but hearty welcome was accorded the visitors by Rev. Carman, Secretary of State Galusha, Grand Recorder Barton and J. H. Bennett each made brief speeches. Grand Master Workman VanDyke was principal orator of the evening, and he very eloquently and masterfully set forth the merits of the great order of which he is the head. Later in the evening he concluded with an exemplification of the superb screen work of the order with the aid of a fine lantern and other essential appliances. The music by the Pythian orchestra of nine instruments was keenly appreciated.

The ladies of the Degree of Honor served an oyster supper in the church basement during the evening, meeting with quite liberal patronage.

Will Admit Social Members.

Miss Ella Mark, state commander of Nebraska Maccabees, spent part of last week in the city in the interest of that order, meeting with the local lodge, Thursday evening in regular session. Among other matters determined by the lodge, which is now making a special effort to revive a waning interest, was a decision to admit social members into the lodge again. Refreshments and a social time were also had in honor of the visiting state commander.

Souvenir Postal Cards.

The McCook Souvenir Postal Cards printed by THE TRIBUNE are on sale at The Ideal Store, The Tribune Office, L. W. McConnell's, The Post Office Lobby. Ten different views printed. Other designs are in preparation. Price—Two for five cents.

The American Federation of Labor is organizing farm laborers' unions in all parts of the United States and has recently extended its efforts to Porto Rico. These unions will seek to regulate hours, wages and conditions of labor and if the movement shall be permanent and successful, will lead to important changes in all the industries connected with agriculture. The farmers of this section are naturally interested in such questions and desirous of securing information on the subject as well as learning how they will be affected by the change. The Iowa Homestead, of Des Moines, Iowa, will publish in any early issue an article on this general subject, which every farmer in Red Willow county should read and digest, as well as the many valuable articles on every other phase of farm life and work which are constantly appearing in The Iowa Homestead. We have made arrangements for a very low clubbing rate for this excellent farm paper. The next time you are in town, call at the McCook TRIBUNE office and let us arrange to send you both papers for a year.

Parties wishing to have THE TRIBUNE print their sale bills can have the copy prepared by bringing the description of the articles they have to offer for sale to this office. There will be no charge for preparing the copy and the bills will be promptly and accurately printed at a moderate cost.

In his new location just across the street from his old place, in the P. Walsh building, Mike Walsh wants to see you if you have poultry, eggs, etc., for sale. He will pay you the best cash market price for them.

Bound duplicate receipt books, three receipts to the page, for sale at THE TRIBUNE office.

The Throne of Thunder.
Mungo Mam Lobeh, the throne, or place of thunder, as the natives call it, the peak of Kamerun, as the whites call it, is the highest point on the western side of the African continent. The first view the voyager gets of it who, coming from the northward, has been sailing for weeks along low shores and up the stagnant rivers, fringed with mangrove swamp, is a thing no man can ever forget. Suddenly, right up out of the sea, the great mountain rises to its 13,700 feet, while close at hand, to westward, towers the lovely island mass of Fernando Po to its 10,190 feet, and great as is its first charm every time you see it it becomes greater, although it is never the same. Five times I have been in the beautiful bay at its foot and have never seen it twice alike. Sometimes it is wreathed with indigo black tornado clouds, sometimes crested with snow, sometimes standing out hard and clear, as though made of metal, and sometimes softly gorgeous, with green, gold, purple and pink vapors tinted by the sunset.—London Mail.

A Trying Reform.

A Presbyterian clergyman of New York with two popular daughters has discovered a new way to end the visits of their beaux at a seemingly hour—a plan which might appeal to lay families as well. For a number of years it has been a custom of this good man to hold evening worship after supper, always concluding the prayers with a short discourse. Things went very well until the daughters began to receive the attentions of young men and begged off or stole away to make their evening toilets. Then the minister changed the devotional hour until 10 in the evening. This reform created an upheaval, but the father insisted, and at the stroke of 10 the visiting young men are now left one alternative—either to leave or join with the family in prayer—and it has proved a severe test of their devotion for the daughters when those not prayerfully inclined stick it out, sermon and all.—New York World.

The Good Fellow.

The treasurer of a church temperance society told at a temperance meeting a dramatic story.
"A woman entered the barroom," he said, "and advanced quietly to her husband, who sat drinking with three other men. She placed a covered dish on the table and said:
"Thinkin' y'd be too busy to come home to supper, Jack, I've fetched it to you here."
"And she departed."
"The man laughed awkwardly. He invited his friends to share the meal with him. Then he removed the cover from the dish.
"The dish was empty. It contained a slip of paper that said:
"I hope you will enjoy your supper. It is the same as your wife and children have at home."—Life.

Coffee-Tea.

Coffee-tea is the common beverage of the natives of Java and Sumatra. When required for infusion the coffee leaves are gathered fresh from the trees and are dried in a pan over a slow fire until they are light brown. They are then put into a teapot, boiling water is poured over them, and the infusion is drunk with milk and sugar. It seems the general opinion that coffee should come in contact with metal as little as possible. The Viennese people prefer a glass bottle to a canister for storing, and Brazilians use earthenware in preference to a metal pot for making.

Antelopes Choose the Open.

The antelope lives always in open country, unlike members of the deer family, which invariably prefer a thick, dense forest. They cannot be driven into timber cover or thickets of brush, but will literally turn about and run over a pursuer, if necessary, rather than be forced into cover. If they are ever obliged to pass by or through such places for food and water, they take a great deal of time to do so, as if they were determined to see everything that could be seen en route.—H. H. Cross in Century.

The Great Lakes.

Lake Superior is the deepest of the great lakes, showing by soundings 1,008 feet in at least one place. Michigan stands second, with 100 feet less. Huron and Ontario are about 750 in the deepest parts, while Lake Erie is but 204. Vast areas of Lake Erie will not show a depth exceeding 80 feet. The bottom of Lake Michigan is 400 feet above sea level.

An Odd Verdict.

A jury in Lindsey, Lincolnshire, England, after being some time on a case of alleged false pretenses, returned to court and said, "We can't bring him in guilty and don't like to say he is not guilty." They were sent back and in fifteen minutes reached this verdict, "We find him guilty, but not with intent." The prisoner was discharged.

Blackmail.

"Mamma," said five-year-old Margie, "I'll make a bargain with you."
"What kind of a bargain, dear?" asked her mother.
"If you'll give me a penny every day to buy candy with," replied the small diplomat, "I'll not tell any one you have false teeth."

The One to Be Pleased.

"No," said Peckham, "we never have boiled ham at our house any more."
"Why," replied Newitt, "I thought you were very fond of it."
"So I am, but my wife's pet dog won't eat it at all."—Philadelphia Press.

One is never weary of life. One is only tired of oneself.—Carmen Sylva.

PETER F. COLLIER.

Career of Man Who is Backing the War Against Town Topics.

Peter Fenelon Collier, senior proprietor of Collier's Weekly, has come into special prominence in consequence of the proceedings instituted at the instance of his publication against the proprietor of Town Topics, Colonel W. D. Mann. Mr. Collier returned recently from a European trip and announced that he had come back to assist in the war against Town Topics. He declared that Collier's Weekly had spent $75,000 in this campaign and counted it money well spent.

Mr. Collier is an interesting figure in the worlds of business and of society, for he is prominent in both. He was born in Carlow, Ireland, and studied for the priesthood as a young man. Instead of taking orders, however, he married, won phenomenal success in this country as a publisher and has achieved a reputation as a huntsman almost as wide as his fame in the field of journalism. He learned to ride to the hounds in Ireland and in this country has long been one of the best riders of the famous Meadowbrook Hunt club of Long Island, which recently conferred upon him the honor of master of foxhounds. In speaking of why he is so fond of the hunt Mr. Collier once said:

"When I took up fox hunting in this country my health was poor. I couldn't sleep. Even now I work so hard that I find I must have some recreation that will make me forget my business, forget my work. I have found out that I can do more work in two hours when I am well than I can in six hours when I am under the weather. Now, there is nothing that keeps me fit like the hunt and the outdoor life that it brings me. I come down to my office at 7:30 every morning, and I work on a rush till noon, dictating forty or more letters and looking after the hundreds of details that must be attended to. Then in the afternoon I am out with the horses and the hounds. At night I have the letters at my home and look over and sign them. If more workers in the big cities would follow some such system as this there would be fewer old men in business."

NEW WAR AUTO.

One Built For Russia Is Equipped With a Rapid Fire Gun.

The latest in machines for warfare is an automobile which will carry a cannon. The makers of motor vehicles have for some time been directing their attention to the manufacture of what might be termed horseless gun carriages, propelled by petrol motors in the same way as the motor vehicles used for business and pleasure. The illustration shows a new war auto made recently for the Russian government, which a French journal says is an advance on anything hitherto produced. Thirty-six similar machines will be made for use in Russia, and while they may not be needed for a foreign war at present it can readily be seen that such death dealing vehicles might be used by the government to advantage in fighting enemies at home. Those who operate the war auto are well protected from assault by the bullet proof plates with which the carriage is covered. These plates are of steel, and they present a strong resistance to rifle balls. The car is equipped with a rapid fire gun which can be turned in all directions and is capable of discharging 500 balls a minute. The motor of the car has from twenty-five to thirty horsepower, and the carriage can make a speed of twenty miles an hour on the level despite the weight of its bullet proof plating.

A NEW WAR AUTO.

Relieved by an Operation.

John LeHew who was compelled, a week ago last Thursday, to take his bed on account of an injured leg, was operated upon, Monday, and temporarily relieved of much pain and a large accumulation of spoiled tissue and fluid. The right leg is involved at the knee, but it is hoped that the member will not be stiff, although that is feared.
