

HAPPY WOMEN.

Plenty of Them in McCook, and Good Reason for it.

Wouldn't any woman be happy, after years of backache suffering, Days of misery, nights of unrest, The distress of urinary troubles, She finds relief and cure? No reason why any McCook reader Should suffer in the face of evidence like this.

Mrs. A. M. Wilson, 204 E Second St., McCook, Neb., says: "My back bothered me for years and there was a dull ache across my kidneys and loins. The pain in my back became worse when I exerted myself and often I had headaches and dizzy spells. I could not stoop and there were many other disagreeable symptoms of kidney complaint in evidence. On a friend's advice, I finally procured Doan's Kidney Pills from McConnell's drug store and I soon found them to be just what I needed. This remedy strengthened my back and kidneys and before long effected a complete cure."

(Statement given June 26, 1907.) Re-endorsement. On June 21, 1910, Mrs. Wilson said: "I am pleased to verify the statement I gave in 1907, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy is a specific for kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

For LaGrippe Coughs and Stuffy Colds.

Take Foley's Honey and Tar. It gives quick relief and expels the cold from your system. It contains no opiates, is safe and sure. A. McMillen.

A weekly newspaper that publishes twenty-one columns of good, reliable news each week is rare in these days of cheap weeklies, intended only to sell some article that the publisher is interested in. Credit is due The Weekly Inter Ocean and Farmer for keeping its columns filled with fresh and up-to-date news. Give it a trial by subscribing through The McCook Tribune.

Can you tell us why the cattle of Nebraska have decreased over 500,000 head in the past two years? If so, come to the meeting of Organized Agriculture at Lincoln, January 16th to 20th, 1911, and let Nebraska farmers be ready to take advantage of the high prices of the future which must come from the decreased output.

Try a Tribune want ad and watch results.

INDIANOLA.

Quite a crowd of young folks attended the literary program in the Fry district last Friday evening.

Mayor Fritsch has resigned his position to his little son born Sunday evening.

There are several cases of scarlet fever in town.

School opened Monday with everything in fine working order. The seats have been changed in the lower rooms.

Relatives are visiting at the Mat Collins home.

Miss Quick is visiting in the eastern part of the state this week.

Harry Wilber returned to work in Benkelman Sunday night.

Achsah Dutcher and Alice Thomas visited in district 60 last Wednesday.

Revival meetings began in the Methodist church Sunday evening, following a week of prayer services.

Mrs. John Dunning returned home from Curtis Sunday, after a couple of weeks visit there.

A new floor is being laid in the Christian parsonage in readiness for the new pastor who is expected soon.

A hundred new books arrived for the school library this week.

DANBURY.

J. A. Clouse was a Herndon business visitor Tuesday.

A number of young people gave Homer Bastian a surprise party Thursday night, it being his 21st birthday.

W. A. Stone was a McCook visitor Tuesday.

School was dismissed Tuesday on account of the pipes leading from the furnace being broken.

Chris Wall of Indianola was a business visitor Tuesday.

The passenger trains both ways were four hours late Monday.

The young men's "Jointo club" held their usual meeting at Mr. Perrin's house Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ruby are the proud parents of a baby girl.

Mr. Rea Oman and family visited at the M. M. Young home Sunday.

A deal was closed and Floyd Erwin became the owner of the J. L. Sims department store Monday.

J. W. Nutt bought the interest of O. M. Woods' part of the barber shop.

A gentleman by the name of Morgan left in the night unbeknown to anyone. He stayed at the hotel.

Harold Stone left Tuesday night for Kearney, Neb., to resume his studies after an absence of three weeks.

Little Marguerite, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers, has been very sick.

Typewriter papers, typewriter ribbons, carbon papers, manifold paper, mimeograph paper—a large selection to choose from—at The Tribune office.

Her Shopping Tour

"You seem to have lost all enthusiasm and interest in your trip abroad," said Elsie's caller. "Indeed, you act more like a person who is performing a duty than one going on a pleasure tour."

"If I hadn't made all my arrangements and told all my friends that I was going I believe that I would stay at home," returned Elsie, petulantly.

"Why, you peculiar girl!" exclaimed the surprised caller. "All you've talked about for months is your trip. What has happened?"

"That's just the trouble," wailed Elsie. "I talked too much. When you are going to Europe don't tell a soul, or you will feel as I do now. Steal out the back way in the dead of night with your steamer trunk under your arm. It's the only sensible course to pursue. I know from experience."

"I don't get the connection, dear," said the caller. "Your advice is picturesque, but far from lucid."

"Tell me the truth," broke out Elsie. "Why did you come over this afternoon? Was it just to see me? Tell me the truth, remember."

"Why, my dear girl, I naturally wanted to see you before you left—"

"Then you are the one oasis in my desert of selfish friends," declared Elsie, fervently. "You will understand me better when I explain to you that I have more orders and commands to execute than any department store buyer going over to purchase the season's stock. Almost every girl I've ever known has entrusted me with a commission to purchase from one to a dozen articles for her. Are you sure you don't want me to match some impossible shade for you or to bring you an advance style hat?"

"Nothing at all," smiled the caller. "So that is your trouble?"

"I've had to make a classified list," confided Elsie, taking a little leather notebook from her desk, and put down the number, size, shade and price limit. Here is Hortense Hulburd's order. She wants me to bring her a coral cameo from Venice, a rose plume from Paris to match her evening coat and a lingerie parasol. Anita Parker wants me to canvass the antique shops of Rome for a Pompeian hanging lamp and a mediaeval poison ring. Edna Nacey wants a suit of French lingerie, an amethyst bead necklace and two hand embroidered shirt waists."

"You'll need a bookkeeper to attend to your money accounts," declared the caller, looking over the list.

"I'm sure I don't know where the money is coming from," said Elsie, gloomily. "I've just a fixed amount of money for my trip and none of the girls happened to think that I wasn't a capitalist. They all just incidentally remarked that I should let them know how much everything came to when I got back and they all said they hoped I would get bargains."

"I have so many samples of various shades in my traveling bag that any one would think I was saving up scraps for a crazy quilt. But no one even suggested that I might have to pay duty on all the things. Why, when Hortense called up on the telephone last night and asked me to buy the lace for her wedding gown in Brussels she was really offended when I said I shouldn't get to Brussels. She said she thought that as long as I was right there in Europe I might do such a little thing to oblige her!"

"You poor girl!" sympathized the caller, rising to depart. "If I were you I should lose the list and simply bring home my sincere regrets. I can't understand such selfishness."

"I'd be socially ostracized if I failed to carry out all these orders," said Elsie. "Please don't tell a soul how I feel about it. Hortense said she knew that I'd enjoy picking out her cameo, and Anita declared that I was the one girl whose artistic taste she would trust in the selection of beautiful antiques."

"I won't mention it," promised the caller, "but I do think you've been awfully imposed on. Good-by, dear."

Half way to her car Elsie's sympathetic friend stealthily extracted a little piece of blue goods from her purse and let it flutter into the street.

"Mercy!" she gasped. "If she had known I intended to ask her to get for me in Paris the velvet for my winter suit she would have had hysterics!"

Courtesy on the Phone. "If there's one thing that annoys me more than another," said a busy man the other day, "it's the habit of some men of having their clerks call me up and then not being ready to get on the line instantly after I am called away from my work to the telephone."

"I cannot imagine a more discourteous thing to do than that. It is equivalent to saying their time is more valuable than mine."

"I sometimes, though not often, have my clerks get a line, but I get on the line immediately the number answers, and do the talking. I should consider my course unpardonable were I to have my clerk call up a friend and ask his clerk to put him on the line and call me after he had replied."

"What do you think about it?" And the one he was talking to agreed most thoroughly with him.

Hervieu's new play is called "Glass Houses." Managers prefer it to paper houses.

NEW JERSEY WOMEN ONCE VOTED, THEN WERE ROBBED

Had Equal Franchise From 1776 to 1807, It is Asserted.

Soon after helping to carry the Republican stronghold of Plainfield, N. J., for Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic club of that city did another thing equally without precedent in inviting the women of the Equal Suffrage league to come to a club meeting and state their reasons for demanding the ballot.

The invitation was accepted, and the speakers for the league were its president, Mrs. Champlain L. Riley, and Miss Zoe Russell-Bateman.

That the women of New Jersey were robbed of the franchise 103 years ago, after they had had it for thirty-one years, was one of the interesting things that the club learned from Miss Bateman. She recalled the fact that the Continental congress of 1776 dodged the woman suffrage question by leaving it to each state to decide for itself.

"And to the lasting glory of New Jersey," she continued, "this state gave the ballot to her women. They had it until 1807. In that year there was a great election fraud scandal incidental to the vote in the location of state buildings. Many persons voted early and often. Many and foreigners, who had no rights at the polls at all, voted without hindrance."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"And to the lasting glory of New Jersey," she continued, "this state gave the ballot to her women. They had it until 1807. In that year there was a great election fraud scandal incidental to the vote in the location of state buildings. Many persons voted early and often. Many and foreigners, who had no rights at the polls at all, voted without hindrance."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

"There was nothing to show that the women were guilty of these frauds. At least they alone were not guilty. But in November of that year the legislature, without sanction of the people, as required by law, amended the constitution so as to deprive the women of the suffrage."

NOTICE OF HEARING.

In the county court of Red Willow, Nebraska.

In the matter of the adoption of Freddie Doe, real name unknown, a minor child.

All persons interested will take notice that on the 24th day of December, 1910, William Ebbeka and Lena Ebbeka, his wife, filed their petition for the adoption of said minor child, Freddie Doe, real name unknown, and that on the same day Eugenia R. Day, the guardian of the said minor child, filed her relinquishment and consent to the proposed adoption of said minor child by said William Ebbeka and Lena Ebbeka, his wife; that said matter will be heard by the county court, at the county court room in the city of McCook, in said county, on the 14th day of February, 1911, at the hour of ten o'clock a. m., at which time and place objection to such proposed adoption will be heard.

It is further ordered that service of this notice be made by publication, once a week for five successive weeks, in The McCook Tribune, a newspaper printed and published in said county.

Witness my hand and official seal this 24th day of December, 1910.

(Seal.) J. C. MOORE, County Judge.

First publication, Jan. 5—5t.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION. Department of the Interior, U. S. Land Office at Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 22, 1910. Notice is hereby given that Elizabeth M. Burchett-nee-Dedman, of Box Elder, Neb., who, on November 16, 1905, made Homestead Entry No. 18236, Serial No. 01094, for the West Half of North-West Quarter of Section 2, Township 4 n., Range 29, w. 6th Prin. Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make final five-year proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before J. C. Moore, County Judge, at McCook, Neb., on the 28th day of January, 1911. Claimant names as witnesses: Charles Mundy, Frank Lytle, James C. Dedman, George Harrison, all of Box Elder, Neb.

CHAS. F. SHEDD, Register.

"Received on Account," "Paid Out," "Cash," "Credit" slips, etc. for sale at The Tribune office. Per 1,000, 50c.

CEMENT HOUSES AS TOYS.

Twenty Thousand Make Novel Christmas Presents to Poor Children.

Mrs. Mirabeau L. Towns, wife of a Brooklyn lawyer, gave an order at the New York cement show for the making of 20,000 cement toy houses which she later distributed among poor children throughout the city. The molds used for the toy houses are miniatures of the mold invented by Thomas A. Edison for full sized cement structures.

Mrs. Towns, who was recently appointed a member of the board of education, visited the cement show twice. The second time she called she placed in the hands of Mr. Beck, the manager, a certified check to pay for 20,000 miniature cement houses. Mr. Beck was amazed at the order until Mrs. Towns told him that the houses were to make glad the hearts of as many poor children.

There were doll houses for the girls and factories, garages, engine houses, stables and the like for boys. Each house for the girls has little windows ready for curtains and shades. There is a bathroom, drawing room, kitchen and dining room in each house for the girls, as well as a veranda and rear stoop. Paneled doors on hinges, window sashes with cords and weights, a basement and a chimney are other appointments.

Books Instead of a Ring. Prosaic Physician Believes in Engagement Gift For Mind.

A Passaic (N. J.) physician, Dr. Morris Korshet, evolved a new engagement gift when he presented his fiancée, Miss Gertrude Riskin, with books of the drama, poetry and fiction by Victor Hugo, Honore de Balzac, George Bernard Shaw, Henrik Ibsen, Leo Tolstoy, Isaac Zangwill, Jack London, Allen Upward and others instead of an engagement ring.

Speaking of his departure from the time honored custom he said: "In times long gone by man either captured his female partner or purchased her from her parents with presents. When she was already his he placed a crude ring upon her finger. It was regarded as a symbol of inferiority and made the wearer appear in the light of personal property. Miss Riskin will not be my chattel, but my equal, my companion and helpmate. What principally distinguishes people is their ability to think and understand. Therefore I give her something for her mind and not an ornament for her finger."

M'KINLEY BORN JAN. 29, 1843. Date Fixed by Cortelyou Through Insurance Policy.

Doubt as to whether the late President McKinley was born on Jan. 29, 1843, or Feb. 23, 1844, both of which dates have appeared in the congressional directories since Mr. McKinley was a member of the house of representatives from Ohio, has been dispelled by George B. Cortelyou, formerly secretary to President McKinley, in a letter to Justice William R. Day of the United States supreme court. Mr. Cortelyou established the fact through an insurance policy.

Justice Day is president of the Ohio Society of Washington, which is planning a dinner for the anniversary of President McKinley's birth, and the date of the celebration now has been announced definitely as Jan. 30, the day following his birth.

Enough Iron For Several Years. The last international geological congress estimated the world's supply of iron ore at 22,408,000,000 tons, of which 12,082,000,000 tons are in Europe and 9,855,000,000 tons are in America.

Large and Small Jobs

are equally well looked after. We are ready at short notice to fix all leaks or other repairs in your plumbing or in your heaters and stoves.

All Jobs Thoroughly Understood, and after we are through with them you will find us the best men who ever did the same work for you, and we do it cheap.

Middleton & Ruby

Phone No. 182. -: McCook, Nebr.

Lincoln Sanitarium

Sulpho-Saline Springs

Located on our own premises and used in the Natural Mineral Water

BATHS

Unsurpassed in the treatment of Rheumatism

Heart, Stomach, Kidney and Liver Diseases

Moderate Charges. Address DR. D. W. EVERETT, Mgr., Lincoln, Neb.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

For the Cough and Heals Lung

SEE THE WHOLE WEST UNDER ONE ROOF

You Should Not Fail to Visit the Western Land Products Exhibit, OMAHA, JANUARY 18-28, 1911.

A great educational Land Show of farm and orchard products from every state in the West.

It will be an actual and authentic demonstration of what can be grown, the cost of production, the financial returns and the favorable conditions under which crops are produced, so that interested parties can obtain practical and accurate information.

VARIETY OF CROPS. Corn, Wheat, Oats, Barley, Potatoes, Sugar Beets, Alfalfa, Forage Crops, Apples, and all small Fruits.

BURLINGTON TERRITORY will be well represented with exhibits. Look for them.

D. CLEM DEEVER, General Agent, Landseekers' Information Bureau, 1004 Farnam Street, Omaha, Neb.

Burlington Route

V. FRANKLIN, Pres. G. H. WATKINS, Vice-Pres. R. A. GREEN, Cshr.

The Citizens National Bank of McCook, Nebraska

Paid-Up Capital $50,000 : Surplus $25,000

DIRECTORS

V. Franklin A. McMillen R. A. Green G. H. Watkins Vernice Franklin

THE NEW WAY OF SMOKING MEAT

By applying two coats of WRIGHT'S CONDENSED SMOKE directly to the meat with a brush after the meat has gone through the salt, it will be thoroughly smoked, will have a delicious flavor and will keep solid and sweet and free from insects through the entire summer.

Wright's Condensed Smoke

is a liquid smoke and contains nothing except what is obtained by burning hickory wood. It is put up in square quart bottles only, each with a metal cap. NEVER SOLD IN BULK. A bottle will smoke a barrel of meat (250 lbs.) For sale by all druggists at 50c. Every bottle guaranteed. Ask your druggist for FREE BOOK, "The New Way." Be sure to get the genuine WRIGHT'S CONDENSED SMOKE. Made only by

THE E. H. WRIGHT CO., Ltd., Kansas City, Mo.

SOLD AND GUARANTEED BY

L. W. McCONNELL, Druggist.

The Tribune

It is Just One Dollar the Year

THE YEAR'S WORK

The accomplishments of the Nebraska Telephone Company to the betterment of its service during the last year are represented by an expenditure of two million dollars in improvements, the placing of 5,000 miles of new long distance lines, the building of six new exchanges and the remodeling of nine others.

During the ensuing year this company will place more than 5,000 miles of long distance lines, will build several exchanges, and remodel many more to meet increasing service demands. Day