James Stangland Passes Away.
Last Sunday evening while passing over the Great Divide on his way home, James A. Stangland peacefully passed away.

Jimmie's health had been failing since his experience with Sup't English at Holbrook during the great washouts of last summer, and a few months since he went to Pasadena, Calif., accompanied by his mother and sister Kittie, in the hope that his shattered health might be benefited by that sunny climate. For a while there was encouraging improvement, but it proved only temporary. About a week since, it was determined to bring him home to die among friends, at home among his dear ones. But his enfeebled condition could not withstand the altitude, and death found him prepared at Granite, Colorado. The remains were taken from the train at Salida, Colorado, for preparation for shipment. They arrived here on No. 14, Tuesday night, and were escorted to the home by a body of Knights of Pythias.

The funeral occurred on Thursday afternoon, services being held in the Methodist church, conducted by Rev. M. B. Carman. A quartette composed of Mrs. G. H. Thomas, Miss Ida McCarl, Mr. S. B. McLean and Mr. J. G. Schobel sang the touching music.

The Knights of Pythias escorted the remains from the home to the church and thence to Longview cemetery, where there was a brief, touching ritualistic service by the brethren at the grave.

The services at the church were of a subdued, tender nature, a church full of sympathizing, loving and admiring friends being present to pay a last tribute of admiration and affection to the departed and to add a sympathetic touch to the bereaved ones.

The floral expressions of the boundless respect and admiration held by all who knew him were simply superb, individuals and orders going the limit in the loveliness and liberality of their tokens, thus beautifully noting the passing into the spiritual life of a fine soul, a noble young man.

Many beautiful characteristics in his life could be emphasized with pride: He was a dutiful son, an affectionate brother, a true friend and faithful companion. He loved truth, mercy and justice, always looked for the good and beautiful and admired them when found. A lover of home, and a firm believer in the Great Book and its teachings and in the revealed Savior.

Through all his illness he was most patient—his kindness toward others was superb. He was a thorough gentleman, a most excellent young man, lived a pure life and died a peaceful death, and leaves the family and friends a cherished memory.

[JAMES A. STANGLAND was born near Carroll City, Carroll county, Iowa, January 24th, 1883. He came to McCook with the family in 1886, living here ever since. A member of the high school class of 1901, he after graduation went into the railroad service as a member of the clerical force in Sup't Campbell's office, filling the position with great credit until last December, when he took a leave of absence in an effort to regain failing health. Last August while with Sup't English in latter's private car at different points on the McCook division after the great washouts he contracted a cough which finally resulted in his death. Early in January of this year he went to California, his mother and sister Kittie accompanying him to Pasadena. Seeing the end to be near at hand, about a week since the mother and sister started east with him, but death came while the cars were at Granite, Colo., on the mountain top. "He folded his arms across his breast and smiled, the earth receded, eternity opened, and James was gone."]

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our gratitude and sincere thanks to all who so kindly assisted us in our bereavement, especially the Ladies Aid Society and the K. of P., for the beautiful offering of flowers, for the comfort extended by the strangers on the train to the mother and sister.

MR. AND MRS. K. K. STANGLAND AND FAMILY.

Danger of Losing his Eyesight.
Leon Clark, carrier on No. 2, who has been having a serious time with his eyesight, was accompanied to Lincoln last Saturday night, by J. Fred Peterson. The word received from Lincoln up to this time is that sight may be preserved in one eye. Leon has much sympathy in this great affliction.

Drugs.

The best, the purest. We will not be outdone in these.

MOVEMENTS OF THE PEOPLE.

S. A. WARNER is in charge of the park for this season.

CAPTAIN ADAMS of Superior was a city visitor, Wednesday.

MISS HEROLD of Plattsmouth is with her sister Mrs. Fitt.

MRS. J. H. YARGER is improving from an attack of pneumonia.

DR. AND MRS. W. V. GAGE have returned from their Denver visit.

COLONEL MITCHELL was in South Omaha, Wednesday, on stock business.

MRS. JENNIE CARROLL and older son returned home from York, Saturday on No. 13.

C. W. LEPPER is up from Edgar on business and to visit relatives and friends.

MRS. NICK COLLING left, Wednesday night, to visit a daughter in Loveland, Colorado.

JAMES HATFIELD and C. V. Rundle were both Lincoln business visitors, Wednesday.

MRS. AUGUSTA ANTON is in line with an addition and improvements to her Marshall street abode.

MRS. SHELTON DEWITT, and daughter from Norton, Kansas, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. DeWitt.

E. P. HUBER has purchased the convenient and cozy residence just recently completed by the McCook Building association on Manchester.

MR. AND MRS. KNUD STANGLAND of Havelock, and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Clark of Lincoln were up to attend the funeral, and remained at home a few days.

MRS. J. F. DYE has moved her residence on rear of her lot to front at corner of Monroe and Douglass streets, is raising it to two stories and making general improvements.

J. G. STOKES has entered the fast stock circles with a vengeance. His delivery horse gave a continuous performance, Tuesday afternoon, which amused every body but Ralph.

MARION W. BISHOP, who formerly lived here, has enlisted in the U. S. marine corps, and has lately been located at Mare Island, Calif., on his way to service in the Philippines.

H. M. LEAVITT of the Standard Beet Sugar Co., Ames, Neb., was in the city, Saturday last, on important business connected with the company's business affairs in this section of Nebraska.

MRS. F. M. KIMMELL and Schell went down to Kansas City on 13, last Friday night, on a brief visit to her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Meserve. They returned home on 13, Tuesday morning.

MR. AND MRS. C. A. WARD and Lester Mitchell departed on Tuesday for their new home in Seattle, Wash. Mr. Ward is one of the old originals in the carpenter-shop service of the Burlington at this point. The family carries with it to the new home in the northwest nought but good wishes.

MRS. MARIE BREMEN, sister of Engineer L. L. Rodstrom, passed through McCook for Holdrege, last Saturday morning, from San Francisco, California. She had left the city just shortly before the earthquake and did not learn of the truth of the great disaster until well on her journey, and consequently continued on her way east. Her husband was in business in the district hardest hit by the earthquake and fire.

Pure Mixed Paint.

Do you want an absolutely pure paint with a guarantee that we stand back of. Then get the Lincoln A. P. Paint.

It will not pay you to get a cheap paint, not even 50 cents a gallon less. Now is the best time to paint. Come in and let us figure with you.

Wedding Bells.

Wednesday, April 25th, Mr. Peter Gaarder and Miss Bertha Jeffries were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Noble, Rev. G. B. Hawkes officiating.

They were attended by Miss Rosa Jeffries, bridesmaid, and Mr. John Gaarder, best man.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk trimmed with lace and ribbon, and wearing bridal roses.

The beautiful ring ceremony was used, during which Miss Emma Gaarder played an organ accompaniment.

About twenty five guests were served a bountiful feast of good things at the close of the ceremony. The table was tastefully trimmed with pink carnations.

Among those present were Mr. Oliver Jeffries, father of the bride, Mrs. Maggie Jeffries and Miss McElvain, aunts of the bride; also three sisters and two brothers of the groom.

The young couple were the recipients of a large number of both beautiful and useful gifts.

They departed for Denver on No. 3, followed by the best wishes of a host of McCook friends. * * *

Affidavit.

State of Nebraska, } ss
Red Willow Co. }

Reel E. Seenum, being first duly sworn deposes and says, that on the 17th day of April, being a week ago last Tuesday, he was endeavoring to make his way home late in the afternoon and saw a lady in her garden with two sun-bonnets on, of the kind sold only by The Thompson Dry Goods Co. Affiant is the more positive owing to his recollection that there were two latches on his gate when he reached home and he had difficulty in opening the same and reflected on the coincidence of the two bonnets and two latches.

Subscribed and sworn to this 26th day of April, 1906. REEL E. SEENUM.

Death of Mrs. W. H. Wilson.

Mrs. W. H. Wilson fell a victim to consumption, Thursday morning of this week. Deceased came to McCook in October, 1904, for her health, with the members of her family.

The remains were taken on No. 2, this morning to Wesley, Ill., for burial, accompanied by her husband, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, who where with her at the end.

[SADIE MARSHALL was born in Wesley, Ill., Feb. 19, 1866. Was married to W. H. Wilson, December 31, 1882. Came to McCook in October of 1904. Died April 26, 1906. United with the Methodist church, a few months since.]

Vacant House.

A large 7 room house which is nicely shaded, good lawn, barn room for four head of horses and carriage, and large hay room overhead. This house is not for rent. Mr. Sheldon wishes to sell and as soon as purchase is made possession will be given. Call at my office at once if you are wanting a house.

A few other propositions.

L. H. LINDEMANN, Spearman Block.

Talcum Powder Logic.

Of all the things which show lack of good grooming is the use of cheap and heavy perfumed talcum powders which can be detected at sight.

BY-LO Talcum Powder is so fine that it floats in the air, and so delicately perfumed with the odor of fresh flowers that we know you will like it. It is especially soothing to the skin which is broke out, itching or red.

Entertained Large, Appreciative Hearing.

The music-literary entertainment given in the opera house, last evening, by local talent, under Baptist ladies auspices, was heard with pleasure and appreciation by a large audience, and is esteemed by many as having been one of the best heard in the city in many moons.

A perusal of the personnel and music quality to be found in the following program speaks eloquently of the class of the performance:

Generous McCook.

That McCook's heart is in the right place was again shown, last Friday night. During the day Mayor Waite received a telegram from Governor Mickey calling for assistance for the San Francisco sufferers. A mass meeting of citizens of McCook was called on short notice to assemble in the McCook Commercial Club rooms in the post-office building to take action in this pressing matter. At the appointed time there was in the rooms a strong representation of McCook's business and professional circles, and in a brief while $300 was subscribed on the spot for the purpose and a committee composed of Sheriff Peterson, William Lewis and Rev. Carman was selected for the purpose of soliciting further gifts. Saturday morning these gentlemen were promptly in the field and in a few hours the donations had reached $700. In harmony with the expressed wish of the mass meeting a large car was at once loaded with flour by the McCook Milling Co., and the same evening 700 sacks of McCook's finest was en route for San Francisco. Quick and generous work. Characteristic of a large-hearted and generous-impulsed people. It is a pleasure to live among such people. Notch up your pride a few.

The Anti-Saloon League of the city has taken the ground that the Slocumb law requiring the removal of all obstructions to full and free view into the interior of saloons should be observed.

Their contention is doubtless reasonable and should be complied with—indeed they claim they propose to force compliance if it does not come willingly. It is the part of wisdom, THE TRIBUNE contends, to preserve the law.
