HAS FORGOTTEN PAST.

Man Injured in Indianola Wreck Does Not Remember Where He Lived.
 Holdrege, Neb., June 13.—D. Hart, one of the victims of the Indianola wreck, is another of the many persons whose identities have been lost in the shock of disaster. Hart is still in the hospital here. He was injured in the head. He remembers very few things and not enough to disclose his identity. He thinks that he once lived in Mount Pleasant, Iowa, and that he has some sisters there and a brother in Oklahoma. He is about 50 years of age, weighs 160 pounds, is about two inches short of six feet, has light complexion and has had his right leg broken just above the ankle at some time in his past life.—Star.

The Big Picnic.

The big picnic next Tuesday seems destined to be a record-breaker. Indications now are that in the neighborhood of twenty cars will be required to carry the crowd.
 Gus Budig's miniature railroad is already loaded for shipment to the Cambridge park.
 There is some prospect that General Sup't Koller will be present.
 On next Saturday evening, at the McCook city park, there will be a practice stunt, which will be worth seeing. A parade and various other numbers will be tried out. Better see it.
 Preparations for the numerous amusements are pretty well finished. They will be bigger and better than ever.

R. D. Smith, who was superintendent of motive power for the lines west of the Burlington for two or three years following 1902, has recently been made superintendent of motive power for the Boston & Albany system. Mr. Smith came to the Burlington lines west from the system of that road east of the river. The announcement of his promotion contained in the Railway Age Gazette says:
 "R. D. Smith, assistant superintendent of motive power of the Boston & Albany, has been appointed superintendent of motive power and rolling stock, with offices at Boston."
