Water Fund Satisfactory.

Although considerable money has been expended for repairs and betterments on the water plant since its purchase by the Struck By a Freight Train At city, it is gratifying to note that, after paying for these and for all coal on hand, salaries of employes, etc., more than one thousand dollars remain in the water fund, not including any of the $20,000 n w on hand from sale of water bonds. This information may calm any fears industriously proinced by some one who either new not the facts, or are disposel to do a little knocking on genral principles. The present outlook is that the city water works "Ill be self-sustaining.
