Mrs. C. M. Babbitt, after visiting her mother in Atlanta, went down to Lincoln to visit relatives and friends a short while.

With a couple of weeks' steady wind from the south and no rain, the small grain looks pretty well cooked, but some of our farmers that understand the wheat business pretty well say that it is not hurt as bad as it looks—that it is the beads that are burned and the head seems to be all right. They also believe that there is nourishment enough in the straw to mature the berry.

Friday, we received the sad news of the death of Mrs. Pearce Oxley. We understand that she had been in poor health for some time, but no one ever suspected that the end would be so soon. Ed, no doubt thinking of the dexterity of Nimrod and the strength of Sampson, immediately dispatched one of them with the big end of the buggy-whip, whereupon the others dispersed. We think that Ed would have run down and killed the others also had he not had an inkling of something better in the future for him, so he hastened on his journey to Mrs. August Droll's, arriving there in ample time to narrate his adventure and to enjoy the good things at the table with the rest.

What a Summer Cold May Do.
A summer cold if neglected is just as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other season. Do not neglect it. Take Foley's Honey and Tar promptly. It loosens the cough, soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, and expels the cold from the system. A. McMillen.

DR. FRANK L. LOVELAND.

Coming to Chautauqua to Talk Common Sense.

The unbounded love of the community in which you live is not always the thing most to be desired. Men who do big things and accomplish material results seldom gain their purposes by smiling and handing out bouquets and meaningless platitudes. Nine times out of ten a real big man is a fighter and has a coterie of admirers because he has overcome difficulties that pastors in the denomination and is an irresolute disposition. since as a small boy he was left to make his own way in the world. He early developed sterling qualities and his rise was rapid, though never without difficulties. He eschewed a promising future in law and in politics to accept the pulpit as his "conscience call." He has held some of the best pastorates in the denominations and is now pastor of the First M. E. church of Omaha, enjoying the highest salary of any clergyman west of Chicago.

Dr. Loveland does not belong to the old school in any sense. While he is strictly orthodox in belief he has shattered some of the pet theories of the "has beens," who believe that only a weeping, praying Christian has a reasonable hope of the Hereafter.

Dr. Loveland preaches the gospel of good cheer and reads from his Bible that a little of Christian activity is worth more than lots of sacerdotal reflection. He often shocks congregations by the fearful rebuked jolts that he delivers upon the heads of self-satisfied religionists. In fact both from the pulpit and the rostrum he is noted for his plain speaking and because he says the thing that ought to be said rather than the thing that his auditors want him to say.

When he comes to the Chautauqua go and hear him, maybe he has a pill for you to swallow.

Dr. Loveland is an active worker with the boys and girls of the Omaha Juvenile court. In fact he is active in all good work in Omaha, whether civic or religious.

A PREACHER WHO TELLS THE WHOLE TRUTH.

Few people bring to the Chautauqua platform messages so pregnant with human interest as the address that will be delivered by Dr. Frederick Hopkins of Chicago.

This eminent lecturer and divine was born of sturdy New England stock and his early education was received in the east. Coming west, he grew with his opportunities and has held some of the most influential pastorates in the land. His education has kept pace with his pulpit advancements and degrees from the greatest schools have been bestowed upon his hardworking shoulders. He has been a keen observer of human nature on two continents and has stored up a wealth of practical experience.

While pastor of one of the largest churches of Chicago he was impressed with the tendency of the city to go backward instead of forward. Particularly threatening to the young women were the baneful influences of the restaurants. He openly charged that society women were cultivating the drink habit to an alarming extent. His statements were challenged. With four newspaper writers he visited the well cafes of the city and gathered statistics that not only proved his initial statements, but showed the facts to be worse than pictured. His addresses created a furor in Chicago, and the greatest temperance agitation of a generation was precipitated.

Dr. Hopkins is nothing if not frank. He hits from the shoulder and with bare fists. His words are eloquent and have a meaning. As an entertaining and popular lecturer Dr. Hopkins has proven a pronounced platform success and comes as a decided addition to the Chautauqua program.

Why it Pays To use CALUMET

INSTEAD OF CHEAP AND BIG CAN BAKING POWDER

You simply cannot get as good results from the cheap and big can kind—the baking cannot be as evenly raised—it cannot be as delicious—it cannot be as pure and wholesome—because the quality is not there. And it cannot be any more economical. Calumet is medium in price—the standard 1-lb. size can costs 25c. Less of it is required and the baking is certain to be better. Try one can—if not satisfactory your money will be returned.
